Claire Elizabeth Campbell

On The Edge Artistic Visions Of A Shrinking Landscape:

On the Edge Catherine Gibbon, 1995 Thirty six visual artists were asked to define one place Their unique individual responses to their near landscape accompanied by quotations from various cultures and from writers such as Margaret Atwood Emily Carr and Bill McKibben present a powerful case for how our sense of place affects the health of our environment Storyteller Guitar Doug Larson, 2011-05-03 Every object around us contains the history of all the people and places that brought it here But rarely is that history explored In this book instead of breaking an object apart to reveal those stories they are told by building the object a guitar named Storyteller from scratch The text and illustrations reveal the rich lives of the people places and projects that breathed life into it The stories range from people who were pioneers in landscape restoration to those involved with automobile manufacturing The places include the high arctic tropical forests and vertical cliffs of the Niagara Escarpment The projects include stage plays laser physics and the establishment of the first Canadian diamond mines By bringing together these disparate stories in one musical instrument the book makes the argument that art science and history are part of everybody's life Shaped by the West Wind Claire Elizabeth Campbell, 2005 Claire Campbell draws from recent work in cultural history landscape studies in geography and art history and environmental history to explore what happens when external agendas confront local realities a story central to the Canadian experience Explorers fishers artists and park planners all were forced to respond to the unique contours of this inland sea their encounters defined a regional identity even as they constructed a popular image for the Bay in the national imagination Jacket Waterglass Jeffery Donaldson, 1999-03-30 Waterglass is wishful thinking The word won't be found in the dictionary nor will you come across the thing itself in any shop of curios But there it rests nonetheless as an imagined possibility among and between the lines of Jeffery Donaldson's second collection of verse The Power of the Story Afra Kavanagh, 1998 BC Studies, 1996 Landscapes of Memory and Experience Jan Birksted, 2012-12-06 It has been argued that the history of landscape and of gardens has been marginalized from the mainstream of art history and visual studies because of a lack of engagement with the theories methods and concepts of these disciplines This book explores possible ways out of this impasse in such a way that landscape studies would become pivotal through its theoretical advances since landscape studies would challenge the underlying assumptions of traditional phenomenological theory Thus the history and theory of twentieth century landscape might not only once again share concepts and methods with contemporary art and design history but might in turn influence them A complementary sequel to Relating Architecture to Landscape this volume of essays explores further areas of interest and discussion in the landscape architecture debate and offers contributions from a team of well known researchers teachers and writers The choice of topics is wide ranging and features case studies of modern and contemporary schemes from the USA Far East and Australasia Alternatives Journal, 1997 The Canadian Who's who, 1999 On the Edge, Five Contemporary Aboriginal Artists Michael A. O'Ferrall, Michael Anthony
