On The Side Of The Child Summerhill Revisited Between Teacher And Text :

On the Side of the Child William Ayers, 2003 A S Neill's radical approach to child rearing is as controversial today as it was in 1960 Neill's code of freedom emphasized the principles of freedom love and positive discipline in the care and education of children These ideals continue to evoke admiration by many who have found them key to not only raising healthy happy children but also to stemming the tide of violence in our schools and society Others dismiss these same principles for being idealistic at best and harmful at worst In this wonderful account Bill Ayers speaks as a parent and an educator who has spent years in the classroom experimenting with Neill's progressive approach While Ayers admits to being a long time fan of Neill's he also admits that Neill's techniques sometimes seemed more than a little loony when they first appeared It is Ayers's honest straightforward approach that makes his treatment of Neill so valuable and relevant to how we treat and raise our children today This vital and unique volume is a great read for parents teachers and anyone considering alternative visions for raising children and overcoming violence in today's society It also features key sections from the original text of Summerhill A Radical Approach to Child Rearing that Ayers identifies as critical to understanding Neill's philosophy William Ayers dialog with A S Neill is particularly important at this time when high stakes testing and an obsession with stigmatizing children as ADD or Hyperactive is a substitute for treating students as respected citizens of their schools Neill and Ayers understand the importance of choice voice and respect in the lives of adolescents and they honor and celebrate it From the Series Foreword by Herb Kohl Bill Ayers a creative and insightful educator begins where A S Neill left off by challenging us to think outside the box and push for true freedom and democracy in our schools This book is a must read not only for educators but also for professionals and parents who care about children and for whom building a truly humane and just society is paramount Jane R Hirschmann Chair NYS Parents Coalition to End High Stakes Testing

Artificial Hells Claire Bishop, 2012-07-24 This searing critique of participatory art from its development to its political ambitions is an essential title for contemporary art history scholars and students as well as anyone who has thought Now that's art or That's art Library Journal Since the 1990s critics and curators have broadly accepted the notion that participatory art is the ultimate political art that by encouraging an audience to take part an artist can promote new emancipatory social relations Around the world the champions of this form of expression are numerous ranging from art historians such as Grant Kester curators such as Nicolas Bourriaud and Nato Thompson to performance theorists such as Shannon Jackson Artificial Hells is the first historical and theoretical overview of socially engaged participatory art known in the US as social practice Claire Bishop follows the trajectory of twentieth century art and examines key moments in the development of a participatory aesthetic This itinerary takes in Futurism and Dada the Situationist International Happenings in Eastern Europe Argentina and Paris the 1970s Community Arts Movement and the Artists Placement Group It concludes with a discussion of long term educational projects by contemporary artists such as Thomas Hirschhorn Tania Bruguera Pawel Althamer and Paul Chan Since her controversial essay in Artforum in 2006 Claire Bishop has been one of the few to challenge the political and aesthetic ambitions of participatory art In Artificial Hells she not only scrutinizes the emancipatory claims made for these projects but also provides an alternative to the ethical rather than artistic criteria invited by such artworks Artificial Hells calls for a less prescriptive approach to art and politics and for more compelling troubling and bolder forms of participatory art and criticism

Disavowed Knowledge Peter Maas Taubman, 2012-05-22 This is the first and only book to detail the history of the century long relationship between education and psychoanalysis Relying on primary and secondary sources it provides not only a historical context but also a psychoanalytically informed analysis In considering what it means to think about teaching from a psychoanalytic perspective and in reviewing the various approaches to and theories about teaching and curriculum that have been informed by psychoanalysis in the twentieth century Taubman uses the concept of disavowal and focuses on the effects of disavowed knowledge within both psychoanalysis and education and on the relationship between them Tracing three historical periods of the waxing and waning of the medical therapeutic and emancipatory projects of psychoanalysis and education the thrust of the book is for psychoanalysis and education to come together as an emancipatory project Supplementing the recent work of educational scholars using psychoanalytic concepts to understand teaching education and schooling it works to articulate the stranded histories the history of what could have been and might still be in the relationship between psychoanalysis and education
