Regeneration And Employment A New Agenda For Tecs Communities And Partnerships:

Regeneration and Employment John Plummer, Tricia Zipfel, 1998 Efforts to tackle the problems of urban decay and disadvantage since 1985 have underlined the complexity of regeneration For instance unless improvement strategies include an economic dimension through training job creation support for local enterprise the benefits of regeneration in poor communities will be short lived This report explores the scope for collaboration and partnership between training and Enterprise Councils TECs and other organizations involved in area regeneration including social landlords local authorities the community and the voluntary sector All those concerned with making regeneration partnerships work more effectively should find this report interesting Town and Country Planning in the UK J. B. Cullingworth, Vincent Nadin, 2002 Town and Country Planning in the UK has become the bible of British planning It provides an explanation of the nature of planning the institutions and organisations involved the plans and other tools used by planners planning policies and more Town and Country Planning in the UK Barry Cullingworth, Vincent Nadin, 2003-09-02 Town and Country Planning in the UK has become the Bible of British planning In this new edition detailed consideration is given to the nature of planning and its historical evolution central and local government the EU and other agencies the framework of plans and other instruments development control land policy and planning gain environmental and countryside planning sustainable development waste and pollution heritage and transport planning urban policies and regeneration This twelfth edition has been completely revised and expanded to cover the whole of the UK The new edition explains more fully the planning policies and actions of the European Union and takes into account the implications of local government reorganization the plan led system and the growing interest in promoting sustainable development Regeneration in the 21st Century Michael Carley, 2000 Decades of regeneration activity have not halted the decline in prosperity and the social exclusion of sections of British society Starting in 1996 the Joseph Rowntree Foundation took action to assess the nature of this activity to discover what works and what does not and to search out examples of good practice Its Area Regeneration Programme covered every aspect of regeneration policy and practice from the national to the neighbourhood level from labour market analysis to community development Regeneration in the 21st century summarises the findings of the programme which include over 60 research studies It provides an overview of knowledge to date and identifies the key challenges that we face in the 21st century Analysed by specialists in each field the report considers the impact of geography and reputation on area disadvantage why community involvement is vital and how it can be implemented the effect of joblessness on regeneration and how it can be mitigated why and how some partnerships succeed the need for integration including between top down bottom up and national local initiatives vbTab vbTab Regeneration in the 21st century is vital reading for policy makers regeneration partnerships local regional and national and for anyone interested in the regeneration of Britain Rebuilding Community Joan Smith, 2001-10-10 Our poorest urban neighbourhoods experience economic and social difficulties that uniquely affect the lives of those who live there This volume examines the policies and initiatives now underway on both sides of the Atlantic to revitalize those areas With contributors from the US France and the UK the volume explains the nature of specific community building programmes and explores critical issues such as the role of partnerships and the importance of race and gender in urban regeneration

Employer Involvement in Area Regeneration Alan McGregor, 1999 It is generally agreed that the single greatest area of weakness in area regeneration is in the process of economic regeneration which involves reducing unemployment and increasing the number of paid jobs It is also clear that the long term unemployed face multiple disadvantages in trying to get into the labour market This new study fills a gap in our knowledge about the effectiveness of schemes developed to date which actively involve employers in targeting the employment problems of disadvantaged areas The authors look at 12 case studies of innovative projects drawing out general patterns and concerns for good practice They provide a review of the literature to date and an indispensable directory of different approaches to involving employers Employer involvement in area regeneration is essential reading for practitioners searching for solutions to solve employment problems in disadvantaged areas for academics and students involved in developing the theory and for all those involved in economic regeneration

Environment and Planning, 2004 Publishes interdisciplinary research on issues of Government and Policy with an international perspective Committed to a broad range of policy questions not just those related to government and public policy Topics covered include nonstate agents private public collaboration and NGOs nongovernmental organisations All areas of economic social and environmental institutions and policy are included Disciplines from which papers are derived include political science planning geography economics law sociology and public administration

Environment and Planning C., 2001 Challenge Funding, Contracts and Area Regeneration Stephen Hall, John Mawson, 1999 The report considers the lessons to be drawn from the experience of area regeneration in Britain and Europe It draws out lessons and implications for future developments

The Jobs Gap in Britain's Cities Ivan Turok, Nicola Edge, 1999 This unique report examines the uneven pattern of economic and employment change across Britain in the last two decades focusing on the 20 largest cities It explores how the workforce has responded eg through outmigration outcommuting and reduced economic participation and looks at the impact on recorded unemployment The authors argue that an understanding of these effects is vital to urban policy and area regeneration as well as to a range of national economic and social policies that are currently insensitive to geographical disparities The focus is at the city wide scale to provide the overview and essential context within which local and neighbourhood level processes and policies need to be located The report suggests that outmigration and outcommuting provide inadequate responses to urban economic problems and that a more thoroughgoing policy of employment expansion is needed The jobs gap in Britain's cities provides a clear and accessible analysis of employment trends and problems and has important implications for many different strands of economic and social policy including policies towards unemployment welfare reform urban regeneration and regional development It is important reading therefore for policy makers at national and local government levels researchers at various levels and teachers in universities and higher education Soziale Stadt — Zwischenbilanzen Uwe-Jens Walther,2013-10-05 Mit dem Programm Die Soziale Stadt reagiert der Staat auf Tendenzen sozialr umlicher Spaltung und Ausgrenzung Es soll wirtschaftliche wie soziale Abw rtsspiralen stoppen das Verwaltungshandeln wirksamer gestalten und b rgerschaftliche Potenziale mobilisieren Der Band liefert erste Einsch tztungen der neuen Praxis und diskutiert deutsche wie europ ische Beispiele ebenso wie Ver nderungen des Sozialstaates Er pr sentiert empirische Analysen und kritische Positionen der Stadtsoziologie als Zwischenbilanz zu einem aktuellen Handlungsfeld von Stadtpolitik und Stadtplanung

British National Bibliography for Report Literature ,1998-07 Local Partnership and Social Exclusion in the European Union John Benington, Mike Geddes,2013-12-16 This book explores local partnership based initiatives to tackle European wide problems of poverty and social exclusion A major comparative study of the fast developing theme of social exclusion the contributors look at its causes effects and at the ways it might be combatted Based on in depth cross national research from areas across Europe it provides a uniquely authoritative account of the complexities of policy development in the EU and will be invaluable to researchers in European studies politics and economics Urban Regeneration Through Partnership Michael Carley,2000 This report provides an in depth study of factors that influence the effectiveness of urban regeneration partnerships and how they work within the national policy context It highlights the key lessons of partnership exploring good practice in leadership visioning and consensus building and the translation of vision into workable objectives

Urban Regeneration in the UK Andrew Tallon,2013-06-07 Striking transformations are taking place in the urban landscape The regeneration of urban areas in the UK and around the world has become an increasingly important issue amongst governments and populations since the global economic downturn This textbook provides an accessible and critical synthesis of urban regeneration in the UK analyzing key policies approaches issues and debates It places the historical and contemporary regeneration agenda in context The second edition has been extensively revised and updated to incorporate advances in literature policy and case study examples as well as giving greater discussion to the New Labour period of urban policy and the urban agenda and regeneration policies of the Conservative Liberal Democrat Coalition government elected in 2010 The book is divided into five sections with Section I establishing the conceptual and political framework for urban regeneration in the UK Section II traces policies that have been adopted by central government to influence the social economic and physical development of cities including early town and country and housing initiatives community focused urban policies of the late 1960s entrepreneurial property led regeneration of the 1980s competition for urban funds in the 1990s urban renaissance and neighborhood renewal policies of the late 1990s and early 2000s and new approaches since 2010 which have sought to stimulate enterprise and embrace localism in an age of austerity resulting from the global economic downturn Section III illustrates the key thematic policies and strategies that have been pursued by cities themselves focusing particularly on improving economic competitiveness tackling social disadvantage and promoting sustainable urban regeneration Section IV summarizes key issues and debates facing urban regeneration in the early 2010s and speculates upon future directions in an era of economic and political uncertainty Urban Regeneration in the UK combines the approaches taken by central government and cities themselves to regenerate urban areas providing a comprehensive and up to date synthesis of the field Each chapter also contains case studies study questions suggested further reading and websites making this an essential resource for undergraduate students interested in Urban Studies Geography Planning and the Built Environment

The Role of Historic Buildings in Urban Regeneration Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. ODPM: Housing, Planning, Local Government and the Regions Committee, 2004 The Committee's report examines the contribution of historic buildings to urban regeneration the role and effectiveness of public agencies responsible for the built environment the impact of the planning system and listing of historic buildings on urban regeneration the role played by government departments to promote the historic environment and fiscal and legislative reform options The Committee concludes that regenerating historic buildings can reinforce a sense of local community and act as a catalyst for urban regeneration However historic buildings cannot be retained as relics of a bygone age but new uses and sensitive adaptations allowed where the original use is no longer viable The report highlights the shortage of conservation officers and the skills deficit in knowledge of regeneration and funding issues It also call on the DCMS and the ODPM to working more closely together on their cross cutting responsibilities in order to boost the potential contributions made by historic buildings to the local economy The current planning system is also criticised for causing delays and uncertainty with developers being subject to as many as nine different regimes including planning controls listed building consent and conservation area controls
