Living Inside Our Hope Staughton Lynd, 2019-05-15 The photograph of three men spattered with red paint their arms linked marching to protest the Vietnam War is an icon of the 1960s movement for social justice David Dellinger is on one side Robert Moses on the other In the middle is Staughton Lynd chairperson of the first march on Washington against the war and former director of the Mississippi Freedom Schools Thirty years later Staughton Lynd here reaffirms ideas central to the New Left of the sixties nonviolence participatory democracy an experiential approach to education and anti capitalism In essays written between 1970 and 1995 he passionately defends the intellectual contribution of a movement often dismissed as mindlessly activist In addition he advocates direct sustained involvement in meeting the needs of the working class and the poor Each section of the book identifies major influences on Lynd's life as teacher historian lawyer and organizer In the section entitled Accompaniment Lynd suggests the relevance to the United States of the concepts of liberation theology which have revolutionized Central America In Socialism with a Human Face he expresses continued allegiance to the socialist ideals exemplified by Simone Weil and E P Thompson The final section Solidarity Unionism deals with the self activity of rank and file workers Living Inside Our Hope will reach out to everyone who remembers the ideals of the sixties with nostalgia and to those too young to remember who are seeking a foundation on which to build their own social activism Challenges to the World Economy Horst Siebert, 2003-03-19 This volume in a sense aims at reflecting the qualities of the honoree and it does so in two respects On the one hand it covers a great variety of subdisciplines of economics On the other hand the book ranges from theoretical and mathematical economics to hands on applied analyses of economic policy issues All essays are driven by the aspiration to better understand the economy and to draw relevant conclusions for economic policy The book is divided into five parts dealing with the German economy European economic issues global markets international trade theory and policy and natural resources and the environment Ruling the World?, The Marshall Plan Michael J. Hogan, 1987 A re interpretation of the Marshall Plan as an extension of strategic American policy views the plan as the brainchild of the New Deal coalition of progressive private and political interests Vegetarian Times, 1981-03 To do what no other magazine does Deliver simple delicious food plus expert health and lifestyle information that s exclusively vegetarian but wrapped in a fresh stylish mainstream package that s inviting to all Because while vegetarians are a great vital passionate niche their healthy way of eating and the earth friendly values it inspires appeals to an increasingly large group of Americans VT s goal To embrace both Third World Attitudes Toward International Law Frederick E. Snyder, Surakiart Sathirathai, 1987-06-23 Blood on the Tracks Willson, S. Brian, 2011-08-01 We are not worth more they are not worth less This is the mantra of S Brian Willson and the theme that runs throughout his compelling psycho historical memoir Willson s story begins in small town rural America where he grew up as a Commie hating baseball loving Baptist moves through life changing experiences in Viet Nam Nicaragua and elsewhere and culminates with his commitment to a localized sustainable lifestyle In telling his story Willson provides numerous examples of the types of personal risk taking nonviolent actions he and others have taken in attempts to educate and effect political change tax refusal which requires simplification of one s lifestyle fasting done publicly in strategic political and or therapeutic spiritual contexts and obstruction tactics strategically placing one s body in the way of business as usual It was such actions that thrust Brian Willson into the public eye in the mid 80s first as a participant in a high profile water only Veterans Fast for Life against the Contra war being waged by his government in Nicaragua Then on a fateful day in September 1987 the world watched in horror as Willson was run over by a U S government munitions train during a nonviolent blocking action in which he expected to be removed from the tracks and arrested Losing his legs only strengthened Willson s identity with millions of unnamed victims of U S policy around the world He provides details of his travels to countries in Latin America and the Middle East and bears witness to the harm done to poor people as well as to the environment by the steamroller of U S imperialism These heart rending accounts are offered side by side with inspirational stories of nonviolent struggle and the survival of resilient communities Willson s expanding consciousness also uncovers injustices within his own country including insights gained through his study and service within the U S criminal justice system and personal experiences addressing racial injustices He discusses coming to terms with his identity as a Viet Nam veteran and the subsequent service he provides to others as director of a veterans outreach center in New England He draws much inspiration from friends he encounters along the way as he finds himself continually drawn to the path leading to a simpler life that seeks to do no harm rdquo Throughout his personal journey Willson struggles with the question Why was it so easy for me a good man to follow orders to travel 9 000 miles from home to participate in killing people who clearly were not a threat to me or any of my fellow citizens He eventually comes to the realization that the American Way of Life is AWOL from humanity and that the only way to recover our humanity is by changing our consciousness one individual at a time while striving for collective cultural changes toward less and local Thus Willson offers up his personal story as a metaphorical map for anyone who feels the need to be liberated from the American Way of Life a guidebook for anyone called by conscience to question continued obedience to vertical power structures while longing to reconnect with the human archetypes of cooperation equity mutual respect and empathy Department of Veterans Affairs Health Care Research United States.
