limitations is it subject to and what can it achieve within our world Arthur Marwick tackles these issues head on with a both detailed and eclectic account of the Arts in the West since the Second World War He looks at the full range of possible candidates for the category of Art from both elite and popular cultures from high literature to pulp fiction from art house cinema to soap opera Art Music to Rock and Pop This book looks at the fascinating diversity of twentieth century art in the context of the social technological and political events movements and developments that have shaped our history such as the holocaust the television feminism Marwick examines how these factors have affected the cultural output of Western society since 1945 and in turn how art has fed back its own agenda and priorities into this society Pelican Tracks Elton Glaser, 2003-03-12 Pelican Tracks is a book of poems with a homing instinct Elton Glaser travels a restless circuit between his native Louisiana and his adopted home of Ohio from the spice and license of the lowlands to the streets of Akron cobbled in ice These reflections leavened with a fierce wit and moving bravura of language are extracted from the origins and ends of the poet's life his birth in the final spasms of the second World War the fears and excitements of youth the death of parents and the unexpected losses of adulthood Marking his tracks between the Pelican State and the Buckeye State Glaser records the damaged beauty of everything sinking everything rising again in the mind Thumbscrew, 1999 Something We Have That They Don't Steve & Mark Clark & Ford, Steven H. Clark, 2004-04 There is some connexion I like the way the English spell it They're so clever about some things Probably smarter generally than we are Although there is supposed to be something We have that they don't don't ask me What it is John Ashbery Tenth Symphony Something We Have That They Don't presents a variety of essays on the relationship between British and American poetry since 1925 The essays collected here all explore some aspect of the rich and complex history of Anglo American poetic relations of the last seventy years Since the dawn of Modernism poets either side of the Atlantic have frequently inspired each other's developments from Frost's galvanizing advice to Edward Thomas to rearrange his prose as verse to Eliot's and Auden's enormous influence on the poetry of their adopted nations whichever Auden is Eliot once replied when asked if he were a British or an American poet I suppose I must be the other from the impact of Charles Olson and other Black Mountain poets on J H Prynne and the Cambridge School to the widespread influence of Frank O'Hara and Robert Lowell on a diverse range of contemporary British poets Clark and Ford's study aims to chart some of the currents of these ever shifting relations Poets discussed in these essays include John Ashbery W H Auden Elizabeth Bishop T S Eliot Mark Ford Robert Graves Thom Gunn Lee Harwood Geoffrey Hill Michael Hofmann Susan Howe Robert Lowell and W B Yeats Poetry and sovereignty Philip Larkin remarked in an interview of 1982 are very primitive things these essays consider the ways in which even seemingly very unprimitive poetries can be seen as reflecting and engaging with issues of national sovereignty and self interest and in the process they pose a series of fascinating questions about the national narratives that currently dominate definitions of the British and American poetic traditions This innovative and exciting new collection will be of great interest to students and scholars of

British and American poetry and comparative literature      Beyond the Threshold Hein Viljoen, C. N. Van der Merwe, 2007
 What happens when we cross a significant boundary We step into an unsettling in between zone where we have to abandon accepted structures and truths Yet this liminal zone can also open up possibilities for inner transformation leading to the birth of a new sense of fellowship Since 1994 South Africans have been experiencing the anxieties of old structures breaking down and of new ones being built a process that South African authors have been powerfully representing and questioning Beyond the Threshold analyzes the transformative powers of liminal states and hybridizing processes in literature Its authors discuss a wide range of intriguing liminal characters dangerous liminal situations and unique transformations in recent books mainly from South Africa These books tell the compelling stories of marginal characters giving their stories moral authority while exploring their transformative possibilities From publisher      Cruelty or Humanity Rees, Stuart, 2020-09-23 Cruelty has long been a feature of states domestic and foreign policies but is seldom acknowledged Governments mouth respect for human rights yet promote discrimination violence and suppression of critics Documenting case studies from around the world distinguished academic and human rights activist Stuart Rees exposes politicians cruel motives and the resulting outcomes Using his first hand observations and insights from international poets he argues for courageous action to support non violence in every aspect of public and private life for the survival of people animals and the planet      The Facts on File Companion to World Poetry R. Victoria Arana, 2008 The Facts On File Companion to World Poetry 1900 to the Present is a comprehensive introduction to 20th and 21st century world poets and their most famous most distinctive and most influential poems      J.M. Coetzee and the Paradox of Postcolonial Authorship Jane Poyner, 2016-05-06 In her analysis of the South African novelist J M Coetzee s literary and intellectual career Jane Poyner illuminates the author s abiding preoccupation with what Poyner calls the paradox of postcolonial authorship Writers of conscience or conscience stricken writers of the kind Coetzee portrays whilst striving symbolically to bring the stories of the marginal and the oppressed to light always risk reimposing the very authority they seek to challenge From Dusklands to Diary of a Bad Year Poyner traces how Coetzee rehearses and revises his understanding of the ethics of intellectualism in parallel with the emergence of the new South Africa She contends that Coetzee s modernist aesthetics facilitate a more exacting critique of the problems that encumber postcolonial authorship including the authority it necessarily engenders Poyner is attentive to the ways Coetzee s writing addresses the writer s proper role with respect to the changing ethical demands of contemporary political life Theoretically sophisticated and accessible her book is a major contribution to our understanding of the Nobel Laureate and to postcolonial studies      Stand Magazine ,1999      Teaching Human Rights in Literary and Cultural Studies Alexandra Schultheis Moore, Elizabeth Swanson Goldberg, 2015-11-01 Since the adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights of 1948 the discourse of human rights has expanded to include not just civil and political rights but economic social cultural and most recently collective rights Given their broad scope human rights issues are useful touchstones in the humanities classroom and benefit from an interdisciplinary and cross cultural pedagogy in which objects of study are situated in historical legal philosophical literary and rhetorical contexts Teaching Human Rights in Literary and Cultural Studies is a sourcebook of inventive approaches and best practices for teachers looking to make human rights the focus of their undergraduate and graduate courses Contributors first explore what it means to be human and conceptual issues such as law and the state Next they approach human rights and related social justice issues from the perspectives of particular geographic regions and historical eras through the lens of genre and in relation to specific rights violations for example storytelling and testimonio in Latin America or poetry created in the aftermath of the Armenian genocide Essays then describe efforts to cultivate students capacity for ethical reading practices and to deepen their understanding of the stakes and artistic dimensions of human rights representations drawing on active learning and experimental class contexts The final section on resources directs readers to further readings in history criticism theory and literary and visual studies and provides a chronology of human rights legal documents
