Reformation Reader Primary Texts With Introductions:

Reformation Reader Denis R. Janz, Although deeply political economic and social the European Reformations of the sixteenth century were at heart religious disputes over core Christian theological issues Denis Janz's A Reformation Reader is unabashed in its generous selection of key theological and related texts from five distinct Reformation sites Along with plenty on the late medieval background the Lutheran Calvinist Radical English and Catholic Reformations are all well represented here Janz's selection of more than 100 carefully edited primary documents captures the energy and moment of that tumultuous time The new edition incorporates a dozen readings by and about women in the Reformation adds a new chapter on Thomas Müntzer and the Peasants War and adds illuminating graphics

A Reformation Reader Denis R. Janz, 2023-05-09 A classroom staple for nearly 30 years this new third edition presents over 100 carefully selected primary documents edited for even greater concision to capture the energy and moment of that tumultuous time The saving of space results in a shorter book that now includes even more readings

Michelangelo in the New Millennium Tamara Smithers, 2016-03-11 Michelangelo in the New Millennium presents six paired studies in dialogue with each other that offer new ways of looking at Michelangelo's art as a series of social creative and emotional exchanges where artistic intention remains flexible probe deeper into the artist's formal borrowing and how it affects meaning regarding his early religious works and consider the making and significance of his late papal painting projects commissioned by Paul III and Paul IV for chapels at the Vatican Palace Contributors are William E Wallace Joost Keizer Eric R Hupe Emily Fenichel Jonathan Kline Erin Sutherland Minter Margaret Kuntz Tamara Smithers and Marcia B Hall

SCM Studyguide Anglicanism Stephen Spencer, 2013-01-07 The SCM Studyguide Anglicanism offers a comprehensive introduction to the many different facets of Anglicanism Aimed at students preparing for ministry it presumes no prior knowledge of the subject and offers helpful overviews of Anglican history liturgy theology Canon Law mission and global Anglicanism More and more ordinands come from contexts in which they are no longer familiar with their own denominational identity The book fills a definite gap in the market and can be used as a textbook for a 10 week module on Anglican denominational identity The author is an experienced theological educator who has road tested the material with students in residential and non residential settings The book can also be used in courses on church history spirituality ecclesiology mission and doctrine

Where the Gods Are Mark S. Smith, 2016-06-28 The issue of how to represent God is a concern both ancient and contemporary In this wide ranging and authoritative study renowned biblical scholar Mark Smith investigates the symbols meanings and narratives in the Hebrew Bible Ugaritic texts and ancient iconography which attempt to describe deities in relation to humans Smith uses a novel approach to show how the Bible depicts God in human and animal forms and sometimes both together Mediating between the ancients theories and the work of modern thinkers Smith's boldly original work uncovers the foundational understandings of deities and space

Gospel Brokenness Clay Werner, 2019-12-13 All of our hearts whether we know it or not long to know the deep joy of possessing and experiencing the permanent and passionate favor of God. However, all of our hearts also experience the twisted desires of sin and the foolish bent towards trying to deal with it in our own strength, which usually means somehow trying to cover it up so others, especially God, won't see. This two-step dance of struggling and covering leaves us exhausted and more hardened. Everyone who knows Christ knows about this tiring battle. However, the gospel is so extravagant that even a king like David, who sinned and tried to hide it, can find immeasurable and unexpected grace that restores spiritual vitality and makes one a wise counselor of mercy to the surrounding community. Everyone who knows Christ also has this hope and is invited to experience again the superabundant grace found in this remarkably rich section of the Psalms. This book invites you to step into a new gospel rhythm by exploring Saint Augustine's favorite psalm, Psalm 32. By exploring this psalm, you'll find the healing grace found in gospel brokenness.

The Fatherhood of God in John Calvin's Thought Karin Spiecker Stetina, 2016-03-01 Against the backdrop of feminist critique, Karin Spiecker Stetina gives us a thorough study of John Calvin's ideas on the fatherhood of God. After looking briefly at Calvin's own experience of fatherhood, the author looks in depth at his epistemology and then his imagery for God as Father against the background of the biblical and historical doctrine. This intriguing study allows us, through the lens of the reformer's theology, to look again at what we mean by God as Father and believers as sons and daughters of the living God.

Martin Luther and the Seven Sacraments Brian C. Brewer, 2017-10-03 This introduction to Martin Luther's sacramental theology addresses a central question in the life of the church and in ecumenical dialogue. Although Luther famously reduced the sacraments from seven to two, baptism and the Lord's Supper, he didn't completely dismiss the others. Instead, he positively recast them as practices in the church. This book explores the medieval church's understanding of the seven sacraments and the Protestant rationale for keeping or eliminating each sacrament. It also explores implications for contemporary theology and worship, helping Protestants imagine ways of reclaiming lost benefits of the seven sacraments.

'Bethinke Thy Selfe' in Early Modern England Ulrike Tancke, 2010 Studying a variety of literary forms: autobiographical writings, diaries, mothers' advice books, poetry, and drama, this book approaches early modern women's strategies of identity formation. The author argues for an interpretation of these texts as attempts to establish a coherent, stable, and convincing subjectivity in spite of the constraints the authors encountered as women. Drawing on social and cultural history, feminist theory, psychoanalysis, and the study of discourses, she makes close reading of the women's texts and other sources. She questions interpretations of early modern women's writing as voices from the margin or as a counter-discourse to patriarchy.

How to Worship as a Presbyterian Dean W. Chapman, 2001-01-01 Building upon the idea of liturgy as the work of the people, Dean Chapman provides a job description for the Sunday pew sitter, describing in clear, accessible language what each aspect of worship is, why we do it, and how to do it well.

Here We Stand Craig L. Nesson, Victor I. Vieth, 2025-07-17 Although the life and writings of Martin Luther and other reformers have a great deal to say about children and our need to protect them from maltreatment, this legacy of the Lutheran churches and of Christianity as a whole has largely been forgotten Here We Stand reclaims the Lutheran heritage as it sets forth a Lutheran theological and ethical foundation for the church's response to child abuse The book models rooting our response to child abuse in fertile biblical and theological soil Written by Lutheran theologians and child abuse prevention experts the groundbreaking book provides practical direction for the pastoral ministry of clergy and for congregations that wish to develop robust policies and practices in order to protect children Part 1 Lutheran Theological Foundations for Addressing Child Abuse explores core Lutheran commitments by retrieving historical confessional and theological sources Part 2 Lutheran Interpretation of Challenging Biblical Texts addresses misinterpretations of Scripture and the Lutheran traditions Part 3 Lutheran Theology Addressing the Sin of Child Abuse provides practical instruction for ministry challenges related to child abuse

The Evangelical Counter-Enlightenment William R. Everdell, 2021-05-21 This contribution to the global history of ideas uses biographical profiles of 18th century contemporaries to find what Salafist and Sufi Islam Evangelical Protestant and Jansenist Catholic Christianity and Hasidic Judaism have in common Such figures include Muhammad Ibn Abd al Wahab Count Nikolaus Zinzendorf Jonathan Edwards John Wesley Jean Jacques Rousseau and Israel Ba'al Shem Tov The book is a unique and comprehensive study of the conflicted relationship between the evangelical movements in all three Abrahamic religions and the ideas of the Enlightenment and Counter Enlightenment Centered on the 18th century the book reaches back to the third century for precedents and context and forward to the 21st for the legacy of these movements This text appeals to students and researchers in many fields including Philosophy and Religion their histories and World History while also appealing to the interested lay reader

The Annotated Luther, Volume 2 Kirsi I. Stjerna, 2015-09-01 This volume contains a number of the writings categorized under the theme word and faith Writings in the volume range from core documents Bondage of the Will Against the Heavenly Prophets The Smalcald Articles and Large Catechism to Luther's own Confession of Faith and treatments of Moses the Gospels and Two Kinds of Righteousness Each volume in The Annotated Luther series contains new introductions annotations illustrations and notes to help shed light on Luther's context and interpret his writings for today

Roman but Not Catholic Jerry L. Walls, Kenneth J. Collins, 2017-10-17 This book offers a clearly written informative and fair critique of Roman Catholicism in defense of the catholic faith Two leading evangelical thinkers in church history and philosophy summarize the major points of contention between Protestants and Catholics honestly acknowledging real differences while conveying mutual respect and charity The authors address key historical theological and philosophical issues as they consider what remains at stake five hundred years after the Reformation They also present a hopeful way forward for future ecumenical relations showing how Protestants and Catholics can participate in a common witness to the world

Coleridge and Scepticism Ben Brice, 2007-10-18 Coleridge tended to view objects in the natural world as if they were capable of articulating truths about his own poetic psyche He also regarded such objects as if they were capable of illustrating and concretely embodying truths about a transcendent spiritual realm After 1805 he posited a series of analogical likenesses connecting the rational principles that inform human cognition with the rational principles that he believed informed the teleological structure of the natural world Human reason and the principle of rationality realised objectively in Nature were both regarded as finite effects of God's seminal Word Although Coleridge intuitively felt that nature had been constructed as a mirror of the human mind and that both mind and nature were mirrors of a transcendent spiritual realm he never found an explanation of such experiences that was fully immune to his own sceptical doubts Coleridge and Scepticism examines the nature of these sceptical doubts as well as offering a new explanatory account of why Coleridge was unable to affirm his religious intuitions Ben Brice situates his work within two important intellectual traditions The first a tradition of epistemological piety or modesty informs the work of key precursors such as Kant Hume Locke Boyle and Calvin and relates to Protestant critiques of natural reason The second a tradition of theological voluntarism emphasises the omnipotence and transcendence of God as well as the arbitrary relationship subsisting between God and the created world Brice argues that Coleridge's detailed familiarity with both of these interrelated intellectual traditions ultimately served to undermine his confidence in his ability to read the symbolic language of God in nature

Eschatological Discipleship Trevin Wax, 2018-04-01 Discipleship is eschatological in nature because the church that makes and receives disciples is eschatological in nature Often eschatology is thought to refer only to last things doctrines However eschatology in its broader sense encompasses the Christian view of time and the future of the world informing both one's evangelism and ecclesiology Failing to relate the eschatological dimension to discipleship leaves one with an incomplete worldview imbalanced discipleship and eventually a tragic inability to model the Christian way of life By answering questions like What time is it and Where is history going Trevin Wax helps Christians view the past present and future biblically and shapes their understanding of following Jesus

The Doctrine of Salvation in the Sermons of Richard Hooker Corneliu C. Simut, 2012-02-14 This specialist work in historical theology deals with the doctrine of salvation in the early theology of Richard Hooker 1554 1600 from the perspective of the concept of faith and with Hooker's connections to the early English Reformers W Tyndale J Frith R Barnes T Cranmer J Bradford and J Foxe in crucial teachings such as justification sanctification glorification election reprobation the sovereignty of God and salvation of Catholics The study proves that Hooker's theology is firstly Protestant to counter the views which picture it as Catholic and secondly Calvinist

No Armor for the Back Keith E. Durso, 2007 English and American Baptists of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries lived in two worlds In one world established churches were the norm and persecution was the means by which such churches and the civil governments dealt with religious dissenters Yet these Baptists also lived in another world in which God's kingdom ruled and the sword of the Spirit the Bible not the sword of Caesar settled religious disputes When their two worlds collided and they often did many Baptists chose to go to prison rather than to violate their consciences by worshipping in churches that they abhorred by listening to ministers whom they did not choose and by submitting their spiritual lives to earthly magistrates Early Baptists knew that they could avoid prison and other hardships if they yielded to the pressures of political and ecclesiastical authorities to conform Many Baptists considered such yielding as a retreat from their cause and their God believing that retreat would have been spiritually fatal They chose instead to move forward in their faith although it might cost them dearly Thus rather than retreat these courageous Baptists advanced some to prison and then back to freedom others to jail and then to the grave All however did so because like Thomas Hardcastle they knew that There is no armor for the back Baptists who graced numerous prisons and jails in England and in the American colonies did not remain silent however for they continued to preach and to write letters poems and books These Baptists stated their cases without any self pity and interpreted their persecutions as the natural consequences of professing their faith in Christ

Claiming the Call to Preach Donna Giver-Johnston, 2021-05-25 Few debates divide the contemporary church more than the issue of call The question of who can be called to preach segregates denominations divides people within churches and undermines its public witness Yet curiously little homiletic attention has been paid to the issue of call Because the practice of call has not been subjected to critical inquiry it has taken on power Power lies hidden in the crevices of the question of who can be called to preach power lies in the institutional narrative and approved stories of call power lies in the discordant debates equally in the stifling silence Claiming the Call to Preach critically examines the dominant historical narrative that overtly or covertly has exercised its power to keep women from preaching Donna Giver Johnston here recovers the histories of four notable female preaching pioneers who affected change in the religious landscape of nineteenth century America Jarena Lee Frances Willard Louisa Woosley and Florence Spearing Randolph These women diverse in religion race class and culture each told their story of call in distinctive ways that articulated strong and effective rhetorical arguments for ecclesiastical sanction to give them a place in the pulpit Recovering their rhetorical witness helps to fill in the gaps in the history of preaching in America contribute to research and pedagogies in the field of homiletics and provide today's women and all candidates for ministry with different theological models and narrative strategies by which to effectively interpret and claim their calls to preach. These women who spoke truth to power help us reimagine a church today that no longer questions the legitimacy of one's call to preach but endorses previously silenced voices and is therefore strengthened by women's voices from the pulpit.
