Nature and the Japanese: Cultural Perspectives Pasquale De Marco,2025-04-08 Japan is a country with a long and rich history of interaction with nature From the earliest times the Japanese people have been both awed and humbled by the natural world and this relationship has shaped their culture art and religion in profound ways This book explores the complex and multifaceted relationship between nature and the Japanese people It examines how the Japanese have perceived and conceptualized nature how they have interacted with it and how they have been shaped by it It also considers the challenges that Japan faces in the 21st century as it seeks to balance the need for economic development with the need to protect the natural environment The book is divided into ten chapters each of which focuses on a different aspect of the relationship between nature and the Japanese people The chapters cover topics such as The Japanese aesthetic appreciation of nature The role of nature in Japanese religion The impact of industrialization on the Japanese environment The role of nature in Japanese art and literature The challenges of balancing economic development with environmental protection This book is a valuable resource for anyone interested in Japanese culture environmental studies or the relationship between humans and the natural world It is also a timely and important contribution to the study of how societies can live in harmony with nature This book is written in a clear and accessible style and it is packed with fascinating information and insights It is a must read for anyone who wants to understand the complex and dynamic relationship between nature and the Japanese people If you like this book write a review

The Visual World of Shadows Roberto Casati,Patrick Cavanagh,2023-12-26 How the perception of shadows studied by vision scientists and visual artists reveals the inner workings of the visual system In The Visual World of Shadows Roberto Casati and Patrick Cavanagh examine how the perception of shadows as studied by vision scientists and visual artists reveals the inner workings of the visual system Shadows are at once a massive problem for vision which must distinguish them from objects or material features of objects and a resource signaling the presence location shape and size of objects Casati and Cavanagh draw up an inventory of information retrievable from shadows showing their amazing variety They present an overview of the visual system distinguishing between measurement and inference They discuss the shadow mission the work done by the visual brain to parse and perhaps discard the information from shadows shadow ownership the association of a shadow with the object that casts it shadow labeling the visual system's ability to tell shadows from nonshadows and the shadow concept our knowledge about shadows as a category Casati and Cavanagh then apply the theoretical apparatus they have developed for shadows to other phenomena illumination reflection and transparency Finally they examine the art of the shadow paying tribute to artists exploration of shadow analyzing a series of artworks reproduced in color from a rich and fascinating art historical corpus □□ Kagedo Japanese Art (Firm),2007 Hirado Louis Lawrence,1997 The first book in the Encyclopedia of Japanese Art series is devoted to Hirado porcelain and is the only work devoted exclusively to the subject in English This much needed volume traces the origins of one of Japan's great porcelain manufacturers from its first years in the 17th century to its closure early in the 20th century Illustrated with over 100 color plates almost all of which are published for the first time it displays the extraordinary range of Hirado wares originally made exclusively for the wealthy Matsura family It conclusively demonstrates that Hirado was an important kiln in the history of Japanese ceramics and its widely varied wares rank among the finest made Within the appendices of this book is a unique and comprehensive section devoted to over 90 marks found on Hirado wares The eccentric charm and superlative quality of this rare porcelain is admirably displayed in this book by scholar and dealer Louis Lawrence with an introduction by the renowned collector David Hyatt King Amazon com The Japanese Enthronement Ceremonies Daniel Clarence Holtom,1928

Japanese Enthronement Ceremonies D.C. Holtom,2013-10-28 First Published in 1996 This volume contains the finest and most detailed descriptions of the Japanese enthronement ceremonies and imperial regalia available in the English language Privately printed in 1928 it has never before been widely available In an approach that combines history and anthropology it presents meticulous description of the rituals costumes offerings and buildings in which the ceremonies mostly enacted in private are held The Atomic Bomb in Japanese Cinema Matthew Edwards,2018-07-24 Seventy years after the nuclear attacks on Hiroshima and Nagasaki Japan is still dealing with the effects of the bombings on the national psyche From the Occupation Period to the present Japanese cinema had offered a means of coming to terms with one of the most controversial events of the 20th century From the monster movies Gojira 1954 and Mothra 1961 to experimental works like Go Shibata's NN 891102 1999 atomic bomb imagery features in all genres of Japanese film This collection of new essays explores the cultural aftermath of the bombings and its expression in Japanese cinema The contributors take on a number of complex issues including the suffering of the survivors hibakusha the fear of future holocausts and the danger of nuclear warfare Exclusive interviews with Go Shibata and critically acclaimed directors Roger Spottiswoode Hiroshima and Steven Okazaki White Light Black Rain are included Shadow Education and Social Inequalities in Japan Steve R. Entrich,2017-12-07 This book examines why Japan has one of the highest enrolment rates in cram schools and private tutoring worldwide It sheds light on the causes of this high dependence on shadow education and its implications for social inequalities The book provides a deep and extensive understanding of the role of this kind of education in Japan It shows new ways to theoretically and empirically address this issue and offers a comprehensive perspective on the impact of shadow education on social inequality formation that is based on reliable and convincing empirical analyses. Contrary to earlier studies the book shows that shadow education does not inevitably result in increasing or persisting inequalities but also inherits the potential to let students overcome their status specific disadvantages and contributes to more opportunities in education. Against the background of the continuous expansion and the convergence of shadow education systems across the globe the findings of this book call for similar works in other national contexts particularly Western societies without traditional large scale shadow education markets. The book emphasizes the importance and urgency to deal with the modern excesses of educational expansion and education as an institution in which the shadow education industry has made itself seemingly indispensable.

Studies in Perception and Action XIII Julie A. Weast-Knapp, 2015-07-16. Since 1991 the edited book series Studies in Perception and Action has appeared in conjunction with the biennial International Conference of Perception and Action (ICPA). ICPA provides a forum for researchers and academics who share a common interest in ecological psychology to come together, present new research and foster ideas towards the advancement of the field. This volume highlights research presented at the 18th ICPA meeting hosted by the University of Minneapolis in the summer of 2015. The short papers presented in this book represent the contributions of researchers and laboratories from across the globe on a wide variety of topics in perception and action. This volume will especially appeal to those that are interested in James J. Gibson's ecological approach to psychology as well as more broadly students and researchers of action and coordination, visual and haptic perception, perceptual development, human movement dynamics, human factors and social processes.
