Pace-Schott, 2003-02-27 How and why does the sleeping brain generate dreams Though the question is old a paradigm shift is now occurring in the science of sleep and dreaming that is making room for new answers From brainstem based models of sleep cycle control research is moving toward combined brainstem forebrain models of sleep cognition itself The book presents five papers by leading scientists at the center of the current firmament and more than seventy five commentaries on those papers by nearly all of the other leading authorities in the field Topics include mechanisms of dreaming and REM sleep memory consolidation in REM sleep and an evolutionary hypothesis of the function of dreaming The papers and commentaries together with the authors rejoinders represent a huge leap forward in our understanding of the sleeping and dreaming brain The book s multidisciplinary perspective will appeal to students and researchers in neuroscience cognitive science and psychology The Dreaming Mind Melanie G. become free liberated from our own self imposed thought life Dreams Beyond Time Lee Irwin,2022-05-04 Dreams Beyond Time On Sacred Encounter and Spiritual Transformation offers readers an overview of dreams research as applied to non ordinary dreams Lee Irwin describes four basic types of dreaming normative mythic psychic and transpersonal and he illustrates each type with specific dream examples These types of dreaming are then used as a lens to look more closely at additional dream types that indicate dreaming as a process of creative discovery Through virtual dreaming encounters latent human potentials are revealed and suggest aspects for spiritual development based on dream recording interpretation and analysis In turn this leads to a metaphysical description that is pan sentient illustrating a vivid living universe of process becoming in which certain dream types reveal mythic psychic and transpersonal capacities as intrinsic to a deeper more awakened sense of intersubjective self awareness While dream theories from many diverse authors are explored the author uses an existential and phenomenological method to analyze dreaming contents in relationship to altered states of mind trance out of body and near death experience meditation imagination and stages of lucid self awareness Transpersonal dreams are given considerable attention in relationship to mystical traditions paranormal research and the comparative anthropology of self Philosophers Explore The Matrix Christopher Grau,2005 Analytic philosophers present their thoughts on the motion picture The Matrix the philosophical questions that it provokes The articles are written in an accessible style God, Belief, and Perplexity William E. experiencing freedom instead The book combines tools case studies and theories about the ethical change management method of True Storytelling and other perspectives and views on ethics and storytelling It delves into important topics such as true storytelling sustainability and freedom storytelling and start ups in the health industry storytelling and diversity and culture storytelling and teams storytelling sustainability and the UN Goals storytelling and well being storytelling in higher education and storytelling and fundraising Book authors are experienced and successful researchers business owners leaders and consultants from Scandinavia the USA Africa and Europe Volume 2 is an endeavor into the creation of new concepts for engaging with sustainability It maintains that storytelling is important for our emplacement in nature and can be important for enacting another relationship between nature and the cultural artifice our social and material constructions of houses cities villages harbors streets and railways and our use of objects and artifacts to construct our lives Business storytelling communication is that space for social symbolic work that brings the symbolic objects of the organization the human and the natural environment into a dialogical relationship Volume 3 posits that organizations are arranged as social symbols that are arranged in institutions based on the needs of organics for example health food shelter mating leisure and labor Organics as a social symbolic object specifically humans have emotions language and culture to organize their institutions and organizations In this book readers will find that many of the authors attempt to understand the body s exclusion or attempt to bring the body back into the organization Business storytelling communication takes aim at the social symbolic work of making space to negotiate the social arrangement of organizations with its organic components Volume 4 covers a variety of methodological topics from a storytelling perspective Why a storytelling perspective Consider that a common business research goal is to convince others that what the researcher has to say matters If the researcher is a basic researcher who wishes to promote a theory the goal is to make a convincing case for the value of that theory If the researcher is an applied researcher who wishes to promote a particular application intervention or policy change the goal is likewise to make a convincing case Either way the researcher has a story to tell and the onus is on the researcher to tell the best possible story storytelling failures likely will result in a failure to convince others of the value of one s theory or application Here is where methodological issues come into play Poor methodology whether in the form of less than optimal study designs or invalid statistical analyses harms story quality In contrast high quality methods and statistics enhance story quality Moreover the larger one s methodological and statistical toolbox the greater the opportunities for researchers to tell effective stories The chapters in this book come from a wide variety of perspectives and should enhance researchers storytelling in the following ways By opening many different methodological and statistical perspectives researchers should be more able to think of research stories that otherwise would remain unavailable or inaccessible Secondly the present chapters should aid researchers in better executing their research stories Therefore researchers and graduate students will find this book an invaluable resource Volume 5 opens a window into the world of quantum storytelling as an organizational research methodology providing numerous exemplars of work in this storytelling science that has disrupted qualitative inquiry only with the intention of providing expanded improved and generative ways of understanding and knowing the narratives that emerge from qualitative interviews and observations during organizational research studies Knowledge and Belief

Frederick F. Schmitt, 2006-11-22 Knowledge from Plato onwards has been considered in relation to justified belief Current debate has centred around the nature of the justification and whether justified belief can be considered an internal or external matter Epistemological internalists argue that the subject must be able to reflect upon a belief to complete the process of justification The externalists on the other hand claim that it is only necessary to consider whether the belief is reliably formed and argue that the ability to know by reflection is not required for a justified belief In the historical section of this book the three most important epistemologists Plato Descartes and Hume as well as the ancient epistemologies of the stoics Academics and Pyrrhonians are considered In reconsidering the history of epistemology the author is led to argue against the view that internalism is historically dominant His critique of internalism is then developed into a sustained argument against many of its forms and he goes on to defend an externalist reliabilist epistemology Proceedings Society for Psychical Research, 1906 Proceedings of the Society for Psychical Research Society for Psychical Research (Great Britain), 1906 List of members in v 1 19 21 24 The Ancient Novel and Beyond Stelios Panayotakis, Maaike Zimmerman, Wytse Keulen, 2017-07-31 This volume comprises the revised versions of selected papers read at the International Conference on the Ancient Novel Groningen July 2000 The papers cover a wide range of scholarly issues that were prominent in the programme of the conference and feature the most recent approaches to research on the ancient novel The essays combine judicious use of literary theory with traditional scholarship and examine the ancient novels and related texts such as Oriental tales and Christian narrative both in their larger literary cultural and social context and as sources of inspiration for Byzantine and modern fiction This book is important not only for classicists and literary historians but also for a general public of those interested in narrative fiction A Sense of the World John Gibson, Wolfgang Huemer, Luca Pucci, 2012-11-12 A team of leading contributors from both philosophical and literary backgrounds have been brought together in this impressive book to examine how works of literary fiction can be a source of knowledge Together they analyze the important trends in this current popular debate The innovative feature of this volume is that it mixes work by literary theorists and scholars with work of analytic philosophers that combined together provide a comprehensive statement of the variety of ways in which works of fiction can engage questions of worldly interest It uses the problem of cognitive value to explore literature's contribution to ethical life literature's ability to engage in social and political critique the role narrative plays in opening up possibilities of moral aesthetic experience and selfhood This remarkable volume will attract the attention of both literature and philosophy scholars with its statement of the various ways that literature and life take an interest in one another How to Change Your View: Break Mental Barriers, Build Confidence, and Create
