Shadow Girl A Memoir Of Attachment The Iowa Series:

Shadow Girl Deb Abramson, 2005-04 In this psychological portrait of a devout Jewish family bound together by the uneasy permutations of love Deb Abramson relies not on sensationalist narrative but on a collection of the many small moments that glitter along the bumpy path of her life As the good little girl in an unhappy family who hid her darker troubles Abramson felt like she was living with another girl a shadowy being who would neither leave nor make herself known Her struggle to extricate herself from the impermeable immutable knot of her family forms the heart of her dazzling book Memoirs of a Revolutionary Victor Serge, 2002-11-08 The Body of Brooklyn David Lazar, 2003 Even before the controversy that surrounded the publication of A Million Little Pieces the question of truth has been at the heart of memoir From Elie Wiesel to Benjamin Wilkomirski to David Sedaris the veracity of writers claims has been suspect In this fascinating and timely collection of essays leading writers meditate on the subject of truth in literary nonfiction As David Lazar writes in his introduction How do we verify Do we care to Do we dare to eat the apple of knowledge and say it s true Or is it a peach Do we choose to Is it a subcategory of faith How do you respond when someone says This is really true Why do they choose to say it then The past and the truth are slippery things and the art of non fiction writing requires the writer to shape as well as explore In personal essays meditations on the nature of memory considerations of the genres of memoir prose poetry essay fiction and film the contributors to this provocative collection attempt to find answers to the question of what truth in nonfiction means Contributors John D Agata Mark Doty Su Friedrich Joanna Frueh Ray Gonz lez Vivian Gornick Barbara Hammer Kathryn Harrison Marianne Hirsch Wayne Koestenbaum Leonard Kriegel David Lazar Alphonso Lingis Paul Lisicky Nancy Mairs Nancy K Miller Judith Ortiz Cofer Phyllis Rose Oliver Sacks David Shields and Leo Spitzer Little Big World Jeffrey Hammond, 2010-04-15 Collections are more about who one is than about what is collected In Little Big World Jeffrey Hammond s resonant 1950 s inner child speaks through the reflective sixty something man about the culture and magic of a spectrum of action figure playsets through a lifetime Marilyn Gelfman Karp author In Flagrante Collecto Stories We Tell Ourselves Michelle Herman, 2013-03-15 The two thought provoking extended essays that make up Stories We Tell Ourselves draw from the author s richly diverse experiences and history taking the reader on a deeply pleasurable walk to several unexpectedly profound destinations A steady accumulation of fascinating science psychoanalytic theory and cultural history ranging as far and wide as neuro ophthalmology ancient dream interpretation and the essential differences between Jung and Freud is smoothly intermixed with vivid anecdotes entertaining digressions and a disarming willingness to risk everything in the course of a revealing personal narrative Dream Life plumbs the depth of dreams conceptually biologically and as the nursery of our most meaningful metaphors as it considers dreams and dreaming every whichway from the haruspicy of the Roman Empire to contemporary sleep and dream science from the way birds dream to the way babies do from our longing to tell them to the reasons we wish other people wouldn t Seeing Things recounts a journey of mother and daughter a Holmes and Watson pair intrepidly working their way through the mysteries of a disorder known as Alice in Wonderland Syndrome even as it restlessly detours into the world beyond the looking glass of the unconscious itself In essays that constantly offer layers of surprises and ever deeper insights the author turns a powerful lens on the relationships that make up a family on expertise and unsatisfying diagnoses on science and art and the pleasures of contemplation and inquiry and on our fears regrets hopes and of course dreams

In the Memory of the Map Christopher Norment, 2012-03-15 Throughout his life maps have been a source of imagination and wonder for Christopher Norment Mesmerized by them since the age of eight or nine he found himself courted and seduced by maps which served functional and allegorical roles in showing him worlds that he might come to know and helping him understand worlds that he had already explored Maps may have been the stuff of his dreams but they sometimes drew him away from places where he should have remained firmly rooted In the Memory of the Map explores the complex relationship among maps memory and experience what might be called a cartographical psychology or cartographical history Interweaving a personal narrative structured around a variety of maps with stories about maps as told by scholars poets and fiction writers this book provides a dazzlingly rich personal and intellectual account of what many of us take for granted A dialog between desire and the maps of his life an exploration of the pleasures utilitarian purposes benefits and character of maps this rich and powerful personal narrative is the matrix in which Norment embeds an exploration of how maps function in all our lives Page by page readers will confront the aesthetics mystery function power and shortcomings of maps causing them to reconsider the role that maps play in their lives

Anthropologies Beth Alvarado, 2011-09-03 A vivid archive of memories Beth Alvarado's Anthropologies layers scenes portraits dreams and narratives in a dynamic cross cultural mosaic Bringing her lyrical tenor to bear on stories as diverse as harboring teen runaways gunfights with federales and improbable love Alvarado unveils the ways in which seemingly separate moments coalesce to forge a communal truth Woven from the threads of distinct family histories and ethnic identities Anthropologies creates a heightened understanding of how individual experiences are part of a larger shared fabric of lives Like the opening of a series of doors each turn of the page reveals some new reality and the memories that emerge from it Open one door and you are transported to a modest Colorado town in 1966 appraising animal tracks edged into a crust of snow while listening to stories of Saipan Open another and you are lounging in a lush Michoacán hacienda or in another the year is 1927 and you are standing on a porch in Tucson watching La Llorona turn a corner With vivid imagery and a poetic sensibility Anthropologies reenacts the process of remembering and so evokes a compelling narrative Each snapshot provides a glimpse into the past illuminating the ways in which memory and history are intertwined Whether the experience is of her own drug use or that of a great great grandmother's trek across the Great Plains with Brigham Young Alvarado's insight into the binding nature of memory illuminates a new way of understanding our place within families generations and cultures

The Desert Year Joseph Wood Krutch, 2010-04-15 Originally published New York W Sloane

Associates c1952 Happenstance Robert Root,2013-11-01 Reflecting on how a student's parents met because of a fly ball to center field in a summer softball game author Robert Root wondered how the lives of that student's parents and of the student himself would have changed had the batter bunted or struck out Haunted by this pure example of happenstance he began to ponder his own existence dependent in part on geology the Niagara Escarpment and history the Erie Canal He wondered how happenstance had influenced the course of his parents' lives in particular their marriages they married and divorced each other twice and consequently the shaping of his identity Happenstance investigates the effects of that phenomenon and choice on one man's life Root explores this theme in interwoven strands of narrative interpretation and reflection One strand The Hundred Days follows his attempt to write one hundred journal entries each about a different day in his life to recover memories of specific moments or collections of moments In the strand headed Album he examines and interprets old family photographs in light of the way he reads them in the present as someone now privy to a family secret that directed his and his siblings' lives without their knowledge Interspersed among these brief interpretations and narratives are reflections on happenstance and choice a sequence contemplating their effect on his life and perhaps on all our lives Through juxtaposition and accumulation the book's incremental unraveling of meaning imitates the process of unexpected epiphanies and gradual self discovery in anyone's life By revisiting individual days giving voice to photographs that mutely preserve family moments and reflecting on the way happenstance and choice determine the directions lives take Robert Root generates a meditation on identity anchored in an album in words and images of a mid twentieth century life On the Shoreline of Knowledge Chris Arthur,2012-08-15 The carefully crafted meditative essays in On the Shoreline of Knowledge sometimes start from unlikely objects or thoughts a pencil or some fragments of commonplace conversation but they soon lead the reader to consider fundamental themes in human experience The unexpected circumnavigation of the ordinary unerringly gets to the heart of the matter Bringing a diverse range of material into play from fifteenth century Japanese Zen Buddhism to how we look at paintings and from the nature of a briefcase to the ancient nest sites of gyrfalcons Chris Arthur reveals the extraordinary dimensions woven invisibly into the ordinary things around us Compared to Loren Eiseley George Eliot Seamus Heaney Aldo Leopold V S Naipaul W G Sebald W B Yeats and other literary luminaries he is a master essayist whose work has quietly been gathering an impressive cargo of critical acclaim Arthur speaks with an Irish accent rooting the book in his own unique vision of the world but he addresses elemental issues of life and death love and loss that circle the world and entwine us all The Great Chain of Life Joseph Wood Krutch,2005-08 Originally published in 1956 The Great Chain of Life brings a humanist's keen eye and ear to one of the great questions of the ages What am I Originally a scholar of literature and theater toward the end of his career Joseph Wood Krutch turned to the study of the natural world Bringing his keen intellect to bear on the places around him Krutch crafted some of the most memorable and important works of nature writing extant Whether anticipating the arguments of biologists who now ascribe high levels of cognition to the so called lower animals recognizing the importance of nature for a well lived life or seeing nature as an elaborately interconnected interdependent network Krutch s seminal work contains lessons just as resonant today as they were when the book was first written Lavishly illustrated with thirteen beautiful woodcuts by Paul Landacre an all but lost yet important Los Angeles artist whom Rockwell Kent called the best American wood engraver working The Great Chain of Life will be cherished by new generations of readers

Letters to Kate Carl H. Klaus,2006-04 Sorrow is not a state but a process that needs not a map but a history There is something new to be chronicled every day writes C S Lewis in A Grief Observed When Carl Klaus s wife of thirty five years died suddenly from a cerebral hemorrhage right before Thanksgiving in 2002 he took the only road toward recovery that made sense to him he started writing letters to her producing a unique history of grief solace and love His vivid and thoughtful letters will resonate with everyone whose loss confronts them with emotional psychological and philosophical questions for which there are no easy answers During his first year without Kate Carl writes himself into the life that comes after the life he loved From days of grief in the darkness of a midwestern winter to springtime with a return to life in the garden and a memorial service for Kate on a sunny afternoon to fall with a pilgrimage to their favorite vacation spot in Hawaii Carl documents his year long experience of remembering meditating and evolving a new life Individually his letters provide the insights of a master diarist collectively they have the arc of a master essayist Recording the full range of mourning from intense shock to moments of exceptional affirmation Klaus s stories and reflections on loss bear witness to universal truths about the first and most significant year of mourning

Shadow Girl Deb Abramson,2000 As the good little girl in an unhappy family who hid her darker troubles Deb Abramson felt like she was living with another girl a shadowy being who would neither leave nor make herself known Crushed beneath the burden of her parents rigid expectations yet driven to satisfy their needs Abramson becomes bulimic then severely depressed and suicidal retreating more and more from the troubling outside world to the seeming haven of home to a cycle of comfort from and competition with her depressed mother to the frightening but alluring intimacy of her father s affections Her struggle to extricate herself from the impermeable immutable knot of her family forms the heart of her dazzling book In this psychological portrait of a family bound together by the uneasy permutations of love Abramson relies not on sensationalist narrative but on a collection of the many small moments that glitter along the bumpy path of her life Now and then she provides a broader connecting perspective by stepping out of her story to reflect on the meaning of it all from the standpoint of the insightful healed person she has managed against all odds to become Rich in metaphor and intimate detail this is a lyrical story about moving from isolation toward connection about seeing childhood not as a crippling refuge but as a point of departure about discovering that it is possible to have your shadows as well as your light

Running to the Fire Tim Bascom,2015-04-01 In the streets of Addis Ababa in 1977 shop front posters illustrate Uncle Sam being strangled by an Ethiopian revolutionary parliamentary leaders are executed student protesters are gunned down and Christian mission converts are targeted as imperialistic sympathizers Into this world arrives sixteen year old Tim Bascom whose missionary parents have brought their family from a small town in Kansas straight into Colonel Mengistu's Marxist Red Terror Here they plan to work alongside a tiny remnant of western missionaries who trust that God will somehow keep them safe Running to the Fire focuses on the turbulent year the Bascom family experienced upon traveling into revolutionary Ethiopia The teenage Bascom finds a paradoxical exhilaration in living so close to constant danger At boarding school in Addis Ababa where dorm parents demand morning devotions and forbid dancing Bascom bonds with other youth due to a shared sense of threat He falls in love for the first time but the young couple is soon separated by the politics that affect all their lives Across the country missionaries are being held under house arrest while communist cadres seize their hospitals and schools A friend's father is imprisoned as a suspected CIA agent another is killed by raiding Somalis Throughout the teenaged Bascom struggles with his faith and his role within the conflict as a white American Christian missionary's child Reflecting back as an adult he explores the historical cultural and religious contexts that led to this conflict even though in doing so he is forced to ask himself questions that are easier left alone Why he wonders did he find such strange fulfillment in being young and idealistic in the middle of what was essentially a kind of holy war

Great Expectation Dan Roche,2008-09 In Great Expectation Dan Roche gives a man's perspective on what it means to start and expand a family relatively later in life Through a series of diary entries in turns humorous angst ridden and full of hope and joy Roche describes his own thoughts and concerns during the nine months of his wife's pregnancy With five years of parenting his irrepressible daughter Maeve under his belt Roche already forty five years old and his wife Maura face the prospect of another arrival and the myriad of emotions that come with a second child From revelling in the joys of pregnancy such as Maura's delight at having cleavage and being able to eat whatever she desires to assuaging the parental anxieties of choosing the right obstetrician correcting the mistakes one made with the first child and sending children to college in the future to navigating the unforeseen experiencing the unexpected death of a parent and feeling trepidation toward the thought of having a son Roche records his emotions with unusual candidness and intimacy Reflecting on day to day events and their significance in his family's life together Roche wonders what he is getting himself into and how much deeper he can immerse himself into parenting Together he and his wife face the bittersweet intersections of death and new life menace and hopefulness With sincerity and a mature wit Great Expectation stands as a wise recounting of nine months time with all of its chaos and charms and offers a fresh perspective for first time and veteran parents alike

Family Bible Melissa J. Delbridge,2009-05-01 Swimming and sex seemed a lot alike to me when I was growing up You took off most of your clothes to do them and you only did them with people who were the same color as you As your daddy got richer you got to do them in fancier places Starting with her father who never met a whitetail buck he couldn't shoot a whiskey bottle he couldn't empty or a woman he couldn't charm and her mother who invented road rage before 1960 Melissa Delbridge introduces us to the people in her own family bible Readers will find elements of Southern Gothic and familiar vernacular characters but

Delbridge endows each with her startling and original interpretation In this disarmingly unguarded and unapologetic memoir she shows us what really happened in the stew of religion and sex that was 1960s Tuscaloosa Return to Warden's Grove

Christopher Norment,2008-04 Based on three seasons of field research in the Canadian Arctic Christopher Norment's exquisitely crafted meditation on science and nature wildness and civilization is marked by bottomless prose reflection on timeless questions and keen observations of the world and our place in it In an era increasingly marked by cutting edge research at the cellular and molecular level what is the role for scientists of sympathetic observation What can patient waiting tell us about ourselves and our place in the world His family at home in the American Midwest Norment spends months on end living in isolation in the Northwest Territories studying the ecology of the Harris's Sparrow Although the fourteenth century German mystic Meister Eckhardt wrote God is at home we are in the far country Norment argues that an intellectual emotional and spiritual far country can be found in the lives of animals and arctic wilderness For Norment doing science can lead to an enriched aesthetic and emotional connection to something beyond the self and a way to develop a sacred sense of place in a world that feels increasingly less welcoming certain and familiar In Defense of Nature John Hay,2007-08-15 Frequently compared to Edward Abbey Wendell Berry and Gary Snyder John Hay is one of this country's greatest nature writers Originally published in 1969 In Defense of Nature is an eloquent and prescient plea on behalf of the natural world Devoid of sentimentality yet lyrical and deeply moving in its portrayals of our despoliation of nature Hay's classic work is now available to a new generation of readers Wendell Berry has called John Hay a carrier of light and wisdom In Defense of Nature reveals why this is true In it Hay has written an extended meditation on the environment and our place in it Its lessons never more important In Defense of Nature eerily presages the tenuous state of our environment and our place in it As our technical abilities have moved forward our judgment has not kept pace What we call natural resources cannot be limited to gas oil pulpwood or uranium we are starving the natural resources in ourselves The soul needs to stretch being needs to exercise Grammar Lessons Michele Morano,2007-04 In the thirteen personal essays in Grammar Lessons Michele Morano connects the rules of grammar to the stories we tell to help us understand our worlds Living and traveling in Spain during a year of teaching English to university students she learned to translate and interpret her past and present worlds to study the surprising moments of communication as a way to make sense of language and meaning longing and memory Morano focuses first on her year of living in Oviedo in the early 1990s a time spent immersing herself in a new culture and language while working through the relationship she had left behind with an emotionally dependent and suicidal man Next after subsequent trips to Spain she explores the ways that travel sparks us to reconsider our personal histories in the context of larger historical legacies Finally she turns to the aftereffects of travel to the constant negotiations involved in retelling and understanding the stories of our lives Throughout she details one woman's journey through vocabulary and verb tense toward a greater sense of her place in the world Grammar Lessons illustrates the difficulty and delight humor and humility of living in a new language and of carrying that pivotal experience forward Michele Morano's beautifully constructed essays reveal the many grammars and many voices that we collect and learn from as we travel Detailing Trauma Arianne Zwartjes, 2012-09-15 In a series of linked essays Detailing Trauma explores the many types of wounds from which the human body and spirit may suffer and heal Zwartjes's poetic prose humanizes the technical descriptions of medical conditions and illuminates the scientific understanding of emotional states
