Knowing and Not Knowing Claudia Lapping, Tamara Bibby, 2018-02-02 The social world is saturated with powerful formations of knowledge that colonise individual and institutional identities Some knowledge emerges as legitimised and authoritative other knowledge is resisted or repressed Psychosocial approaches highlight the unstable basis of knowledge learning and research of knowing and not knowing How do we come to formulate knowledge in the ways that we do Are there other possible ways of knowing that are too difficult or unsettling for us to begin to explore Do we need the authority of legitimised institutions and regularized methods to build secure knowledge What might it mean to build insecure edifices of knowledge How might we trouble notions of knowledge in processes of teaching learning and research This collection addresses these questions drawing on a range of psychoanalytic and social theory from Bion Freud and Lacan to Derrida Kristeva and Zizek Showcasing work from North America Europe and Japan contributors explore writing as a practice that can stabilise or unsettle subjectivities the unconscious relations between school practices subjectivities educational spaces and ideologies implications of the productive energies and the deadening inwardness associated with mourning and melancholia for formal and informal learning and the authority we invest in apparently rigid or ephemeral institutional spaces Strongly empirical as well as theoretical in approach this collection will be of interest to students and academics seeking ways to resist normative orders of legitimacy and coherence in education and research This book was originally published as a special issue of Pedagogy Culture Society

Sex and Gender in Medieval and Renaissance Texts Barbara K. Gold, Paul Allen Miller, Charles Platter, 1997-03-13 This collection reclaims a vast body of long neglected Latin texts from the Middle Ages and the Renaissance and examines how they represent the feminine and the female body The authors explore the ideological values explicitly encoded by the feminine in these texts other less articulated values implied by the feminine and the role of the classical tradition in communicating those values The examination of women both as subjects and as rhetorical constructions in Medieval and Renaissance Latin literature sheds light on the larger dialogue about feminism occurring throughout the humanities In addition the inclusion of a new body of texts and the rescue of others from their present isolation will expand the reach of classical and humanist scholarship Traditional studies of Latin literature end around the beginning of the fifth century C E despite the fact that Latin continued to be the dominant literary and intellectual language until at least the latter half of the sixteenth century Thus most classicists ignore over one thousand years of the Latin literary tradition Few non classicists read Latin comfortably and fewer still have a detailed understanding of the history of classical Latin literature Nevertheless a knowledge of this history was assumed by most Neo Latin writers as well as their contemporaries who wrote in the vernacular This collection supplies tools to examine more completely the construction and application of gender in both Latin and vernacular texts of the Middle Ages and the Renaissance of the Grotesque probes the polemic status of the other and the dubious nature of the subject from a heterodox perspective of an emblematic grotesque figure the Sphinx the mystical trickster and the guardian of sacred knowledge in Egyptian culture In Greek mythology Oedipus the epitome of Western logos solved the Sphinx's riddle with a single word Man This evocation for the phantom of a solipsistic subject discloses in effect Oedipus' latent grotesque disparity The book explores the encounter of this unlikely pair to inquire the riddling relationship between the singular subject and the grotesque other in the context of modern discourses of the subject and postmodern theories of the other

The Afterlife of Christina Rossetti A.
