Reflections A Thematic Reader:

Reflections William Hazzard Barnwell, Julie Price, 1985-03 Vain Rhetoric Gary D. Salyer, 2001-06-01 The Book of Ecclesiastes like many ancient and modern first person discourses generates ambivalent responses in its readers The book's rhetorical strategy produces both acceptance of and suspicion towards the major positions argued by the author Vain rhetoric aptly describes the persuasive and dissuasive properties of the narrator's peculiar characterization It also describes how the Book of Ecclesiastes with its abundant use of rhetorical questions constant gapping techniques and other strategies from the arsenal of ambiguity is a stunning testimony to the power of the various strategies of indirection to communicate to the reader something of his or her own rhetorical liabilities and limitations as well as those of the religious community in general The World As I Measure It: Volume Beta: An Autobiographical Reflection Larry Ashkenazy, Beta The World As I Measure It is a deeply personal reflection from the author behind a series of celebrated works This autobiography charts the life journey that influenced the creation of those books offering a unique glimpse into the major events and thoughts that shaped the author's intellectual path However it is not a companion or guide to their published works Instead this narrative stands apart sharing the milestones and experiences that led to the development of the ideas readers will find within the books themselves For those interested in the mind behind the words this is a revealing and thoughtful chronicle A Companion to the Philosophy of Literature Garry L. Hagberg, Walter Jost, 2015-02-16 This monumental collection of new and recent essays from an international team of eminent scholars represents the best contemporary critical thinking relating to both literary and philosophical studies of literature Helpfully groups essays into the field's main sub categories among them Relations Between Philosophy and Literature Emotional Engagement and the Experience of Reading Literature and the Moral Life and Literary Language Offers a combination of analytical precision and literary richness Represents an unparalleled work of reference for students and specialists alike ideal for course use The Opacity of Narrative Peter Lamarque, 2014-03-25 What is narrative What is distinctive about the great literary narratives In virtue of what is a narrative fictional or non fictional In this important new book Peter Lamarque one of the leading philosophers of literature at work today explores these and related questions to bring new clarity and insight to debates about narrative in philosophy critical theory and narratology He highlights opacity as a feature of literary narratives and examines the implications for our understanding of fictional worlds and fictional characters Throughout he challenges received views about narrative questioning the indispensability of narrative in an individual's self conception and the importance of both truth and emotion as measures of literary greatness He reflects on the non fiction novel arguing that it does not weaken the distinction between fiction and no fiction The book offers a compelling and original account of these and other issues making a critical contribution to topical and wide ranging debates Aesthetic and Philosophical Reflections on Mood Birgit Breidenbach, 2020-04-19 This study explores the concept of Stimmung in literary and philosophical texts of the modern age

Signifying both mood and attunement Stimmung speaks to the categories of affective experience and aesthetic design alike The study locates itself in the nexus between discourses on modernity existentialism and aesthetics and uncovers the pivotal role of Stimmung in 19th and 20th century European narrative fiction and continental philosophy The study first explores the philosophical and aesthetic origins and implications of Stimmung to then discuss its role in the narrative fiction of three key authors of modern literature Fyodor Dostoevsky Samuel Beckett and Thomas Bernhard These readings demonstrate a significant shift towards an aesthetic of affective intensity and immediacy in which the experience of the reading process takes centre stage as each author develops an aesthetic philosophy of Stimmung in their own right Through its focus on the concept of Stimmung the study thus unearths a fundamental link between existentialist concerns and narrative practice in modern literature

Reflections on Mind and the Image of Reality Jason Brown, 2017-05-24 This collection of brief essays and still briefer commentaries is a personal reflection on some topics that have been thematic in the development of my theoretical work These essays are not meant to extend the theory into yet uncharted territory but rather to draw out some of its implications for clinical neuroscience philosophy of mind and everyday life The point of view guiding these reflections can be found in prior works but the discerning reader will not fail to see a departure from current models of mind and brain based on circuit board diagrams modular and computational theories that conflict with a processual account in which the mind brain is more like a living organism This perspective which is often at odds with common sense and folk psychology has particular relevance to our concepts of the self the inner life subjective time adaptive process and the world represented in perception
