Psychological Aspects Of Pauline Theology:

Psychological Aspects of Pauline Theology Gerd Theissen, 1987 Psychological Insight Into the Bible Wayne G. Rollins, D. Andrew Kille, 2007 Foreword by Walter Wink In recent years theologians and biblical scholars have begun to delve into the insights that come from the application of psychology to biblical texts While these methods continue to be useful and popular nowhere have the foundational texts in the field been collected Wayne Rollins and Andrew Kille who have both published and taught widely in the area of psychological biblical criticism have assembled an excellent guide for those interested in this fascinating topic Included in this anthology are articles from across the landscape spanning over one hundred years and including such authors as Franz Delitzsch M Scott Fletcher Max Weber Walter Wink and many other scholars An Exegetical Bibliography of the New Testament: Romans and Galatians Günter Wagner, 1983 Library has v 1 3 The Theology of Paul the Apostle James D. G. Dunn, 2006-05-17 Using Paul's letter to the Romans as the foundation for his monumental study of Paul's theology James D G Dunn describes Paul's teaching on God sin humankind Christology salvation the church and the nature of the Christian life From Plight to Solution Frank Thielman, 1989 The Cambridge Companion to Science and Religion Peter Harrison, 2010-06-24 This book explores the historical relations between science and religion and discusses contemporary issues with perspectives from cosmology evolutionary biology and bioethics Interpretation of Tongues and Prophecy in 1 Corinthians 12-14, with a Pentecostal Hermeneutics Jeon Ahn Yongnan, 2019-05-21 Bringing spiritual experience into the domain of biblical hermeneutics this book will certainly stimulate current debates within this field among both Pentecostals and Christians of other traditions The author also applies a Pentecostal hermeneutical methodology to Paul's teaching on tongues and prophecy in 1 Corinthians 12 14 opening possibilities to a Pentecostal pneumatology that tends instead to focus on the Lukan narrative Paul's texts are reconsidered not as doctrinal or situational documents but as dynamic communication within a living community Paul in Ecstasy Colleen Shantz, 2009-04-27 While many readers of Paul's letters recognize how important his experience was to his life and thought Biblical scholars have not generally addressed this topic head on Colleen Shantz argues that they have been held back both by a bias against religious ecstasy and by the limits of the Biblical texts how do you responsibly access someone else's experience particularly experience as unusual and debated as religious ecstasy And how do you account responsibly for the role of experience in that person's thought Paul in Ecstasy pursues these questions through a variety of disciplines most notably neuroscience This study provides cogent explanations for bewildering passages in Paul's letters outlines a much greater influence of such experience in Paul's life and letters and points to its importance in Christian origins Paul's Gospel in Romans Jae Hyun Lee, 2010-04-06 This book offers a fresh approach to Paul's gospel Applying linguistic discourse analysis to Romans 1 16 8 39 it helps the reader to gain a comprehensive understanding of the argumentative structure and contents of the gospel of Paul As well as revealing the two underlying descriptive frameworks that Paul uses to explain his gospel about God's salvation the interactive framework between God and humans and the two realm framework this book demonstrates that Paul's gospel consists of one peak point that shows the central role of Jesus and two sub peaks elucidating salvation

Now Shown Mercy Mark Reasoner, 2024-05-14 Reasoner's Now Shown Mercy is the first commentary in 500 years that returns to the quadriga literal sense plus threefold spiritual sense in its exegetical approach The commentary shows how Paul understands Israel to be valued by God for its own sake not simply as a type of the church or a preparation for the Christ Paul views Israel as under God's mercy even as he writes Romans chapters 9-11 grieving as he is over both Israel's political subjugation in the first century and its spiritual condition Since these chapters show that God values Israel for its own sake the commentary's exegesis calls gentile believers to heed anew Paul's warning against boasting over Israel

Individual and Community in Paul's Letter to the Romans Ben C. Dunson, 2012 Revision of the author's thesis Ph D University of Durham England 2011

Paul's Glory-Christology Carey C. Newman, 2014-04-09 In 1927 C A A Scott while commenting on the apostle Paul's Christology remarked that the history of the word Glory in the Bible has yet to be written By using methodology developed in semantics semiotics and more generally literary theory Newman examines the origin and rhetoric of Paul's Glory Christology. The investigation involves three distinct tasks: 1 to plot the tradition history of Glory which formed part of Paul's linguistic world; 2 to examine Paul's letter in light of the reconstructed tradition history of Glory in order to discern the rationale of Paul's identification of Christ as Glory; and 3 to map out the implications of such an identification for Paul's theological and rhetorical strategy. On the basis of this study four conclusions are reached for understanding Paul. First Paul inherited a symbolic universe with signs already full of signification. Second knowing the diachronically acquired connotative range of a surface symbol e.g. Glory aids in discerning Paul's precise contingent strategy. Third knowing the surface symbol's referential power defines and contributes to the deeper structure of Paul's theological grammar. Finally the heuristic power within the construals of the Glory tradition coalesce in Paul's Christophany and thus provide coherence at the deepest level of Paul's Christology.

Paul's Letter to the Romans Ben Witherington, 2004-03-02 While Paul's letter to the Romans is the most studied and commented on document from the biblical period the major exegetical books on Romans from the nineteenth and twentieth centuries have been overwhelmingly shaped by the Reformed tradition. Through a careful survey of work on Romans by both ancient Church Fathers and modern exegetical scholars Ben Witherington III here argues that the interpretation of Romans since the Reformation has been far too indebted to and at key points led astray by Augustinian readings of the text as filtered through Luther Calvin and others. In this first full scale socio rhetorical commentary on Romans Witherington gleans fresh insights from reading the text of Paul's epistle in light of early Jewish theology the historical situation of Rome in the middle of the first century A.D. and Paul's own rhetorical concerns. Giving serious consideration to the social and rhetorical background of Romans allows readers to hear Paul on his own terms not just through the various voices of his later interpreters. Witherington's groundbreaking work also features a new clear translation of the Greek text and each section of the commentary ends with a brief discussion titled Bridging the Horizons which suggests how the ancient text of Romans may speak to us today.

The Divine-Human Relationship in Romans 1-8 in the Light of Interdependence Theory Yoonjong Kim, 2020-11-12 Yoonjong Kim analyses the divine human relationship in Paul's theology focusing on Paul's portrayal of the relationship in Romans 1-8. Kim stresses that previous studies of this relationship have not paid sufficient attention to the fact that it is not static but rather exhibits progression and development towards a goal. To address the significance of the human agent's role in the relationship Kim employs a social psychological theory interdependence theory offering a consistent analytic framework for diagnosing the interactions in a dyadic relationship in terms of the dependency created by each partner's expectations of outcomes. Kim explores several key stages of the divine human relationship and the direction in which the relationship develops throughout Romans 1-8 in order to highlight the significance of the human partners in the course of the development. He focuses in particular on betrayal 1:18-3:20 restoration 3:21-26 5:1-11 the oppressive relationship with Sin 5:12-8:11 and the investment for the future 8:12-39 and concludes that although the foundation of the relationship rests on God's initiative the divine outworking guides the relationship so that it facilitates mutual participation of the human partners in the restoration and development of the relationship toward the ultimate goal

Romans Brendan Byrne, 1996 This commentary adopts a literary rhetorical approach viewing the letter as an instrument of persuasion designed to transform readers through a celebratory presentation of the Gospel Reflecting upon the fate of Jews and Gentiles Paul wins his audience to a vision of a God who always acts inclusively The God who in the person of Israel's Messiah Jesus has acted faithfully to include the Gentile peoples within the community of salvation will not fail to see to the eventual inclusion of Israel as well In the victory of grace displayed already in the risen humanity of Jesus the original design of the Creator for human communities and for the world begins to come true The interpretation of Paul's letter to Rome has accompanied and stimulated the path of Christian theology down to today Romans touches upon virtually all main issues of Christian theology as well as presenting a rewarding introduction to Paul Byrne facilitates full access to Paul and his Gospel through the letter allowing Christians today to hear his voice as intelligibly and powerfully as it has spoken to past generations
