Scene Of My Selves:

The Scene of My Selves Terence Diggory, Stephen Paul Miller, 2001 This volume collects critical essays on the generation of New York School poets who emerged in the 1950s From book cover Scenes and Characters Illustrating Christian Truth: Trial and self-discipline, by S. Savage Henry Ware, 1835 A Social Theory of Freedom Mariam Thalos, 2016-03-17 In A Social Theory of Freedom Mariam Thalos argues that the theory of human freedom should be a broadly social and political theory rather than a theory that places itself in opposition to the issue of determinism Thalos rejects the premise that a theory of freedom is fundamentally a theory of the metaphysics of constraint and instead lays out a political conception of freedom that is closely aligned with questions of social identity self development in contexts of intimate relationships and social solidarity Thalos argues that whether a person is free in any context depends upon a certain relationship of fit between that agent's conception of themselves both present and future on the one hand and the facts of their circumstances on the other Since relationships of fit are broadly logical freedom is a logic it is the logic of fit between one's aspirations and one's circumstances what Thalos calls the logic of agency The logic of agency once fleshed out becomes a broadly social and political theory that encompasses one's self conceptions as well as how these self conceptions are generated together with how they fit with the circumstances of one's life The theory of freedom proposed in this volume is fundamentally a political one Beautiful Enemies Andrew Epstein, 2006-09-21 Although it has long been commonplace to imagine the archetypal American poet singing a solitary Song of Myself much of the most enduring American poetry has actually been preoccupied with the drama of friendship In this lucid and absorbing study Andrew Epstein argues that an obsession with both the pleasures and problems of friendship erupts in the New American Poetry that emerges after the Second World War By focusing on some of the most significant postmodernist American poets the New York School poets John Ashbery Frank O'Hara and their close contemporary Amiri Baraka Beautiful Enemies reveals a fundamental paradox at the heart of postwar American poetry and culture the avant garde's commitment to individualism and nonconformity runs directly counter to its own valorization of community and collaboration In fact Epstein demonstrates that the clash between friendship and nonconformity complicates the legendary alliances forged by postwar poets becomes a predominant theme in the poetry they created and leaves contemporary writers with a complicated legacy to negotiate Rather than simply celebrating friendship and poetic community as nurturing and inspiring these poets represent friendship as a kind of exhilarating maddening contradiction a site of attraction and repulsion affinity and rivalry Challenging both the reductive critiques of American individualism and the idealized heavily biographical celebrations of literary camaraderie one finds in much critical discussion this book provides a new interpretation of the peculiar dynamics of American avant garde poetic communities and the role of the individual within them By situating his extensive and revealing readings of these highly influential poets against the backdrop of Cold War cultural politics and within the context of American pragmatist thought Epstein uncovers the collision between radical self reliance and the siren call of the interpersonal at the core of postwar American poetry      The Female Sublime from Milton to Swinburne Catherine Maxwell, 2001 This innovative study of vision gender and poetry traces Milton's mark on Shelley Tennyson Browning and Swinburne to show how the lyric male poet achieves vision at the cost of symbolic blindness and feminisation Drawing together a wide range of concerns including the use of myth the gender of the sublime the lyric fragment and the relation of pain to creativity this book is a major re evaluation of the male poet and the making of the English poetic tradition The female sublime from Milton to Swinburne examines the feminisation of the post Miltonic male poet not through cultural history but through a series of mythic or classical figures which include Philomela Orpheus and Sappho It recovers a disfiguring sublime imagined as an aggressive female force which feminises the male poet in an act that simultaneously deprives and energises him This book will be required reading for anyone with a serious interest in the English poetic tradition and Victorian poetry      School-Shakspeare; Or, Plays and Scenes from Shakspeare ... William Shakespeare, John Rogers Pitman, 1834      Ballou's Monthly Magazine , 1878      Death-bed scenes, and pastoral conversations, by John Warton, ed. by his sons William Wood, 1830      Death-bed Scenes, and Pastoral Conversations. The Fourth Edition. [By William Wood, Vicar of Fulham.] , 1830      Outfits I've Regretted and Other Romantic Missteps Fran Preston, Before the awkward silences before the weird text exchanges before you accidentally wave at the waiter instead of your date there's the outfit And the overthinking And the slow creeping dread that you've somehow got it all wrong In Outfits I've Regretted and Other Romantic Missteps Fran Preston takes us on a deeply relatable journey through the wardrobe malfunctions grooming gambles and questionable choices that come before the date even begins Part cautionary tale part pep talk this is a guide for anyone who's ever changed five times cried once and left the house anyway From the perils of wearing new shoes on a walking date to the emotional fallout of a bold lip gone rogue Fran unpacks the often overlooked chaos of dating prep with wit warmth and the comforting reminder that we're all just trying to look normal while internally screaming Because behind every casual and effortless first date is a person who absolutely panicked in a changing room      European Slavery; Or, Scenes from Married Life Clephane Rose, 1881      Frank Fairleigh: Scenes from the Life of a Private Pupil Frank E.
