Disciplinary and Dissent in Cultural Studies Cary Nelson, Dilip Gaonkar, 2013-10-28 First published in 1996 As recently as the early 1990s people wondered what was the future of cultural studies in the United States and what effects its increasing internationalization might have What type of projects would cultural studies inspire people to undertake Would established disciplines welcome its presence and adapt their practices accordingly Disciplinary and Dissent in Cultural Studies answers such questions It is now clear that while striking and innovative work is underway in many different fields most disciplinary organizations and structures have been very resistant to cultural studies Meanwhile cultural studies has been subjected to repeated attacks by conservative journalists and commentators in the public sphere Cultural studies scholars have responded not only by mounting focused critiques of the politics of knowledge but also by embracing ambitious projects of social political and cultural commentary by transgressing all the official boundaries of knowledge in a broad quest for cultural understanding This book tracks these debates and maps future strategies for cultural studies in academia and public life The contributors to Disciplinary and Dissent in Cultural Studies include established scholars and new voices In a series of polemic and exploratory essays written especially for this book they track the struggle with cultural studies in disciplines like anthropology literature and history and between cultural studies and very different domains like Native American culture and the culture of science Contributors include Arjun Appadurai Michael Denning Lawrence Grossberg Cary Nelson Constance Penley Andrew Ross and Lynn Spigel

Whispers on the Color Line Gary Alan Fine,Patricia A. Turner,2004-05-18 Fine and Turner present a wonderful exploration into what our seemingly mundane rumor sharing means for race in our society Filled with examples that we all can recognize and superbly written and argued Whispers on the Color Line will be a classic in the study of race and culture Mary Pattillo McCoy author of Black Picket Fences Privilege and Peril among the Black Middle Class Fine and Turner have written a disturbing yet important book Taking racially tinged or drenched as the case may be rumors as an unobtrusive measure of the state of black white relations in the U S the authors document the yawning social cultural chasm in the nation Contradicting the tepid national narrative that celebrates the before and after racial transformation achieved by the civil rights struggle Whispers on the Color Line reminds us that the peculiar dilemma Gunnar Myrdal wrote about fifty seven years ago is still very much with us Until the whispers grow into a far more open and honest dialogue nothing will change Doug McAdam author of Freedom Summer Whispers on the Color Line is a logical and necessary extension of the authors earlier books Fine s Manufacturing Tales and Turner s I Heard It Through the Grapevine which work in tandem to explore racial issues through everyday narratives The authors themselves represent an American cultural dialectic Janet Langlois author of Belle Gunness The Lady Bluebeard Whispers on the Color Line is insightful and thought provoking powerfully underscoring the social significance of hearsay rumors and legends in everyday life This rich and poignant narrative reveals and educates an important contribution to social science understanding and to the ongoing discourse about race matters in this country Elijah Anderson author of Code of the Street Decency Violence and the Moral Life of the Inner City This book speaks loudly to our most troubling contemporary problem interactions among the races that are carried out in secret The development of media such as the Internet with its various aspects from personal email to screeds sent out through listserves has helped us recognize that rumors have gone public and that we need to become involved in managing this process Roger Abrahams author of Singing the Master The Emergence of African American Culture in the Plantation South      Flak-Catchers Lindsey Lupo, 2010-12-02 Flak Catchers explores the ways in which riot commissions the institutional bodies appointed by an executive in the aftermath of a race riot to determine a riot timeline investigate causes and offer prescriptions for change have dealt with racial violence in the United States over the last century In studying five riots and their commissions Chicago 1919 Harlem 1935 Los Angeles 1965 USA 1967 and Los Angeles 1992 this book shows that riot commissions only serve to give the appearance of strong and responsive government action during uncertain times They primarily benefit the instituting body by focusing on a restoration of law and order while undermining any larger civil rights message However this book also challenges the prevalent idea that riot commissions are all the same by revealing how riot commissions have changed over the last century shifting in their prominence content and focus After the 1968 Kerner Commission which studied the 1967 summer riots it has become increasingly common for the riot commission to fail to answer fundamental questions posed by the crisis      The Contested Murder of Latasha Harlins Brenda Stevenson, 2013-07-23 Helicopters patrolled low over the city filming blocks of burning cars and buildings mobs breaking into storefronts and the vicious beating of truck driver Reginald Denny For a week in April 1992 Los Angeles transformed into a cityscape of rage purportedly due to the exoneration of four policemen who had beaten Rodney King It should be no surprise that such intense anger erupted from something deeper than a single incident In The Contested Murder of Latasha Harlins Brenda Stevenson tells the dramatic story of an earlier trial a turning point on the road to the 1992 riot On March 16 1991 fifteen year old Latasha Harlins an African American who lived locally entered the Empire Liquor Market at 9172 South Figueroa Street in South Central Los Angeles Behind the counter was a Korean woman named Soon Ja Du Latasha walked to the refrigerator cases in the back took a bottle of orange juice put it in her backpack and approached the cash register with two dollar bills in her hand the price of the juice Moments later she was face down on the floor with a bullet hole in the back of her head shot dead by Du Joyce Karlin a Jewish Superior Court judge appointed by Republican Governor Pete Wilson presided over the resulting manslaughter trial A jury convicted Du but Karlin sentenced her only to probation community service and a 500 fine The author meticulously reconstructs these events and their aftermath showing how they set the stage for the explosion in 1992 An accomplished historian at UCLA Stevenson explores the lives of each of these three women Harlins Du and Karlin and their very different worlds in rich detail Through the three women she not only reveals the human reality and social repercussions of this triangular collision she also provides a deep history of immigration ethnicity and gender in modern America Massively researched deftly written The Contested Murder of Latasha Harlins will reshape our understanding of race ethnicity gender and above all justice in modern America      Urban Social Geography Paul Knox, Steven Pinch, 2014-09-15 The 6th edition of this highly respected text builds upon the successful structure engaging writing style and clear presentation of previous editions Examining urban social geography from a theoretical and historical perspective it also explores how it has developed into the modern day Taking account of recent
