Brown,1996-01-01 At its height British toymaking was a significant industry with famous names such as Britains and Meccano known throughout the world While in essence a specialised form of small scale engineering its products and market have always been unique reflecting the current priorities of both parents and children Yet while individual toys and marques have been catalogued extensively no previous history of toymaking as a whole exists The British Toy Business provides a fascinating example of the development of a specific industry Many early early toys were home made From the eighteenth century with its growing recognition of children as something other than small adults date the beginnings of specialised toys usually produced by small workshops and sold by street sellers The nineteenth century with its industrial growth and middle class prosperity saw an expansion of toymaking The 1960s and 1970s were the most successful years of British toymaking with companies like Lesney making record profits Yet British toy makers failed to solve a number of fundamental problems Following an unexpected sudden downturn in sales at a time of high interest rates the major names in British toy making Lesney Airfix Mettoy and Dunbee Combex Marx all collapsed between 1979 and 1985 leaving the business to be dominated largely by importers Remembering the Cultural Geographies of a Childhood Home Peter Hughes Jachimiak,2016-04-08 Using an innovative auto ethnographic approach to investigate the otherness of the places that make up the childhood home and its neighbourhood in relation to memory derived and memory imbued cultural geographies Remembering the Cultural Geographies of a Childhood Home is concerned with childhood spaces and children s perspectives of those spaces and consequentially with the personalised locations that make up the childhood family home and its immediate surroundings such as the garden the street etc Whilst this book is primarily structured by the author s memories of living in his own Welsh childhood home during the 1970s that is the auto ethnographic framework it is as much about living anywhere amid the remembered cultural remnants of the past as it is immersing oneself in cultural geographies of the here and now As a result Remembering the Cultural Geographies of a Childhood Home is part of the ongoing pursuit by cultural geographers to provide a personal exploration of the pluralities of shared landscapes whereby such an engagement with space and place aid our construction of cognitive maps of meaning that in turn manifest themselves as both individual and collective cultural experiences Furthermore touching upon our co habiting of ghost topologies Remembering the Cultural Geographies of a Childhood Home also encourages a critical exploration of children s spirituality amid the haunted cultural and geographical spaces and places of a house and its neighbourhood the cellar hallway parlour stairs bedroom attic shops cemeteries and so on
