AND REMEMBERING

A LITERARY RECORD
BY E. V. LUCAS

THE author calls this 'a literary record' and by strictly complying with that description eliminates complete autobiographical treatment. It is an account of what books a confirmed man-of-letters now in the sixth half read: what writers he first saw and knew; what his own writing beginnings were, and how he progressed from those to the present time. Many well-known men not now again, not least, among those no longer living, Conrad, Arnold Bennett, and Maurice Hewlett. To-day's authors will be found too, and the book is probably unique in the number and variety of its illustrations, among them being many by Mr. George Morant at his most amusing.
