On Wing And Wild Water:

On Wing and Wild Water Mike Tomkies, 1987 Bulletin , 1925 Bulletin United States National Museum, 1925

Between Earth and Paradise Mike Tomkies, 2021-07-06 One man's search for peace and beauty in an increasingly frenetic world has never read so well or so evocatively Eifion Rees Shooting Times Country Magazine After giving up a hectic life as a journalist in Europe and Hollywood in the late 1960s to return to his boyhood love of nature Mike Tomkies moved to Eilean Shona a remote island off the west coast of Scotland There he rebuilt an abandoned croft house and began a new way of life observing nature He tracked foxes and stags made friends with seals and taught an injured sparrow hawk to hunt for itself It was the indomitable spirit of this tiny bird that taught Tomkies what it takes for any of us to be truly free Whether he was fishing growing his own food or battling through stormy seas in a tiny boat he learned that he could survive in the harsh environment This is the astonishing story of daring to take the first step away from urban routines and embracing a harsh yet immensely rewarding way of life which in turn led Tomkies to an even more remote location and inspired an acclaimed series of books on various animals and the challenges and joys of living in remote places The awesome extent of his struggle to build an uncomfortable but self supporting writer's life alone in an isolated crofter's cottage is vividly and lyrically described Sunday Express A treasure house of outdoor knowledge It should be read slowly to fully appreciate its value Rennie McOwan Scots Magazine Wildlife Films Derek Bousé, 2011-11-29 If as many argue movies and television have become Western culture's premier storytelling media so too have they become for most members of society the primary source of encounters with the natural world particularly wild animals The television fare offered nightly by national and cable networks such as PBS and the Discovery Channel provides millions of viewers with their only experience of the wilderness and its inhabitants The very films that so many viewers take as accurate portrayals of wildlife however have evolved primarily as a form of entertainment following the established codes and conventions of narrative exposition The result has been not the representation of nature but its wholesale reconstruction and reconfiguration according to film and television conventions audience expectations and the demands of competition in the media marketplace Wildlife Films traces the genealogy of the nature film from its origins as the animal locomotion studies that mark the very beginnings of motion pictures themselves to the founding of the Animal Planet cable channel that boasts all animals all the time The narrative and thematic elements that unite wildlife films as a genre have their roots not in the documentary film tradition but in the older traditions of oral and written animal fables as reflections of human society Derek Bous contends that classic wildlife films often portray animal protagonists living in families modeled on an ideal of the human nuclear family and working in communities that resemble an ideal of bucolic human society In these stories presented as documentaries animals are motivated by human emotions and conduct relationships according to human customs This imposition of culturally satisfying narrative patterns upon the lives of animals has not only led to the misrepresentation of the natural world it has promoted the notion that our values our moral vision our models of society and family structure derive from nature rather than being cultural formations Storm Jack Drummond, 2010-04-01 When the small town of Melville is caught in a freak storm its inhabitants must do everything they can to survive But with a ruthless eco terrorist at large and no chance of rescue from the outside world the townsfolk are on their own facing one of the greatest environmental threats the world has ever seen Dramatic powerful and bursting with adventure Storm is an unputdownable thriller

The Eagle Watchers Ruth Tingay, Todd Katzner, 2011-01-15 Eagles have fascinated humans for millennia For some the glimpse of a distant eagle instantly becomes a treasured lifelong memory Others may never encounter a wild eagle in their lifetime This book was written by people who have dedicated years to the study of eagles to provide an insider's view for all readers but especially those who have never been up close and personal with these magnificent yet often misunderstood creatures In their stories twenty nine leading eagle researchers share their remarkable field experiences providing personal narratives that don't feature in their scientific publications They tell of their fear at being stalked by grizzly bears their surprise at being followed by the secret police their embarrassment when accidentally firing mortar rockets over a school gymnasium and their sense of awe at tracking eagles via satellite The reader experiences the cultural shock of being guest of honor at a circumcision ceremony the absurdity of sharing an aquatic car with the Khmer Rouge and the sense of foreboding at being press-ganged into a frenzied tribal death march through the jungle The Eagle Watchers covers twenty four species on six continents from well known bald eagle golden eagle to obscure black and chestnut eagle New Guinea harpy eagle and from common African fish eagle to critically endangered Philippine eagle Madagascar fish eagle The diverse experiences vividly described in this book reveal the passion dedication and sense of adventure shared by those who study these majestic birds and strive for their conservation Featuring stunning color photographs of the eagles information on raptor conservation a global list of all eagle species with ranges and conservation status and a color map of the sites visited in the book The Eagle Watchers will appeal to birders conservationists and adventure travelers alike To further support the conservation programs described in this book all royalties are being donated to two leading nonprofit organizations for raptor conservation training and fieldwork Hawk Mountain Sanctuary Intern Program and the National Birds of Prey Trust
