Motivating Change: Sustainable Design and Behaviour in the Built Environment Robert Crocker, Steffen Lehmann, 2013-07-24 Today's most pressing challenges require behaviour change at many levels from the city to the individual. This book focuses on the collective influences that can be seen to shape change. Exploring the underlying dimensions of behaviour change in terms of consumption, media, social innovation and urban systems, the essays in this book are from many disciplines including architecture, urban design, industrial design and engineering, sociology, psychology, cultural studies, waste management and public policy. Aimed especially at designers and architects, Motivating Change explores the diversity of current approaches to change and the multiple ways in which behaviour can be understood as an enactment of values and beliefs, standards and habitual practices in daily life and more broadly in the urban environment.

Studying Animal Behavior Donald A. Dewsbury, 1989-07-15 In these autobiographical essays by pioneers in the field of animal behavior, the authors discuss childhood education, moments of discovery and the attractions of the research that each pursued. The field of animal behavior has been interdisciplinary throughout its history and the two psychologists and seventeen biologists in Donald Dewsbury's collection provide a fascinating assortment of backgrounds and interests. Chosen by a panel of seven distinguished animal behaviorists, the men whose essays are collected here include two Nobel Prize winners and one Pulitzer Prize winner. All provide unique accounts of the development of the field, written by its original leading practitioners.

Scientific American, 1925 The Behavior Guide to African Mammals Richard D.
