Bibliography of Natural History Travel Narratives Anne S. Troelstra,2017-06-01 Anne Troelstra s fine bibliography is an outstanding and ground breaking work He has provided the academic world with a long needed bibliographical record of human endeavour in the field of the natural sciences The travel narratives listed here encompass all aspects of the natural world in every part of the globe but are especially concerned with its fauna flora and fossil remains Such eyewitness accounts have always fascinated their readers but they were never written solely for entertainment fragmentary though they often are these narratives of travel and exploration are of immense importance for our scientific understanding of life on earth providing us with a window on an ever changing and often vanishing natural world Without such records of the past we could not track document or understand the significance of changes that are so important for the study of zoogeography With this book Troelstra gives us a superb overview of natural history travel narratives The well over four thousand detailed entries ranging over four centuries and all major western European languages are drawn from a wide range of sources and include both printed books and periodical contributions While no subject bibliography by a single author can attain absolute completeness Troelstra s work is comprehensive to a truly remarkable degree The entries are arranged alphabetically by author and chronologically by the year of first publication under the author s name A brief biography with the scope and range of their work is given for each author every title is set in context the contents including illustrations are described and all known editions and translations are cited In addition there is a geographical index that cross refers between authors and the regions visited and a full list of the bibliographical and biographical sources used in compiling the bibliography

The Arabian Desert in English Travel Writing Since 1950 Jenny Walker,2022-12-30 Broadly this book is about the Arabian desert as the locus of exploration by a long tradition of British travellers that includes T E Lawrence and Wilfred Thesiger more specifically it is about those who since 1950 have followed in their literary footsteps In analysing modern works covering a land greater than the sum of its geographical parts the discussion identifies outmoded tropes that continue to impinge upon the perception of the Middle East today while recognising that the laboured binaries of East and West desert and sown noble and savage have outrun their course Where however only a barren legacy of latent Orientalism may have been expected the author finds instead a rich seam of writing that exhibits diversity of purpose and insight contributing to contemporary discussions on travel and tourism intercultural representation and environmental awareness By addressing a lack of scholarly attention towards recent additions to the genre this study illustrates for the benefit of students of travel literature or indeed anyone interested in Arabia how desert writing under the emerging configurations of discourses of travel to explore questions of identity and politics history and narration collecting and representing other cultures Travellers tales oscillate between the thrill of novel experiences and unexpected pleasures and the alienation and loneliness of exile in a strange land The contributions review recent work on the discourses of tourism travel and cultural politics the effects of global interactions and local resistances and the ways in which records memorials and signs have all been used to describe the experience of encountering the other Bulletin of the Public Library of the City of Boston Boston Public Library,1894 Storyworlds in Short Narratives ,2024-10-21 This interdisciplinary and comparative volume offers a systematic approach to the early Greek tale Bringing similarities and differences between ancient Greek and early Byzantine tales to the fore this volume thus creates new knowledge in the fields of classics medieval studies and literary studies Its chapters discuss the theory and poetics of tales the art of storytelling inherent features of the tale and the arrangement types and characteristics of tales in collections The chapter authors base their approaches on a rich variety of texts and writers that are here discussed for the first time in one volume Contributors are Andria Andreou Stavroula Constantinou Julia Doroszewska Christian H gel Mark ta Kulh nkov Ingela Nilsson Nicol Sassi and Sophia Xenophontos Writing Home Glenn Morrison,2017-01-30 Writing Home explores the literary representation of Australian places by those who have walked them In particular it examines how Aboriginal and settler narratives of walking have shaped portrayals of Australia s Red Centre and consequently ideas of nation and belonging Central Australia has long been characterised as a frontier the supposed divide between black and white ancient and modern But persistently representing it in this way is preventing Australians from re imagining this internationally significant region as home Writing Home argues that the frontier no longer adequately describes Central Australia and that the Aboriginal songlines make a significant but under acknowledged contribution to Australian discourses of hybridity belonging and home Drawing on anthropology cultural theory journalism politics and philosophy the book traces shifting perceptions of Australian place and space since precolonial times through six recounted walking journeys of the Red Centre Gilles Deleuze: Travels in Literature M. Bryden,2006-11-28 Deleuze s writing is permeated with references to literature Despite asserting that he was not a literary critic Deleuze provides exhilarating and original interactions with texts This study offers in depth encounters between Deleuze s thought and the writers who fascinated him demonstrating the productivity of a Deleuzian frame of reference Readings in Oriental Literature Jalal Uddin Khan,2015-02-05 Readings in Oriental Literature Arabian Indian and Islamic is an up to date elucidation of some diverse and discrete yet common and classic subjects and authors and the distinctive oriental elements present in them The book composed of fourteen essays includes ancient Arabian poetry the Arabian Nights the Arabian desert the Arabian influence on Melville Shelley s Orientalia Coleridge s Kubla Khan the influence of English Romantics on the Bengali Tagore Bangladesh s national anthem and her exiled daughter Taslima Nasreen the Victorian reaction to British India religious diversity and Islam in the West the Muslim East in English literature and reading literature from an Islamic point of view Marked by an originality of approach and a freshness and simplicity the book takes note of contemporary theoretical interdisciplinary and cultural discourse drawn from literature history politics and religion as necessary However it is far from being unnecessarily weighed down by the loaded clichés oft repeated jargon and overused euphemisms of modern literary or critical theory The result is regardless of its specialized treatment of otherwise commonplace or well known texts or topics that the overall discussion is as lucid introductory and expository as it is deep and scholarly making the book accessible and understandable to non specialist readers in addition to specialist researchers and academics
