On Writing Qualitative Research Living By Words:

On Writing Qualitative Research Margot Ely, 1997 Written for both new and experienced researchers this book is about creating research writing that is useful believable and interesting Writing Qualitative Research Margot Ely, 1997

On Writing Qualitative Research Margaret Anzul, Maryann Downing, Margot Ely, Ruth Vinz, 2003-12-16 This text is both about writing up qualitative research and is itself a qualitative study The written reflections of students on the writing process and the interpretations and presentations of their findings provide a base of data which the authors have in turn analyzed and incorporated into their text They have added accounts of their own experiences and those of their colleagues and other published authors All of these are woven into a theoretical framework that discusses them in detail Writing Qualitative Research on Practice, 2009-01-01 Writing Qualitative Research on Practice brings together key authors in the field of qualitative research to critique current trends and expand discourse about the challenges and practices of writing qualitative research This book is located in the context of professional practice and the practice world It scopes and maps the broad horizons of qualitative research on practice and explores writing in major qualitative research traditions A key issue addressed in writing qualitative research particularly the narrative forms is finding a way to write that encapsulates the goals and genre of the research project Writing is presented as a process and journey and also a way of thinking and creating knowledge Within research writing is an essential expression of the research frame of reference and a key element of the research genre This book explores writing for a range of publications including books chapters theses and papers for journals The practical and accessible style of this book makes it an invaluable resource for postgraduate research students teachers and supervisors and scholars of qualitative research Transformative Teacher Research, 2019-02-18 The aim of this book is to bring teacher research to the centre of attention in educational research Knowledge generated by researching teachers and teacher researchers often in collaboration with university researchers identifying new and innovative research methodologies and theories feeds directly back into theorising practice and the practice of theory that is necessary to improve student learning This edited volume is unique in that it details diverse teacher research practices and partnerships across a diversity of cultural settings from Sweden Turkey South Africa Cyprus Singapore Hong Kong China Australia and the UK In this volume 19 internationally acknowledged researchers from nine different countries draw on and develop a new wave of theory and practice for transformative teaching and learning Themes explored include contributions of the latest emerging theories and research approaches types models of university school partnerships and teacher research communities which build change and sustain educational reform empirical findings and evidence based benefits from teacher research and professional learning critical policy research in teacher research innovative approaches to course designs with an aim to transform understanding of teaching and teacher research Activist Citizenship Education Keith Heggart, 2021-01-02 This book explores alternative models of civics and citizenship education Specifically it uses Justice

Citizens a participatory research and film making project as a tool to examine young people s ideas about active citizenship and participation in public spaces It introduces a framework that seeks to explore the diverse and apparently contradictory nature of young people s active citizenship The framework draws on complexity theory combined with critical pedagogy and democratic education to formulate an approach to developing active citizenship among young people This approach extends theories of both critical pedagogy and education for citizenship and by doing so seeks to explain the variegated nature of young people s engagement with civil society This book contains a valuable repository of ideas and resources for application for teachers to use in schools and classrooms Academics engaged in initial teacher education at both primary and secondary levels will find the framework of use when describing the importance and new approaches to civics and citizenship education within the current school and policy environments

Reflections on Learning, Life and Work Maureen Ryan, 2012-10-26 This book records the stories of doctoral study experiences of the twenty two writers These research degree experiences are embedded in the lives and careers of the writers and the twenty two distinctive projects draw from those individual lives and careers The authors write about meeting the continuing demands of older and younger family members and of their struggles with ill health and work place demands while working through their studies There is also the joy of coming to see themselves and being seen as research scholars and supporting and celebrating with others as they move through candidature proposals and ethics applications to graduation Apart from the stories that bring the writers to their particular projects and that colour their individual journeys storying methodology is most often selected for the research all of which is undertaken within the arts humanities and education Phenomenology narrative ethnography are central to most of the studies and the detailed accounts of each research topic methods and outcomes locate each of the research projects in rich bodies of knowledge Valued writers and readers in these fields Mary Beattie and Elaine Martin have read each reflection and provided in turn a foreword and an afterword which bookend the volume and further enrich these reflections on learning life and work

Writing and Representing Qualitative Research Maria K. E. Lahman, 2021-08-31 This book addresses foundational areas of qualitative writing such as journal articles and dissertations aesthetic representations including poetry and autoethnography publishing and reflexivity in representation in one practical and engaging text based on real experiences Author Maria K E Lahman draws on her experiences as a qualitative research professor and writing instructor and as someone who has published widely in scholarly journals employing both traditional and more innovative forms of writing The first part of the book covers writing tips how to represent data how to write a qualitative thematic journal article how to write a qualitative dissertation and provides guidance on the publication process The second part encourages the qualitative researcher to move beyond traditional forms of writing and consider how qualitative research can be represented more aesthetically as poems autoethnographies and visually The book concludes with a chapter on reflexivity in research representations Throughout the author provides vivid examples from her own work and that of graduate students and colleagues Helping Doctoral Students Write Barbara Kamler, Pat Thomson, 2014-03-21 Helping Doctoral Students Write offers a proven approach to effective doctoral writing By treating research as writing and writing as research the authors offer pedagogical strategies for doctoral supervisors that will assist the production of well argued and lively dissertations It is clear that many doctoral candidates find research writing complicated and difficult but the advice they receive often glosses over the complexities of writing and or locates the problem in the writer Kamler and Thomson provide a highly effective framework for scholarly work that is located in personal institutional and cultural contexts The pedagogical approach developed in the book is based on the notion of writing as a social practice This approach allows supervisors to think of doctoral writers as novices who need to learn new ways with words as they enter the discursive practices of scholarly communities This involves learning sophisticated writing practices with specific sets of conventions and textual characteristics The authors offer supervisors practical advice on helping with commonly encountered writing tasks such as the proposal the journal abstract the literature review and constructing the dissertation argument The first edition of this book has helped many academics and thousands of research students produce better written material Now fully updated the second edition includes Examples from a broader range of academic disciplines A new chapter on writing from the thesis for peer reviewed journals More advice on reading and note taking performance and conferences Further information on developing a personal academic writing style and Advice on the use of social media blogs tweets and wikis to create trans disciplinary and trans national networks and conversations Their discussion of the complexities of forming a scholarly identity is illustrated throughout by stories and writings of actual doctoral students In conclusion they present a persuasive and proven argument that universities must move away from simply auditing supervision to supporting the development of scholarly research communities Any supervisor keen to help their students develop as academics will find the ideas and practical solutions presented in this book fascinating and insightful reading Television and Dating in Contemporary China Chao Yang, 2017-06-29 This book considers the changing nature of intimacy in contemporary China providing a unique case study of romantic subjectivities in young people in the world s fastest growing economy Since the implementation of reform in 1978 the economic and socio cultural environment of modern China has experienced a dramatic transformation under the influence of urbanization and globalization facilitating more individualized identity among Chinese youth This book bridges the gap between an emergent emphasis on individualisation and the country s traditional norms and values It focuses on young people s understandings of various forms of relationships such as cohabitation extramarital relationships and multiple relationships suggesting a challenge to traditional familial values and an increasingly diversified understanding of the concepts of love and romance By examining the formation of relationships among 21st century Chinese youth notably through the lens of popular Chinese TV dating programs this book considers how dating and relationships mirror China s changing societal structure and examines social and cultural transformations in Chinese society Intersections of

Diversity, Literacy, and Learner Difficulties Theresa Abodeeb-Gentile, Dennis A. Conrad, 2022-08-22 This book invites readers to challenge corroborate and add to the discourse on more inclusive pedagogical practice Presenting theoretically and empirically informed research it highlights potential considerations regarding the intersections of diversity literacy and learner difficulties These three areas provide a stage where opposing paradigms often pose challenges for educators and create unnecessary barriers to providing the best education for all learners These barriers might reveal how students are positioned through a deficit lens rather than one that recognizes individual differences and how these learner differences sometimes result in labels or put students at increased risk of encountering difficulties The contributing authors goals are to start and sustain a conversation that examines these perspectives and to offer counter narratives to the deficit lens by recognizing that individual difference does not need to be a barrier to educational access By examining opportunities for more inclusive educational success this book encourages discourse among key stakeholders further it goes beyond problematizing to offer new avenues for optimal learning and inclusive pedagogy across multiple contexts

Towards Methodologically Inclusive Research Syntheses Harsh Suri, 2013-07-31 Primary research in education and social sciences is marked by a diversity of methods and perspectives How can we accommodate and reflect such diversity at the level of synthesizing research What are the critical methodological decisions in the process of a research synthesis and how do these decisions open up certain possibilities while closing down others This book draws upon methodologically diverse literature on research synthesis methods and primary research methods to develop a framework for synthesizing research It presents a Methodologically Inclusive Research Synthesis framework to facilitate critical and informed decision making among the producers and users of research synthesis Three guiding principles for a quality research synthesis are proposed informed subjectivity and reflexivity purposefully informed selective inclusivity and audience appropriate transparency The book then provides a thorough discussion of how these principles might be enacted in the following six phases identifying an appropriate epistemological orientation identifying an appropriate purpose searching for relevant literature evaluating interpreting and distilling evidence from selected studies constructing connected understandings communicating with an audience A wide range of techniques and perspectives from postpositivist interpretive participatory critical and postmodern traditions are considered in the book and Suri opens up new areas of debate by exploring numerous aspects of research syntheses from a methodologically inclusive perspective The book will be valuable reading for researchers and postgraduates in education and social sciences
