Reflective Teaching Of History 11 18 Meeting Standards And Applying Research:

Reflective Teaching of History 11-18 Rob Phillips, 2002-10-11 This series of textbooks is aimed at teacher training students and comprises two concerns the practice of teaching and how to use theory and research findings to improve that practice and how to meet the TTA standards whilst placing them in a wider context This comprehensive textbook is an accessible guide to all those who are new to the profession of teaching history Covering all aspects of the job from planning through to teaching and assessment Rob Phillips provides constructive practical advice to help subject teachers become more effective in their work

Understanding History Teaching Chris Husbands, Alison Kitson, Anna Pendry, 2003-09-16 Understanding History Teaching is an enjoyable read with a logical and flowing structure It lives up to its goal of appealing to both academic and professional readers with both academic depth and real insights and opportunities for the professional teacher to draw from It presents its data and interpretations in a manner which does not avoid the issues revealed within the research but has an uplifting effect on the reader and leaves them feeling optimistic about the quality of History teaching in UK secondary schools Robert Wyness Student De Montfort University Leicester UK Why do we teach and learn about the past How is history taught in schools What are the influences on the way teachers teach and pupils learn about the past History is one of the most ideologically disputed of school subjects Over the past generation the subject has experienced fundamental changes in content pedagogy and approach This book is the first detailed account of the way history is taught in schools to be published for 30 years Drawing on fieldwork in comprehensive schools and on research studies worldwide the authors pose fundamental questions about the way teachers teach and learners learn They consider its purposes on teaching about the past in a world of accelerating change The book sets out to explore the realities of classroom history teaching and to offer pointers for the development on the subject in a new century

Myths and Mythical Spaces Claudia Lichnofsky, Enriketa Pandejmoni, Darko Stojanov, 2017-12-04 This volume addresses textbooks written in the Albanian language and in use in Albania Kosovo Macedonia and Serbia Political myths and mythical spaces play a key role in shaping processes of identity building concepts of self and other and ideas pertaining to the location of the self and nation within a post conflict context The Albanian case is particularly interesting because the majority of Albanians live outside the borders of Albania despite the existence of the nation state which gives rise to fascinating complexities regarding the shaping of national identities and myths surrounding concepts of self and other What textbooks teach is always of political interest as they represent society's intentions for its next generation This renders identity building processes via textbooks in this context a particularly fascinating topic for research here examined through the lens of myths and mythical spaces

Geography Education Research in the UK: Retrospect and Prospect Graham Butt, 2019-08-22 This book provides a unique assessment of the development of research in geography education and its future prospects offering a challenging critique of subject based education research with particular reference to geography education across a range of different jurisdictions It covers a range of topics including the changing role of research in geography education the relationship between education research and professional practice with special reference to geography education research the place of academic subject knowledge in geography education research critiques of the functions of research in geography education and the key issues for education policy and policymakers concerning educational research at national and international levels Importantly in a period marked by radical change for education research and researchers the book offers a timely appraisal of possible ways forward for geography education research Addressing the needs of academics research students policymakers and education practitioners who undertake use or shape the future of research in geography education it comprehensively explores the forces that have driven the development of geography education research and pedagogy Further by positioning its analysis in the context of education policy debates in the UK and further afield it assesses the role and function of research in education and offers an outlook on its future This book is essential reading for all those who wish to understand the sporadic and increasingly uncertain development of subject based research in education

How to Meet Standards, Motivate Students, and Still Enjoy Teaching! Barbara P. Benson,2003 How to Meet Standards Motivate Students and Still Enjoy Teaching is a truly outstanding practical resource that should be in every educator s professional library It succeeds beautifully with the complex challenge of defining a classroom in which standards come alive for teachers and students in a doable manner From the Foreword by Spence Rogers Founder and Director Peak Learning Sysems Most states in the USA have adopted some form of standards and accountability into their systems but few teachers understand how to model their classrooms to prepare their students to thrive in this new educational environment In this book the author offers teachers the tools they need to build the standards based classroom Rather than throwing away all their valuable techniques and experience teachers learn to synthesize the best of what they already know and do with current and emerging research on learning and learners The four components of the standards based classroom will help teachers plan lessons assess student work and create a community of learning that meets the standards that have been set for their students Resources in Education ,2001-10 Books in Print Supplement ,2002 Research bulletin ,1927 NEA Research Bulletin ,1928
