Madison, Norridgewock, and Smithfield Frank Sleeper, 1998-05-01 The Maine communities of Madison Norridgewock and Smithfield all have their own unique ties to the waters on which they were founded Madison depends on the waterfalls of the Kennebec River the backbone of central Maine to support its manufacturing roots Wool mill operations began in 1881 but soon gave way to the still prosperous paper mill Norridgewock also rests on the shores of the Kennebec but lacking the falls it was able to remain true to its name quiet place in the river The town remained so quiet in fact that it lost its county seat to Skowhegan in 1871 Shoe manufacturing later turned Norridgewock into a booming industrial town Smithfield lacks the river entirely but in its place one finds North Pond The beauty of the area has made it a natural recreation area for the other two towns

Tales Of the Open Road Ruskin Bond,2006-02-01 I have come to believe that the best kind of walk or journey is the one in which you have no particular destination when you set out Ruskin Bond s travel writing is unlike what is found in most travelogues because he will take you to the smaller lesser known corners of the country acquaint you with the least famous locals there and describe the flora and fauna that others would have missed And if the place is well known Ruskin leaves the common tourist spots to find a small alley or shop where he finds colourful characters to engage in conversation Tales of the Open Road is a collection of Ruskin Bond s travel writing over fifty years Here you will encounter a tonga ride through the Shivaliks a hidden waterfall near Rishikesh walks along the myriad streets of Delhi one of which used to be the richest in Asia trips down the Grand Trunk Road stopovers in little tea stalls in the hills around Mussoorie and an excursion to the icy source of the Ganga at over ten thousand feet above sea level Enriched by rare photographs that Ruskin took during his travels Tales of the Open Road is a celebration of small town and rural India by its most engaging chronicler
