Lorraine Sterry,2009-01-29 This volume complements other published works about travel by nineteenth century women writers by locating and creating space for Japan which is missing within recent critical discourses on travel writing It examines the narratives of women writers who travelled to Japan from the mid 1850s onwards when Japan was first opened to the West and became a highly desirable travel destination for decades thereafter Many women travelled in this period and although most left no record of their journeys enough did to form a discrete body of literature spanning more than fifty years from the end of the feudal Tokugawa era to the rise of Meiji Japan as a world power Their narratives about Japan occupy a culturally significant place not only in the genre of Victorian female travel writing but in Victorian travel writing per se The writers who are the subject of this book are divided into two groups those who were travellers by intent namely Anna D A Alice Frere Annie Brassey Isabella Bird and Marie Stopes and those who travelled by default as the wives of diplomats namely Mrs Pemberton Hodgson Mrs Hugh Fraser and Baroness Albert d Anethan Going Places Robert

Morrell,Hiroko Odagiri,2020-09-01 The description for this book The Princeton Companion to Classical Japanese Literature will be forthcoming      Encountering Nature Thomas Heyd,2016-04-29 This book argues that an attentive encounter with nature is of key importance for the development of an environmentally appropriate culture The fundamental idea is that the environmental degradation that we are increasingly experiencing is best conceived as the consequence of a cultural mismatch our cultures seem not to be appropriate to the natural environment in which we move and on which we depend in thoroughgoing ways In addressing this problem Thomas Heyd weaves together a rich tapestry of perspectives on human interactions with the natural world ranging from traditional modes of managing human communities that include the natural environment to the consideration of poetic travelogues ecological restoration and botanic gardens The volume is divided into three parts which respectively consider the relation of human beings to nature in terms of ethics aesthetics and culture It engages the current literature in each of these areas with the help of inter disciplinary approaches as well as on the basis of personal encounters with natural spaces and processes The ultimate aim of this book is to make a contribution to the development of a cultural fabric that is suitable to the natural spaces and processes in which we may thrive and on which we all depend as individuals and as a species
