online business capabilities and stay ahead in today's competitive digital world. Learn how to master digital marketing, optimize your e-commerce growth, and achieve long-term business success. Ideal for entrepreneurs, online store owners, and anyone seeking to win in the e-commerce industry. The portfolio of three papers delves into the resource-based view (RBV) of competitive advantage within e-commerce capabilities. Research Paper 1 reviews competitive theories in e-commerce, contrasting external competitive forces with RBV theory, which posits that advantage stems from unique, valuable, and non-substitutable resources. The paper emphasizes the need for empirical validation of the RBV model's application to e-commerce. Research Paper 2 conducts an empirical study to determine if e-commerce capabilities contribute to firm-level performance, finding a significant positive correlation. It suggests that firms must cultivate hard-to-replicate capabilities for sustained advantage rather than relying solely on technology or outsourcing. Research Paper 3 examines the correlation between e-commerce barriers and firm performance, revealing a significant negative impact on performance. It underscores the importance of simultaneously developing capabilities to mitigate competitive disadvantages. The findings align with theoretical models highlighting the vulnerability of firms to durable disadvantages. Overall, the papers underscore the significance of e-commerce capabilities in achieving competitive advantage, emphasizing the need for firms to focus on developing and maintaining unique capabilities to thrive in the e-commerce landscape.

Web-Based Education in the Human Services Richard Schoech, Brenda Moore, Robert James Macfadden, Marilyn Herie, 2014-02-25. Web-based education in the human services reflects the vitality and diversity of web-based courses currently delivered within human services. Unlike previous texts that have combined technologies such as interactive television (ITV) and two-way audio where web involvement was minimal, this unique book focuses on web-based models, tools, and techniques used in courses where the majority of the content is delivered online. The book's contributors emphasize the social aspects of learning, examining topical areas not usually associated with web-based education as they remind us of the need to move beyond the similarities between WBE and face-to-face FTF approaches.

Marketplace Behaviour of Malaysian Consumers Nelson Oly Ndubisi, 2006. Six varied papers on marketing issues in Malaysia, an interesting mix of research. Two papers address internet banking and consumers' attitudes to operating their accounts and financial business in this way. One paper looks at consumers' response to sales promotional tools, and another at effects of gender on purchase decisions. The two final papers look at the influence of the family structure on purchase decisions and the ways in which Malaysian customers articulate their dissatisfaction. A useful adjunct for anyone looking to market in this region.
