Real Justice: Fourteen and Sentenced to Death Bill Swan, 2012-03-14 At fourteen Steve Truscott was a typical teenager in rural Ontario in the fifties mainly concerned about going fishing playing football and racing bikes with his friends One summer evening his twelve year old classmate Lynne Harper asked for a lift to the nearby highway on his bicycle and Steve agreed Unfortunately that made Steve the last person known to see Lynne alive His world collapsed around him when he was arrested and then convicted of killing Lynne Harper The penalty at the time was death by hanging Although the sentence was changed to life in prison Steve suffered for years behind bars for a murder he didn't commit When his case gained national attention the Supreme Court of Canada reviewed the evidence and confirmed his conviction It took over forty years and a determination to prove his innocence for him to finally clear his name He has since received an apology and compensation for his ordeal In this book young readers will discover how an innocent boy was presumed guilty by the justice system and how in the end that same justice system prodded by Truscott and his lawyers was able to acknowledge the terrible wrong done to him Fry reading level 4 8

Min,2018-03-28 Faith hope and love traditionally called theological virtues are central to Christianity This book renews faith hope and love in the context of the many contemporary challenges in many unique ways It is an ecumenical collection of papers equally divided between Catholic and Protestant positions that seek to radically renew the classical doctrine of faith hope and love and argues for their essential connection to the praxis of justice It contains eight different approaches each represented by a distinguished theologian and addressing different aspects of the issues and followed by insightful and critical responses It does not merely seek to renew the theological virtues but to also reconstruct them in the demanding context of justice and the contemporary world nor is it simply a treatise on justice but a theoretical and practical reflection on justice as vital expressions of faith in God hope in God and love of God A non dogmatic and non ideological approach it accommodates both conservative and liberal positions and avoids the separation of the theological virtues from the demands of the contemporary world as well as the separation of justice talk from the theological context of faith hope and love It seeks above all to renew not merely repeat the classical doctrine of faith hope and love in the contemporary context of the urgency of justice and to do so ecumenically comprehensively and from a variety of perspectives and aspects
