Bromley, 2011 Fundamental world changes that simultaneously undermine a nation state's charisma and promote the rise of a supra national system have wide ranging effects upon national states within a modern global society My dissertation empirically examines the effects of social and cultural globalization on systems of mass schooling which are central institutions in every country Globally primary and secondary education initially emerged as the premier tool for nation states to create a unified national citizenry loyal to their country and socialized into a common cultural tradition I examine the extent to which this original nationalizing purpose of schooling is challenged by the increased emphases on universal human rights and diversity in civic education The analyses consist of two sections Hierarchical linear models are used to analyze a unique primary data source of 521 social science textbooks from 74 countries during the period 1970-2008 These findings show a worldwide increase in emphasis on human rights and increases in discussions of diversity in well established liberal democracies Cross national quantitative analyses are complemented by a qualitative case study of social science curricula in British Columbia BC which examines nation building within a context of strong emphasis on diversity and human rights The BC study utilizes currently approved high school citizenship education textbooks as well as older textbooks dating back to 1871 It also draws on a selection of historical documents including Ministry of Education reports curricular frameworks and high school exit exams Process wise I find the incorporation of human rights and diversity reflects macro level changes in national and global society Content wise I find four main approaches to reconciling ideas of human rights and diversity with national identity 1 framing human rights and multiculturalism as part of national identity 2 using pedagogical approaches that promote multiple perspectives and individual agency 3 celebrating social and scientific figures and accomplishments as the source of national pride and 4 drawing on exogenous sources to affirm state legitimacy This study is one of the first to theorize that civic education worldwide is moving away from a national focus and to provide empirical evidence of this trend A key implication is that educational systems are being repurposed from their original goal of constructing a unitary national citizenry to a new view emphasizing human diversity and equality in a globally interconnected world Further students are increasingly taught that the global civil society and non state actors are important and legitimate agents of social change A Multimodal

Beyond Expectation Jacquelyne Luce, 2010-04-02 An in depth study of lesbian bi and queer women's experiences of thinking about and trying to become a parent Beyond Expectation draws on eighty two narrative interviews conducted during the late 1990s in British Columbia Jacquelyne Luce chronicles these women's experiences which took place from 1980 to 2000 during a period that saw significant changes to the governance of assisted reproduction and the status of lesbian gay bisexual and transgender parents and same sex partners Beyond Expectation looks closely at the changing contexts in which women's experiences occurred and draws attention to complex issues such as contracting relationships mediating understandings of biology and genetics and decision making amidst various social legal and medical developments Luce skillfully juxtaposes the stories of her interviewees with the wider public discourses about lesbian bi queer parenting and reproductive technology and highlights gaps in existing legislative reforms Most importantly Beyond Expectation foregrounds the lived experiences of lesbian bi and queer women as they negotiate kinship at the intersection of reproduction technology and politics

Youthful

Matters Johanne Arsenault, 2018-11-09 Youthful Matters is a children's guide to living a happier and more compassionate life. The diverse topics include nature, diversity, respect, fear, charity, tolerance, reflection, and the overall fundamentals of a good life. This book is for children of all ages and for the adults who read it to them because we're never too old to learn. In order for the world to become a better place, we must first become better humans, better little humans. This book aims to break down barriers of judgment and misunderstanding by opening the minds and spirits of children and their parents and educators. With its accessible messages scattered with grains of ageless wisdom, Youthful Matters will affect its readers in many positive ways; everyone will be able to relate to the topics contained within, and everyone will feel encouraged to deeply consider how they act or react to other people in any given situation. The end result of this book is a vision of a gentler world developed with patience over time and built upon our natural capacities for empathy and care. I'm launching the English and French version, Sujets Jeunesse, simultaneously. I will continue with Spanish and other languages in the near future.

Contributions include the use of language of a new female bishop in Canada, heteronormativity in language use in Croatia, women's magazines in Japan, and the electoral code in Cameroon. Using critical feminist discourse analysis, the chapters represent scholarship from Britain, Europe, North America, Asia, and Africa. Readers in applied linguistics, sociology, women's studies, and education who are interested in language and its power in creating the lived experience will find this book full of intriguing and illuminating connections. Creating Safe and Supportive Learning Environments Emily S. Queer Mobilizations Manon Tremblay, 2015-05-15 Ever since certain homosexual acts were decriminalized in 1969 queer activists have fought for and won a series of public policy battles in governments across Canada As Queer Mobilizations shows anti discrimination legislation the extension of benefits to same sex couples the right to marry adoption rights and the protection of gay straight alliances in schools did not result from a single act nor from the work of a single organization but rather from the concerted efforts of many people in many places over many years This volume examines the relationships between LGBTQ activists and local provincial and federal governments The contributors explore how various governments have tried to regulate and repress LGBTQ movements and how in turn queer activists have successfully shaped public policy across the political spectrum from city halls to the House of Commons
