Reading With A Difference Gender Race And Cultural Identity A Criticism:

Reading with a Difference Arthur F. Marotti, 1993 Reading with a Difference is a collection of eighteen essays that examines how issues of gender race and cultural identity inform texts from the seventeenth century to the present Together the contributions document recent significant shifts occurring in the theoretical approach to the texts they study and illustrate how shifts in each of these categories affect how the others are viewed The first section of this anthology explores the notion that identity particularly gender identity is a cultural construct The essays in the second section consider ways in which race and gender intersect with cultural identity and how encounters between different cultures challenge any identity constructed in isolation First published in the journal Criticism these essays offer no blueprint for reading Instead they encourage a rereading of canonical texts and a questioning of how these texts face matters of gender race and cultural identity how they respond to the differences and the incongruities within the cultures from which they arise and to which they speak

Jane Austen Laurence W. Mazzeno, 2011 A comprehensive look at the academic criticism of Jane Austen from her time down to the present Among the most important English novelists Jane Austen is unusual because she is esteemed not only by academics but by the reading public Her novels continue to sell well and films adapted from her works enjoy strong box office success The trajectory of Austen criticism is intriguing especially when one compares it to that of other nineteenth century English writers At least partly because she was a woman in the early nineteenth century she was long neglected by critics hardly considered a major figure in English literature until well into the twentieth century a hundred years after her death Yet consequently she did not suffer from the reaction against Victorianism that did so much to hurt the reputation of Dickens Tennyson Arnold and others How she rose to prominence among academic critics and has retained her position through the constant shifting of academic and critical trends is a story worth telling as it suggests not only something about Austen's artistry but also about how changes in critical perspective can radically alter a writer's reputation Laurence W. Mazzeno is President Emeritus of Alvernia University Reading Pennsylvania

The People, Place, and Space Reader Jen Jack Gieseke, William Mangold, Cindi Katz, Setha Low, Susan Saegert, 2014-04-16 The People Place and Space Reader brings together the writings of scholars designers and activists from a variety of fields to make sense of the makings and meanings of the world we inhabit They help us to understand the relationships between people and the environment at all scales and to consider the active roles individuals groups and social structures play in creating the environments in which people live work and play These readings highlight the ways in which space and place are produced through large and small scale social political and economic practices and offer new ways to think about how people engage the environment in multiple and diverse ways Providing an essential resource for students of urban studies geography sociology and many other areas this book brings together important but till now widely dispersed writings across many inter related disciplines Introductions from the editors precede each section introducing the texts demonstrating their significance and outlining the key issues surrounding the topic A companion website PeoplePlaceSpace org extends the work even further by providing an on going series of additional reading lists that cover issues ranging from food security to foreclosure psychiatric spaces to the environments of predator animals
