Scenes From The Secret Garden Little Brown Notebook:

Murder in the Secret Garden Ellery Adams, 2016-08-02 Things really go to seed in the newest novel in the New York Times bestselling Book Retreat mysteries There is a hidden garden bordering the grounds of Jane Steward's book themed resort a garden filled with beautiful but deadly plants such as mandrake and nightshade Tucked away behind ivy covered walls and accessible only through a single locked door as described in the pages of Frances Hodges Burnett's classic novel the garden is of special interest to Jane's current group of guests The Medieval Herbalists But when one of them turns up dead Jane must discover whether a member of the group has come to Storyton Hall to celebrate their passion for plant lore or to implement a particularly cruel means for murder With thousands of books at her disposal Jane believes she has the proper materials to solve this deadly problem If she's wrong however she may lose something far more precious than the contents of Storyton's secret library Write All about it Dona Herweck, Dona Rice, 1993 Madness, Art, and Society

Anna Harpin, 2018-01-19 How is madness experienced treated and represented How might art think around and beyond psychiatric definitions of illness and wellbeing Madness Art and Society engages with artistic practices from theatre and live art to graphic fiction charting a multiplicity of ways of thinking critically with rather than about non normative psychological experience It is organised into two parts Structures psychiatrists institutions treatments illuminates the environments figures and primary models of psychiatric care reconsidering their history and contemporary manifestations through case studies including David Edgar's Mary Barnes and Milos Forman's One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest Experiences realities bodies moods problematises diagnostic categories and proposes more radically open models of thinking in relation to experiences of madness touching upon works such as Richard Kelly's Donnie Darko and Duncan Macmillan's People Places and Things Reading its case studies as a counter discourse to orthodox psychiatry Madness Art and Society seeks a more nuanced understanding of the plurality of madness in society and in so doing offers an outstanding resource for students and scholars alike Voices from Captivity Robert C. Doyle, 1994 Doyle shows that though setting and circumstances may change POW stories share a common structure and are driven by similar themes Capture incarceration isolation propaganda torture capitulation or resistance death spiritual quest escape liberation and repatriation are recurrent key motifs in these narratives
