Augustine wrote the treatise to explain Christianity's relationship with competing religions and philosophies as well as its relationship with the Roman government with which it was increasingly intertwined. It was written soon after Rome was sacked by the Visigoths in 410. This event left Romans in a deep state of shock and many saw it as punishment for abandoning traditional Roman religion for Catholic Christianity. It was in this atmosphere that Augustine set out to console Christians writing that even if the earthly rule of the Empire was imperiled it was the City of God that would ultimately triumph. Augustine's eyes were fixed on Heaven a theme of many Christian works of Late Antiquity from wikipedia.com
