in the Renaissance      Serving Byzantium's Emperors Dimitris Krallis, 2019-01-31 This book is a microhistory of eleventh century Byzantium built around the biography of the state official Michael Attaleiates Dimitris Krallis presents Byzantium as a cohesive ever evolving dynamic Roman political community built on traditions of Roman governance and Hellenic culture In the eleventh century Byzantium faced a crisis as it navigated a shifting international environment of feudal polities merchant republics steppe migrations and a rapidly transforming Islamic world Attaleiates life from provincial birth to Constantinopolitan death and career as a member of an ancient empire s officialdom raise questions of identity family education governance elite culture Romanness Hellenism science and skepticism as well as political ideology during this period The life and work of Attaleiates is used as a prism through which to examine important questions about a long lived medieval polity that is usually studied as exotic and distinct from both the European and the Near Eastern historical experience      Brill's Companion to Ancient Greek Scholarship (2 Vols.) Franco Montanari, Stefanos Matthaios, Antonios Rengakos, 2015-05-12 Brill s Companion to Ancient Greek Scholarship aims at providing a reference work in the field of ancient Greek and Byzantine scholarship and grammar thus encompassing the broad and multifaceted philological and linguistic research activity during the entire Greek Antiquity and the Middle Ages The first part of the volume offers a thorough historical overview of ancient scholarship which covers the period from its very beginnings to the Byzantine era The second part focuses on the disciplinary profile of ancient scholarship by investigating its main scientific topics The third and final part presents the particular work of ancient scholars in various philological and linguistic matters and also examines the place of scholarship and grammar from an interdisciplinary point of view especially from their interrelation with rhetoric philosophy medicine and nature sciences      Hebrew Scholarship and the Medieval World Nicholas de Lange, 2001-03-26 This book surveys what has been achieved in recent research on medieval Hebrew language and texts      Bibliophilos Charalambos Dendrinos, Ilias Giarenis, 2021-06-08 The present volume is a Festschrift in honour of the distinguished Byzantinist Costas N Constantinides The title of the volume Bibliophilos Books and Learning in the Byzantine World reflects Professor Constantinides major contribution to the fields of Greek palaeography editions of Byzantine texts Byzantine history scholarship and education and Cypriot manuscripts and culture The volume is introduced by a preface and a tabula gratulatoria dedicated to the honorand followed by twenty articles written by seasoned and younger scholars who are former colleagues and students of Professor Constantinides These articles which appear in alphabetical order offer new material and shed fresh light to the study of Greek manuscripts binders and scribes and the life works and activities of Byzantine scholars teachers and students providing editions of unpublished texts including letters and poems and exploring various aspects of Byzantine and Cypriot history literature art science and culture In the process the authors often challenge earlier views and offer new interpretations and insights Bibliophilos is a book for the student teacher and scholar of Byzantium in particular and for every bibliophile in general      Karaite Judaism and Historical Understanding

Fred Astren, 2004 Examines the changing relationship of this Jewish sect to rabbinic Judaism and the influence of Muslim and Christian environments Notions of history and the past contained in literature of the Karaite Jewish sect offer insight into the relationship of Karaism to mainstream rabbinic Judaism and to Islam and Christianity Karaite Judaism and Historical Understanding describes how a minority sectarian religious community constructs and uses historical ideology It investigates the proportioning of historical ideology to law and doctrine and the influence of historical setting on religious writings about the past In the present volume Fred Astren discusses modes of representing the past especially in Jewish culture and then poses questions about the past in sectarian particularly Judaic sectarian contexts He contrasts early Karaite scripturalism with the literature of rabbinic Judaism which embodying historical views that carry a moralistic burden draws upon the chain of tradition to suppose a generation to generation transmission of divine knowledge and authority Karaites in the medieval Islamic world eschewed historical thinking in concert with their rejection of the rabbinic concept of tradition One important medieval Karaite al Qirqisani however constructed a sophisticated historical argument as part of his philosophical exposition of Karaism demonstrating theological and philosophical strategies common in Islam and Christianity The center of Karaism shifted to the Byzantine Turkish world during the twelfth through sixteenth centuries when a new historical outlook unoblivious of the past accommodated legal developments influenced by rabbinic thought Reconstructing Karaite historical expression from both published works and previously unexamined manuscripts Astren shows that Karaites relied on rabbinic literature to extract and compile historical data for their own readings of Jewish history which they recorded in an encyclopedic literature similar to contemporary Byzantine Christian Orthodox writing Astren documents how as the Karaites moved toward a concept of tradition and echoed rabbinic historical formulations they developed a version of the chain of tradition to link archaic biblical history to their own community During the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries Karaite scholars in Poland and Lithuania collated and harmonized historical materials inherited from their Middle Eastern predecessors Astren portrays the way that Karaites with some influence from Jewish Renaissance historiography and impelled by features of Protestant Catholic discourse prepared complete literary historical works that maintained their Jewishness while offering a Karaite reading of Jewish history

Framing the Early Middle Ages Chris Wickham,2005-09-22 The Roman empire tends to be seen as a whole whereas the early middle ages tends to be seen as a collection of regional histories roughly corresponding to the land areas of modern nation states As a result early medieval history is much more fragmented and there have been few convincing syntheses of socio economic change in the post Roman world since the 1930s In recent decades the rise of early medieval archaeology has also transformed our source base but this has not been adequately integrated into analyses of documentary history in almost any country In Framing the Early Middle Ages Chris Wickham combines documentary and archaeological evidence to create a comparative history of the period 400 800 His analysis embraces each of the regions of the late Roman and immediately post Roman world from Denmark to Egypt The book concentrates on classic socio economic themes state finance the wealth and identity of the aristocracy estate management peasant society rural settlement cities and exchange These give only a partial picture of the period but they frame and explain other developments Earlier syntheses have taken the development of a single region as typical with divergent developments presented as exceptions This book takes all different developments as typical and aims to construct a synthesis based on a better understanding of difference and the reasons for it Greek Myth and Western Art Karl Kilinski, 2013 This richly illustrated book examines the legacy of Greek mythology in Western art from the classical era to the present Tracing the emergence survival and transformation of key mythological figures and motifs from ancient Greece through the modern era it explores the enduring importance of such myths for artists and viewers in their own time and over the millennia that followed Finding, Inheriting or Borrowing? Jochen Althoff, Dominik Berrens, Tanja Pommerening, 2019-03-20 Since the dawn of humanity people have developed concepts about themselves and the natural world in which they live This volume aims at investigating the construction and transfer of such concepts between and within various ancient and medieval cultures The single contributions try to answer questions concerning the sources of knowledge the strategies of transfer and legitimation as well as the conceptual changes over time and space After a comprehensive introduction the volume is divided into three parts The contributions of the first section treat various theoretical and methodological aspects Two additional thematic sections deal with a special field of knowledge i e concepts of the moon and of the end of the world in fire
