Vincent F. Sacco, Leslie W. Kennedy, Peggy Plass, 1996 This book encourages students to think of crime events as a complete process rather than an isolated occurrence and presents the various aspects of criminology in a clearly understandable format The author ties together theories that explain motivation and response to law crime types and crime locations

Race, Criminal Justice, and Migration Control Mary Bosworth, Alpa Parmar, Yolanda Vázquez, 2018-01-12 The criminalization of migration is heavily patterned by race By placing race at the centre of its analysis this volume examines questions and explains the growing intersection between criminal justice and migration control Through the lens of race we see how criminal justice and migration enmesh in order to exclude stop and excise racialized citizens and non citizens from societies across the world within beyond and along borders Race and the meaning of race in relation to citizenship and belonging is excavated through the chapters presented in the book and the book as a whole thereby transforming the way we think about migration Neatly organized in four sections the book begins with chapters that present a conceptual analysis of race borders and social control moving to the institutions that make up and shape the criminal justice and migration complex The remaining chapters are convened around the key sites where criminal justice and migration control intersect policing courts and punishment Together the volume presents a critical and timely analysis of how race shapes and complicates mobility and how racism is enabled and reanimated when criminal justice and migration control coalesce

Understanding Criminal Victimization Ezzat A. Fattah, 1991 Exploring the Boundaries of International Criminal Justice Mark Findlay, 2016-04-15 This collection discusses appropriate methodologies for comparative research and applies this to the issue of trial transformation in the context of achieving justice in post conflict societies In developing arguments in relation to these problems the authors use international sentencing and the question of victims interests and expectations as a focus The conclusions reached are wide ranging and haighly significant in challenging existing conceptions for appreciating and giving effect to the justice demands of victims of war and social conflict The themes developed demonstrate clearly how comparative contextual analysis facilitates our understanding of the legal and social contexts of international punishment and how this understanding can provide the basis for expanding the role of restorative international criminal justice within the context of international criminal trials

Countering Terrorist and Criminal Financing Scott N Romaniuk,Christian Kaunert,Amparo Pamela H Fabe,2023-11-09 Countering Terrorist and Criminal Financing provides an up to date overview and critical analysis of terrorism financing focusing on tactics and practical measures directed at preventing money laundering and countering the flow of terrorism funding In doing so the book details some of the major doctrines outlining policies of states and key regional and global partnerships in Europe Asia North America South America the Middle East and Africa Chapters bring together a diverse range of expert scholars and practitioners who specialise in theoretical principles utilising empirical research and an analysis of the cross national networks and cross group collaborations that underpin the illicit activities that fund such groups The book serves as the most current and comprehensive resource in the area of countering the financing of terrorism and organised crime incorporating regional and group specific approaches challenges and consequences This focus encompasses legal measures social policies and military operations and security force responses by states and non state actors to assemble the most up to date counter terrorist financing information into a single volume
