Reflections On Christ In Glory:

Reflections on Christ in Glory Wallace S. Jungers, 2002-01-01      Reflections on the Passion of Our Lord Jesus Christ.
Compiled and Translated from the French. By a Religious of Loretto Convent, Navan ,1872      The Thinker ,1893

Reflections on Reformational Theology Kimlyn J. Bender, 2021-07-29 The essays in this volume examine some of the fundamental doctrinal convictions of Martin Luther and the Reformation legacy as well as the maturation and development of these convictions in the theology of Karl Barth The broad evangelical vision that spans its various confessional tributaries is presented in the essays of this volume Together these studies serve as a cumulative argument for the ongoing coherence meaning and consequence of that vision one that at its heart is constructive and ecumenical rather than narrowly polemical Kimlyn J Bender examines a variety of topics such as the relation of Christ and the Church as understood in the theology of Luther and Barth the centrality of Christ to an understanding of all the solas of the Reformation the place and significance of the Reformers in Barth s own thought and Barth s theology in conversation with distant descendants of the Reformation often neglected including Baptists in America Pietists in Europe and Barth s own complicated relationship with Kierkegaard Bender concludes his discussion by presenting constructive proposals for a Church and university on the way and thus ever reforming

The Magazine of Christian Literature ,1893      Second Corinthians (Paideia: Commentaries on the New Testament) Raymond F. Collins, 2013-06-15 In this addition to the well received Paideia series a respected senior New Testament scholar examines cultural context and theological meaning in Second Corinthians Paideia commentaries explore how New Testament texts form Christian readers by attending to the ancient narrative and rhetorical strategies the text employs showing how the text shapes theological convictions and moral habits commenting on the final canonical form of each New Testament book focusing on the cultural literary and theological settings of the text making judicious use of maps photos and sidebars in a reader friendly format Students pastors and other readers will appreciate the historical literary and theological insight offered in this practical commentary

Christian Figural Reading and the Fashioning of Identity David Dawson, 2001-12-26

This book makes an illuminating contribution to one of Christianity's central problems the understanding and interpretation of scripture and more specifically the relationship between the Old Testament and the New John David Dawson analyzes the practice and theory of figural reading in the Christian tradition of Biblical interpretation by looking at writings of Jewish and Christian thinkers both ancient and modern who have reflected on that form of traditional Christian Biblical interpretation Dawson argues Christian interpretation of Hebrew scripture originally was and should be aimed at not reducing the Jewish meaning or replacing it but rather at building on it or carrying on from it Dawson closely examines the work of three prominent twentieth century thinkers who have offered influential variants of figural reading Biblical scholar Daniel Boyarin philologist and literary historian Erich Auerbach and Christian theologian Hans Frei Contrasting the interpretive programs of these modern thinkers to that of Origen of Alexandria Dawson proposes that Origen exemplifies a kind of Christian reading that can respect Christianity's link to Judaism while also respecting the independent religious identity of Jews Through a fresh study of Origen's allegorical interpretation this book challenges the common charge that Christian non literal reading of scripture necessarily undermines the literal meaning of the text This highly interdisciplinary work will advance debates about different methods of interpretation and about different types of textual meaning that are relevant for many disciplines including ancient Christianity Jewish and Christian thought literary theory religious studies and classical studies
