Louisiana In Perspective 2005:

Student Displacement in Louisiana After the Hurricanes of 2005 John F. Pane, 2006 Hurricane Katrina was the most costly and devastating natural disaster in U S history It and Hurricane Rita combined left the Gulf region with tremendous challenges for recovery and the need to rebuild infrastructure and reestablish services This report focuses on the displacement of approximately 200 000 public school students in Louisiana To help guide educators and policymakers in their ongoing responses to this disaster and in their preparations for future events this technical report documents many of the short term effects of the movements of students caused by the storms Focusing on the Louisiana public school system it explores the experiences of displaced students during the first academic year following the hurricanes their movements among schools the durations of enrollments at each site time out of school and the number and characteristics of students fitting each of four patterns of movement It also reports on the effects of the displacement on schools and their students and policies adopted in response to serving displaced students Using Louisiana s student data system we obtained information about all students in the state who entered or exited a public school at any time during the 2005 06 school year because of the hurricanes and we surveyed principals from a stratified sample of schools serving displaced students statewide The student displacement due to Hurricanes Katrina and Rita persisted throughout the entire 2005 06 school year 55 percent of the displaced students ended the school year outside their original schools The students who remained displaced were disproportionately minority students and students who had been achieving poorly prior to the storms But even among those students who have returned to their original schools a substantial amount of schooling was lost and the effects of the storms linger Principals reported that displaced students both those who have returned to their original schools and those who have enrolled elsewhere in the state exhibited several common symptoms of trauma In some schools the displaced students were more likely than others to engage in fighting arguing bullying eating or playing in isolation and violating school rules they were less likely to engage in school clubs activities social events or sports teams Principals also frequently reported that displaced students were more likely than preexisting students to need mental health counseling Schools throughout the state and the nation will continue to be called on to serve displaced students and it is imperative that they obtain the resources they need to serve them well Policies and resources to help teachers manage their own hurricane related problems and mental health needs might ultimately improve the services teachers provide to students Finally education officials at both the state and local levels would benefit from better access to complete and accurate student records and a national system to coordinate two way sharing of student information across state boundaries Environmental Health Perspectives ,2004-07

New Perspectives on State Government Fiscal Challenges John Merrifield, Barry W. Poulson, 2023-07-03 In this book on new fiscal approaches nineteen experts examine topics ranging from constitutional reform and debt fatigue to fiscal rules and zero based budgeting Together these contributions inform a multifaceted nuanced argument for the need to formalize spending restraint and redefine state debt to include unfunded liabilities Scholars will find the book useful as a reference tool explaining how rules based fiscal policy is used to address debt fatigue and unsustainable spending growth Legislators and practitioners will find the book useful as a reference source in designing and simulating second generation fiscal rules and educators will find the book helpful for its close analysis of policies in representative states such as Illinois New York New Jersey Nebraska and California

Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies Appropriations for 2008 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies,2007 Handbook of public health in natural disasters Ronald Ross Watson,Joseph A. Tabor,John E. Ehiri,Victor R. Preedy,2023-08-07 The combination of growing populations moving into large cities in high risk zones increase the risk of natural disasters with a substantial public health consequence A high population density and rapid air travel increase the spread and effects of plagues and diseases People in countries with limited resources are more vulnerable to death and other consequences of disasters This requires global rather than national preparedness and response strategies Public health organisations government and non government organisations can take a leadership role and provide training organisation and research knowledge to improve responses to such disasters This book is the first holistic public health approach in relation to natural disasters It fills the gap to have a one stop shopping synopsis of key ideas associated with mediation of public health natural disasters It is unique in focusing on lessons learned rather than what to do Published research relating to general responses by public health agencies to disasters is scientifically evaluated Various types of disasters are reviewed flooding diseases earthquakes volcanoes and drought Long term needs prevention and individual preparation are taken into account The information can be used to prepare and mitigate effects of disasters The summary points at the start of each chapter will help the reader to use as this book as reference book and for educational purpose

Perspectives on the Restoration of the Mississippi Delta John W. Day,G. Paul Kemp,Angelina M. Freeman,David P. Muth,2014-05-16 Human impacts and emerging mega trends such as climate change and energy scarcity will impact natural resource management in this century This is especially true for deltas because of their ecological and economic importance and their sensitivity to climate change The Mississippi delta is one of the largest in the world and has been strongly impacted by human activities Currently there is an ambitious plan for restoration of the delta This book by a renown group of delta experts provides an overview of the challenges facing the delta and charts a way forward to sustainable management

Tulane Law Review ,1993 Gods of the Mississippi Michael Pasquier,2013-02-27 From the colonial period to the present the Mississippi River has impacted religious communities from Minnesota to the Gulf of Mexico Exploring the religious landscape along the 2 530 miles of the largest river system in North America the essays in Gods of the Mississippi make a compelling case for American religion in motion not just from east to west but also from north to south With discussion of topics such as the religions of the Black Atlantic religion and empire antebellum religious movements the Mormons at Nauvoo black religion in the delta Catholicism in the Deep South and Johnny Cash and religion this volume contributes to a richer understanding of this diverse dynamic and fluid religious world

New Orleans in the Atlantic World William Boelhower, 2013-09-13 The thematic project New Orleans in the Atlantic World was planned immediately after hurricane Katrina and focuses on what meteorologists have always known the city's identity and destiny belong to the broader Caribbean and Atlantic worlds as perhaps no other American city does Balanced precariously between land and sea the city's geohistory has always interwoven diverse cultures languages peoples and economies Only with the rise of the new Atlantic Studies matrix however have scholars been able to fully appreciate this complex history from a multi disciplinary multilingual and multi scaled perspectivism In this book historians geographers anthropologists and cultural studies scholars bring to light the atlanticist vocation of New Orleans and in doing so they also help to define the new field of Atlantic Studies This book was published as a special issue of Atlantic Studies Houston Business and Tax Law Journal, 2006 Lifespan Perspectives on Natural Disasters Katie E. Cherry, 2009-07-09 Some of our most disturbing images of Hurricane Katrina involve the very old trapped in flooded nursing homes and the very young sick in toxic trailers Using the Katrina Rita nexus as its reference point Lifespan Perspectives on Natural Disasters takes the developmental long view on human strengths and vulnerabilities during large scale devastation and crisis An expert panel of behavioral scientists and first responders analyzes the psychological impact of natural disasters on and coping faculties associated with children adolescents and young middle aged older young old and late life oldest old adults This timely information is invaluable both to mental health service providers and to those tasked with developing age appropriate disaster preparedness intervention and recovery programs In addition the book references other deadly storms as well as other major catastrophic events e g the September 11 attacks the Indian Ocean Tsunami and includes such topics as Young children's understanding of hurricanes Positive adjustment in youth after Katrina How families make meaning out of disaster Disaster recovery in the workplace Recovery services for the frail elderly Coping and health in late life Preparation and training mental health personnel for disasters Unique in the disaster literature Lifespan Perspectives on Natural Disasters serves as a research reference and idea book for professionals and graduate level students in psychology social work and disaster preparedness and services The Sociology of Katrina David L. Brunsma, David Overfelt, J. Steven Picou, 2007 A second edition of this textbook is now available As a disaster Hurricane Katrina logs in as both the most destructive and instructive when considering the cataclysmic effects as well as the magnitude of knowledge that can be drawn from it This meteorological event became the stimulus for devastating technological failures and widespread toxic contamination causing the largest internal diaspora of displaced people in recent U S history This book brings together the nation's top sociological researchers in an effort to catalogue the modern catastrophe that is Hurricane Katrina The chapters in this volume discuss sociological perspectives of disaster literature provide alternative views and analyses of early post storm data collection efforts and examine emerging social questions that have surfaced in the aftermath of Katrina New Global Perspectives on Archaeological Prospection James Bonsall, 2019-09-02 This volume presents over 90 papers from the 13th International Conference on Archaeological Prospection 2019 Sligo Papers address archaeological prospection techniques methodologies and case studies from 33 countries across Africa Asia Australasia Europe and North America reflecting current and global trends in archaeological prospection Regional Perspectives on Agricultural Guestworker Programs United States. Congress. House. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Immigration Policy and Enforcement, 2012 On Risk and Disaster Ronald J. Daniels, Donald F. Kettl, Howard Kunreuther, 2011-06-07 Named one of Planetizen's Top 10 Books of 2006 Hurricane Katrina not only devastated a large area of the nation's Gulf coast it also raised fundamental questions about ways the nation can and should deal with the inevitable problems of economic risk and social responsibility This volume gathers leading experts to examine lessons that Hurricane Katrina teaches us about better assessing perceiving and managing risks from future disasters In the years ahead we will inevitably face more problems like those caused by Katrina from fire earthquake or even a flu pandemic America remains in the cross hairs of terrorists while policy makers continue to grapple with important environmental and health risks Each of these scenarios might in itself be relatively unlikely to occur But it is statistically certain that we will confront such catastrophes or perhaps one we have never imagined and the nation and its citizenry must be prepared to act That is the fundamental lesson of Katrina The 20 contributors to this volume address questions of public and private roles in assessing managing and dealing with risk in American society and suggest strategies for moving ahead in rebuilding the Gulf coast Contributors Matthew Adler Vicki Bier Baruch Fischhoff Kenneth R Foster Robert Giegengack Peter Gosselin Scott E Harrington Carolyn Kousky Robert Meyer Harvey G Ryland Brian L Strom Kathleen Tierney Michael J Trebilcock Detlof von Winterfeldt Jonathan Walters Richard J Zeckhauser Government Budget Forecasting Jinping Sun, Thomas D. Lynch, 2017-09-25 Revenue and expenditure forecasting plays an important role in public budgeting and financial management particularly during times of financial constraint when citizens impose greater accountability upon government to use taxpayer dollars more efficiently Despite its significance revenue and expenditure forecasting is often overlooked in the budget process and there is an imbalance between practice and research in this area Based on the collaboration of budget scholars and practitioners Government Budget Forecasting fulfills two purposes Enhances the understanding of revenue and expenditure estimation both theoretically and practically Stimulates dialogue and debate among practitioners and academicians to identify good forecast practices as well as areas for improvement Divided into four parts this comprehensive reference first examines forecast practices at the federal state and local levels drawing on case studies that include California Texas and Louisiana It then explores consensus systems and risk assessment considering political factors and the costs of forecast errors The text concludes with a call to transparency and guidance from a code of ethics and a look at forecasting practices in emerging countries Louisiana Agriculture , 2008 Louisiana
