On The Nature Of War Swedish Studies In International Relations:

Rethinking the Nature of War Jan Angstrom, Isabelle Duyvesteyn, 2005-07-08 Have globalization virulent ethnic differences and globally operating insurgents fundamentally changed the nature of war in the last decade Interpretations of war as driven by politics and state rationale formulated most importantly by the 19th century practitioner Carl von Clausewitz have received strong criticism Political explanations have been said to fall short in explaining conflicts in the Balkans Africa Asia and the attacks of 11 September 2001 in the United States This book re evaluates these criticisms not only by scrutinising Clausewitz's arguments and their applicability but also by a careful reading of the criticism itself In doing so it presents empirical evidence on the basis of several case studies addressing various aspects of modern war such as the actors conduct and purposes of war

Understanding Victory and Defeat in Contemporary War Jan Angstrom, Isabelle Duyvesteyn, 2006-12-05 Bringing together leading contributors in the field this new volume analyzes how victory and defeat in modern war can be understood and explained It does so by confronting two inter related research problems the nature of victory and defeat in modern war and the explanations of victory and defeat By first questioning the extent to which the concepts of victory and defeat are meaningful to describe the outcomes of modern wars and whether the contents of these concepts are changing it then evaluates different theories purporting to explain the outcomes of war and the impact of variables ranging from technology to culture The book tackles several key questions What is the definition of victory in the War on Terror What is the meaning of victory and defeat in contemporary insurgencies such as those in Iraq and Afghanistan Are the counterstrategies that were developed in the mid twentieth century valid in order to deal with present and future conflicts With case studies ranging from the Malayan Emergency to the current conflict in Iraq Understanding Victory and Defeat in Contemporary War will be of great interest to students of war and conflict studies security studies military history and international relations

World Military History Bibliography Barton Hacker, 2003-06-01 Preclassical and indigenous nonwestern military institutions and methods of warfare are the chief subjects of this annotated bibliography of work published 1967-1997 Classical antiquity post Roman Europe and the westernized armed forces of the 20th century although covered receive less systematic attention Emphasis is on historical studies of military organization and the relationships between military and other social institutions rather than wars and battles Especially rich in references to the periodical literature the bibliography is divided into eight parts 1 general and comparative topics 2 the ancient world 3 Eurasia since antiquity 4 sub Saharan Africa and Oceania 5 pre Columbian America 6 postcontact America 7 the contemporary nonwestern world and 8 philosophical social scientific natural scientific and other works not primarily historical

After International Relations Heikki Patomäki, 2003-08-29 Includes cutting edge contemporary research Engages with the central debates in IR such as truth agent structure problem level of analysis problem emancipation and new methodological procedure etc Author is a highly regarded scholar who has published widely on IR and is an important voice Reveals how critical realism CR enables better research and ethnopoltical practices

Warfare State David Edgerton, 2005-12-08 A challenge to the central theme of the existing histories of twentieth century Britain that the British state was a welfare state this book argues that it was also a warfare state which supported a powerful armaments industry This insight implies major revisions to our understanding of twentieth century British history from appeasement to wartime industrial and economic policy and the place of science and technology in government David Edgerton also shows how British intellectuals came to think of the state in terms of welfare and decline and includes a devastating analysis of C P Snow s two cultures This groundbreaking book offers a new post welfarist and post declinist account of Britain and an original analysis of the relations of science technology industry and the military It will be essential reading for those working on the history and historiography of twentieth century Britain the historical sociology of war and the history of science and technology

Terrorism Research and Public Policy Clark McCauley, 2012-11-12 First Published in 1991 This book includes several contributions to the new look in terrorism research including a history of terrorism that reaches back two thousand years an examination of the life cycle of terrorist groups that have come and gone since World War II and a new theory of the stages by which political protest becomes political violence and terrorism

Constructing Cause in International Relations Richard Ned Lebow, 2014-02-20 Cause is a problematic concept in social science as in all fields of knowledge We organise information in terms of cause and effect to impose order on the world but this can impede a more sophisticated understanding In his latest book Richard Ned Lebow reviews understandings of cause in physics and philosophy and concludes that no formulation is logically defensible and universal in its coverage This is because cause is not a feature of the world but a cognitive shorthand we use to make sense of it In practice causal inference is always rhetorical and must accordingly be judged on grounds of practicality Lebow offers a new approach inefficient causation that is constructivist in its emphasis on the reasons people have for acting as they do but turns to other approaches to understand the aggregation of their behaviour This novel approach builds on general understandings and idiosyncratic features of context

International Relations: Section I. The nature and purpose of international relations theory. Section II. Idealism and realism Andrew Linklater, 2000 Routledge Handbook of Ethics and International Relations Brent J. Steele, Eric Heinze, 2018-06-14 Ethics and International Relations IR once considered along the margins of the IR field has emerged as one of the most eclectic and interdisciplinary research areas today Yet the same diversity that enriches this field also makes it a difficult one to characterize Is it or should it only be the social scientific pursuit of explaining and understanding how ethics influences the behaviours of actors in international relations Or should it be a field characterized by what the world should be like based on philosophical normative and policy based arguments This Handbook suggests that it can actually be both as the contributions contained therein demonstrate how those two conceptions of Ethics and International Relations are inherently linked Seeking to both provide an overview of the field and to drive debates forward this Handbook is framed by an opening chapter providing a concise and accessible overview of the complex history of the field of Ethics and IR and a conclusion that discusses how the field may progress in the future and what subjects are likely to rise to prominence Within are 44 distinct and original contributions from scholars teaching and researching in the field which are structured around 8 key thematic sections Philosophical Resources International Relations Theory Religious Traditions International Security and Just War Justice Rights and Global Governance International Intervention Global Economics Environment Health and Migration Drawing together a diverse range of scholars the Routledge Handbook of Ethics and International Relations provides a cutting edge overview of the field by bringing together these eclectic albeit dynamic themes and topics It will be an essential resource for students and scholars alike

Alva Myrdal: A Pioneer in Nuclear Disarmament Peter Wallensteen, Armend Bekaj, 2022-09-21 This book is about the importance of nuclear disarmament and the work pursued by Alva Myrdal a pioneering social activist diplomat cabinet minister and disarmament negotiator She was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1982 together with Alfonso Garcia Robles for their work for disarmament and nuclear and weapon free zones Prominent academics politicians and practitioners have contributed reflections on Myrdal's achievements and their impact on the world today Furthermore a sample of Myrdal's own writings on nuclear disarmament are included as well as significant speeches and a bibliography of her publications on nuclear matters Alva Myrdal was born in Uppsala Sweden in 1902 graduated from college in Stockholm in 1924 and continued higher education at Uppsala University in the 1930s She was a prolific author and reformer specializing in social affairs women's roles and nuclear disarmament She was Sweden's Ambassador to India in the 1950s for Nuclear
