crafts the soundtracks of his films by jettisoning original scores in favor of commercial recordings In Remixing Wong Kar wai Giorgio Biancorosso examines the combinatorial practice at the heart of Wong s cinema to retheorize musical borrowing appropriation and repurposing Wong s irrepressible penchant for poaching music from other films whether old Chinese melodramas Hollywood blockbusters or European art films subsumes familiar music under his own brand of cinema As Wong combs through musical and cinematic archives and splices disparate music together exceedingly well known music loses its previous associations and acquires an infinite new constellation of meanings in his films Drawing on Claude L vi Strauss s concept of bricolage Biancorosso contends that Wong s borrowing is akin to a practice of creative destruction in which Wong becomes a bricoleur who remixes music at hand to create new and complete self sustaining statements By outlining Wong s modus operandi of indiscriminate borrowing and remixing Biancorosso prompts readers to reconsider the significance of transforming preexisting music into new compositions for film and beyond

Wong,2025-04-18 In Unruly Comparison Alvin K Wong examines queerness in Hong Kong through a transdisciplinary analysis of Sinophone literature cinema visual culture and civil society Moving beyond Eurocentrism in queer theory and China centrism in area studies Wong frames Hong Kong as a model for global comparison by theorizing a method of unruly comparison acknowledging the incommensurability of cultural texts and queer figures across different temporal and spatial locations Here unruly comparison positions Hong Kong as an undefinable time space that troubles historicist colonial and China centric renderings of the city as merely a site of British colonial legacy Chinese rule or global capital Wong analyzes queer interracial desire in

WWII a cinema of gay male cosmopolitanism queer intimacy among migrant workers trans visibility and legality cross border sex work and the queer diaspora of Hong Kong after the 2019 protests Through Wong's readings Hong Kong becomes a queer region of racial gender and sexual incommensurability By foregrounding the friction asymmetry and perverse juxtapositions of unruly comparison of Hong Kong with the Sinophone world Wong reframes key debates in queer theory and East Asian studies

The Resurrected Skeleton Wilt L. Idema, 2014-07-08 The early Chinese text Master Zhuang Zhuangzi is well known for its relativistic philosophy and colorful anecdotes In the work Zhuang Zhou ca 300 B C E dreams that he is a butterfly and wonders upon awaking if he in fact dreamed that he was a butterfly or if the butterfly is now dreaming that it is Zhuang Zhou The text also recounts Master Zhuang's encounter with a skull which praises the pleasures of death over the toil of living This anecdote became popular with Chinese poets of the second and third century C E and found renewed significance with the founders of Quanzhen Daoism in the twelfth century The Quanzhen masters transformed the skull into a skeleton and treated the object as a metonym for death and a symbol of the refusal of enlightenment Later preachers made further revisions adding Master Zhuang's resurrection of the skeleton a series of accusations made by the skeleton against the philosopher and the enlightenment of the magistrate who judges their case The legend of the skeleton was widely popular throughout the Ming dynasty 1368 1644 and the fiction writer Lu Xun 1881 1936 reimaged it in the modern era The first book in English to trace the development of the legend and its relationship to centuries of change in Chinese philosophy and culture The Resurrected Skeleton translates and contextualizes the story's major adaptations and draws parallels with the Muslim legend of Jesus's encounter with a skull and the European tradition of the Dance of Death Translated works include versions of the legend in the form of popular ballads and plays together with Lu Xun's short story of the 1930s underlining the continuity between traditional and modern Chinese culture

Cinema & Counter-History Marcia Landy, 2015-04-15 Despite claims about the end of history and the death of cinema visual media continue to contribute to our understanding of history and history making In this book Marcia Landy argues that rethinking history and memory must take into account shifting conceptions of visual and aural technologies With the assistance of thinkers such as Gilles Deleuze and Félix Guattari Cinema and Counter History examines writings and films that challenge prevailing notions of history in order to explore the philosophic aesthetic and political stakes of activating the past Marshaling evidence across European African and Asian cinema Landy engages in a counter historical project that calls into question the certainty of visual representations and unmoors notions of a history firmly anchored in truth

What Is a Western? Josh Garrett-Davis, 2019-09-26 There's western and then there's Western and where history becomes myth is an evocative question one of several questions posed by Josh Garrett-Davis in What Is a Western Region Genre Imagination Part cultural criticism part history and wholly entertaining this series of essays on specific films books music and other cultural texts brings a fresh perspective to long studied topics Under Garrett Davis's careful observation of cultural objects such as films and literature, art and artifacts and icons and oddities occupy the terrain of where the West as region meets the Western genre. One crucial through line in the collection is the relationship of regional western works to genre Western works and the ways those two categories cannot be cleanly distinguished. Most work about the West is tinted by the Western genre and Westerns depend on the region for their status and power. Garrett Davis also seeks to answer the question: What is a Western now? To do so, he brings the Western into dialogue with other frameworks of the imagined West such as Indigenous perspectives, the borderlands, and environmental thinking. The book's mosaic of subject matter includes new perspectives on the classic musical film Oklahoma, a consideration of Native activism at Standing Rock, and surprises like Pee-wee's Big Adventure and Dr. Seuss's The Lorax. The book is influenced by the borderlands theory of Gloria Anzaldúa and the work of the indie rock band Calexico, as well as the author's own discipline of western cultural history. Richly illustrated primarily from the collection of the Autry Museum of the American West, Josh Garrett Davis's work is as visually interesting as it is enlightening, asking readers to consider the American West in new ways.
