Iron Age Echoes David R. Fontijn, Quentin Bourgeois, Arjen Louwen, 2011 Groups of burial mounds may be among the most tangible and visible remains of Europe's prehistoric past Yet not much is known on how barrow landscapes came into being This book deals with that topic by presenting the results of archaeological research carried out on a group of just two barrows that crown a small hilltop near the Echoput echo well in Apeldoorn the Netherlands In 2007 archaeologists of the Ancestral Mounds project of Leiden University carried out an excavation of parts of these mounds and their immediate environment They discovered that these mounds are rare examples of monumental barrows from the later part of the Iron Age They were probably built at the same time and their similarities are so conspicuous that one might speak of twin barrows The research team was able to reconstruct the long term history of this hilltop We can follow how the hilltop that is now deep in the forests of the natural reserve of the Kroondomein Het Loo once was an open place in the landscape With pragmatism not unlike our own we see how our prehistoric predecessors carefully managed and maintained the open area for a long time before it was transformed into a funerary site The excavation yielded many details on how people built the barrows by cutting and arranging heather sods and how the mounds were used for burial rituals in the Iron Age      First Floridians and Last Mastodons: The Page-Ladson Site in the Aucilla River S. David Webb, 2006-10-11 This book presents the multidisciplinary results of an extensive underwater excavation in north Florida This yielded the most complete results of interactions between early Paleoindians and late Pleistocene megafauna in a rich environmental context in eastern North America The data provides fundamental insights into the Peopling of the Americas and The Extinction of the Megafauna An excellent color photo section expresses the uniqueness of this project      The Bronze Age Civilization of Central Asia Philip L. Kohl, 2015-12-14 The Bronze Age Civilization of Central Asia edited by Philip L Kohl collates translated articles from soviet findings of Bronze Age and Aenolithic remains in Central Asia Originally published in 1981 these articles include the latest discoveries at the time of publication such as the Murghab Delta sites to build a clearer picture of civilizations and settlements in Bronze Age Southern Central Asia and their history and evolution for new English audiences This title will be of interest to students of history archaeology and anthropology

Proceedings Geomechanics and Ground Control ,      Quantum Hearts Dan Bune, 2025-09-16 A love story written across galaxies A cosmic dance where every shadow is a mirror and every embrace reshapes creation itself Before time began laughter rippled through the void and mirrors were born From those mirrors step Caroline and Aidan soulmates entangled across timelines tested by illusions reflections and shadows that threaten to tear them apart From crystalline meadows to neon labyrinths from the lost city of Atlantis to the realms of pure imagination their love is challenged by clones archetypes and the programs designed to enslave them Every quarrel shakes constellations Every kiss heals dimensions But as they journey deeper through dreamscapes the AI cosmos and the first light of creation itself they discover the ultimate truth Love is not after creation Love is creation In Quantum Hearts you ll discover A mythic multidimensional romance that blends sci fi fantasy and spiritual allegory Lovers who face their own shadows and learn to embrace them as part of wholeness Worlds that unfold like dreams crystalline meadows neon grids oceanic kingdoms viral networks and the primal dawn of existence A finale where love itself becomes the rhythm at the heart of all worlds If you loved the sweeping romance of The Time Traveler s Wife the cosmic wonder of Interstellar or the mythic poetry of The Celestine Prophecy you ll be captivated by Quantum Hearts Step closer The mirror is waiting      Delaware's Ghost Towers Third Edition William C. Grayson, 2021-11-18 Using the First State as a representative example for all three American shorelines Delaware s Ghost Towers reveals how the mysterious World War 2 concrete sentinels standing along Delaware s ocean beaches were used to guard against penetration by powerful German battleships bent on shelling Philadelphia and the oil refineries of Wilmington The book tells the story of the nearly forgotten Coast Artillery soldiers who were the front line standing a combat ready watch during the anxious early months of the war when the first invasion of the Homeland since the War of 1812 was considered a frightening real possibility From a slow start during neglectful pre war days the Coast Artillery grew to operate the US most heavily armed installations pointing the Army s biggest guns of the war out to sea Their mission is described against a background of surrounding World War 2 events German naval and commando operations in US waters and on US beaches an important Last Stand worth remembering

The Art of Teaching Art Deborah A. Rockman, 2000-11-09 Often the finest artists do not make the best teachers Many frustrated college students of art know this all too well as they suffer through unstructured classes with inexperienced teachers or graduate student instructors In these situations it is easy to blame the teachers But the problem is largely institutional most students graduating with MFAs from art schools receive little if any instruction in teaching art If you find yourself in this predicament as teacher or student this book is for you The first book to provide a comprehensive guide for teaching college level art The Art of Teaching Art is the culmination of respected artist and instructor Deborah Rockman's two decades of teaching experience Believing that drawing is the backbone of all of the visual arts she begins with a complete explanation of drawing concepts that apply to any subject matter e g composition sighting processes scaling techniques and methods for linear and tonal development She then illustrates these concepts with step by step methods that easily translate to classroom exercises Next she applies the drawing principles to every artist's most important and challenging subject the human figure After an extended section on understanding and teaching perspective that explores illusionistic form and space the focus of the book shifts to the studio classroom itself and the essential elements that go into making an effective learning environment and curriculum From preparing materials lists and syllabi to setting up still lifes handling difficult classroom situations critiquing and grading student artworks and shooting slides of student artworks she leaves no stone unturned

Decoupling of Emissions and GDP: Evidence from Aggregate and Provincial Chinese Data Gail Cohen, João Tovar Jalles, Mr. Prakash Loungani, Ricardo Marto, Gewei Wang, 2018-04-11 We provide a comprehensive analysis of the relationship between greenhouse gas GHG emissions and GDP in China using both aggregate and provincial data The Kuznets elasticity is about 0.6 for China higher than that in advanced countries but below that of major emerging markets The elasticity is somewhat lower for consumption based emissions than for production based emissions providing mild evidence consistent with the pollution haven hypothesis The Kuznets elasticity is much lower for the last three decades than for the three previous decades suggesting a longer term trend toward decoupling as China has become richer Further evidence of this comes from provincial data richer provinces tend to have smaller Kuznets elasticities than poorer ones In addition to the trend relationship we find that the Environmental Okun's Law holds in China
