Race and Entrepreneurial Success Robert W. Fairlie, Alicia M. Robb, 2010-08-13 A comprehensive analysis of racial disparities and the determinants of entrepreneurial performance in particular why Asian owned businesses on average perform relatively well and why black owned businesses typically do not. Thirteen million people in the United States roughly one in ten workers own a business. And yet rates of business ownership among African Americans are much lower and have been so throughout the twentieth century. In addition and perhaps more importantly businesses owned by African Americans tend to have lower sales fewer employees and smaller payrolls lower profits and higher closure rates. In contrast Asian American owned businesses tend to be more successful. In Race and Entrepreneurial Success minority entrepreneurship authorities Robert Fairlie and Alicia Robb examine racial disparities in business performance. Drawing on the rarely used restricted access Characteristics of Business Owners CBO dataset compiled by the U S Census Bureau Fairlie and Robb examine in particular why Asian owned firms perform well in comparison to white owned businesses and black owned firms typically do not. They also explore the broader question of why some entrepreneurs are successful and others are not. After providing new comprehensive estimates of recent trends in minority business ownership and performance the authors examine the importance of human capital financial capital and family business background in successful business ownership. They find that a high level of startup capital is the most important factor contributing to the success of Asian owned businesses and that the lack of startup money for black businesses attributable to the fact that nearly half of all black families have less than 6 000 in total wealth contributes to their relative lack of success. In addition higher education levels among Asian business owners explain much of their success relative to both white and African American owned businesses. Finally Fairlie and Robb find that black entrepreneurs have fewer opportunities than white entrepreneurs to acquire valuable pre business work experience through working in family businesses.

Collective Courage Jessica Gordon Nembhard, 2015-06-13 In Collective Courage Jessica Gordon Nembhard chronicles African American cooperative business ownership and its place in the movements for Black civil rights and economic equality. Not since W E B Du Bois's 1907 Economic Co operation Among Negro Americans has there been a full length nationwide study of African American cooperatives. Collective Courage extends that story into the twenty first century. Many of the players are well known in the history of the African American experience: Du Bois A Philip Randolph and the Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters Nannie Helen Burroughs Fannie Lou Hamer Ella Jo Baker George Schuyler and the Young Negroes Co operative League the Nation of Islam and the Black Panther Party. Adding the cooperative movement to Black history results in a retelling of the African American experience with an increased understanding of African American collective economic agency and grassroots economic organizing. To tell the story Gordon Nembhard uses a variety of newspapers period magazines and journals co ops articles of incorporation minutes from annual meetings newsletters budgets and income statements and scholarly books memoirs and biographies. These sources reveal the achievements and challenges of Black co ops collective economic action and social entrepreneurship. Gordon Nembhard finds that African Americans as well as other people of color and low income people have benefitted greatly from cooperative ownership and democratic economic participation throughout the nation's history Black Education Joyce E. King, 2006-04-21 This volume presents the findings and recommendations of the American Educational Research Association Sponsored Commission on research in Black Education's investigation of the major issues that hinder the education of Black people in the U S other di Reading Lists in Radical Political Economics Union for Radical Political Economics, 1971

Strengthening Families, Communities, and Schools to Support Children's Development Edmund W. Gordon, Betina Jean-Louis, Nkechi Obiora, 2017-09-05 Drawing on a range of contexts influenced by the Promise Neighborhoods Program a federal place based initiative to improve educational outcomes for students in distressed urban and rural neighborhoods this book outlines effective characteristics and elements for implementing supplementary education Chapter authors demonstrate that the disparities in educational achievement between white and non white students can only be addressed by a holistic approach that takes the communities in which schools are situated as its focal point This edited collection distills the insights gained from the communities implementing such comprehensive education programs and provides the framework and models for reproducing such successes
