Scapa Flow In War And Peace:

Scapa Flow in War and Peace W. S. Hewison, 1995 Radar Men: A. P. Rowe and John Strath in War and Peace Don Sinnott, 2016-08-29 World War II defined its heroes and villains There are many books on national leaders like Churchill and Hitler generals like Montgomery and Rommel Less has been written about the civilian scientists engineers and technicians whose work produced military innovations that drove the direction and outcome of that terrible conflict This book is a connected and interlaced narrative of two men who were World War II civilian scientists It is a non technical portrait of two twentieth century life stories against a backdrop of war and peace which are important in both historical context and as illustrations of the human condition lived in extraordinary circumstances The lives of A P Rowe and John Strath intersected in the British development of radar in the 1930s and 1940s and then diverged into critical roles in Britain and Australia after the war Rowe and Strath worked in Britains epic development of radar defences without which the 1940 aerial Battle of Britain would have been lost Rowe led what has been termed as one of the most successful research establishments of all time focussed on the development and deployment of radar Strath was a junior member of that establishment After the war both men moved to Australia where Rowe after a short and unhappy involvement as lead scientific adviser on the development of Australia s Woomera rocket range and Australian defence was for a decade a highly contentious vice chancellor of the University of Adelaide Strath became involved in development of the British atomic weapon and monitoring of nuclear test effects in Australia and then became the prime mover for development of what is now Australias Jindalee Operational Radar Network a major component of the countrys long range defence surveillance War and Peace at Scapa Flow Bartlam, The Royal Navy's Reserves in War & Peace, 1903-2003 Stephen Howarth, 2003-12-19 The official volume marking the centenary of the Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve known as the Wavy Navy because of the distinctive wavy gold stripes on the reservists uniforms from its formation in 1903 through its unification with the mercantile Royal Reserve in 1958 and on to its present complete integration with the Royal Navy as the part time element of a single naval service It charts the difficulties setbacks and delights of the reservists peacetime years of service and chronicles their vital contributions during wartime Since the end of the Cold War and the dramatic near dissolution of the RNR in 1994 members of the modernized part time volunteer service have served in many different RN operations at sea on land and in the air from the Balkans to the Gulf This detailed and vivid history which and profusely illustrated is by a distinguished writer of naval history who served in the modern RNR both as a rating and an officer for over eleven years Hunger in War and Peace Mary Elisabeth Cox, 2019-05-09 At the outbreak of the First World War Great Britain quickly took steps to initiate a naval blockade against Germany In addition to military goods and other contraband foodstuffs and fertilizer were also added to the list of forbidden exports to Germany As the grip of the Blockade strengthened Germans complained that civilians particularly women and children were going hungry because of it The impact of the blockade on non combatants was especially fraught

during the eight month period of the Armistice when the blockade remained in force Even though fighting had stopped German civilians wondered how they would go through another winter of hunger The issue became internationalised as civic leaders across the country wrote books pamphlets and articles about their distress and begged for someone to step in and relieve German women and children with food aid Their pleas were answered with an outpouring of generosity from across the world Some have argued then and since that these outcries were based on gross exaggerations based more on political need rather than actual want This book examines what the actual nutritional statuses of women and children in Germany were during and following the War Mary Cox uses detailed height and weight data for over 600 000 German children to show the true measure of overall deprivation and to gauge infant recovery Return Flights in War & Peace John Rowland,2011-06-13 John Rowland made his first flight with the RAF Volunteer Reserve on 1 October 1938 from Redhill in a DH60 Moth He won a Prize Cadetship to the RAF College Cranwell and then posted to the School of Army Cooperation He volunteered for 613 Squadron which had been formed shortly before the war started It was still not fully equipped with Lysanders and half of its planes were still elderly Hectors On 25 May 1940 came the news that six Hectors were to be sent off on a ground strafing operation to relieve the pressure on the garrison of Calais which was blocking the Germans from advancing up the coast towards Dunkirk and encircled by German troops Three Hectors flew on each side of Calais and created as much of a diversion as they could by dropping bombs and firing their guns at anything they could see This was the only occasions on which such obsolete aircraft was used in Europe in WW2 He converted to heavy bombers and was posted to 12 Squadron at Wickenby flying Halifaxes in June 1943 On 3 July he made his first trip to Cologne Germany After he had flown 28 operations he was promoted to Squadron leader as a flight Commander at 1656 HCU at Lindholme He was next posted to 625 Squadron as a flight Commander on 12 May 1944 It was a two flight Lancaster Squadron The last of his 48 bomber operations was to Calais the town to which he made his first operational flight in the Hector in 1940 After the war John flew as an airline pilot with BOAC From War to Peace Nick Robins,2021-09-30 From War to Peace tells the story of the adaptation from White Ensign to Red Ensign and to flags of other nations of the numerous classes of naval ships mainly built during the two world wars and surplus to requirements with the advent of peace It also describes ships sourced from the United States Navy and elsewhere that were converted for commercial use The most successful classes to transfer to the merchant service were the Hunt class minesweepers of the Great War Landing Craft Tank the salvage tugs of World War Two and the wooden hulled Fairmile launches which became familiar at seaside resorts in the 1950s and 60s and of course the MFV classes that helped the fishing industry in the postwar years The story includes the successful commercial conversions of many of the Flower and Castle Class corvettes and River Class frigates notably the 1954 conversion of HMCS Stormont to a luxury yacht for the Greek shipping magnate Onassis It describes why HMS Charybdis became a passenger liner in the Great War and how HMS Albatross nearly became a luxury liner after World War Two but in fact was transformed into a very unpopular emigrant ship and ended her days as a floating casino based at Cape Town The author reveals the military antecedents of numerous commercial vessels that many would have thought were built especially for the service that they later maintained and it illustrates just how many Royal Navy vessels ended up in private ownership And the question is asked if the military had not built so many ships that were eminently suitable for commercial adaptation would the technical development of merchant shipping have progressed at a faster rate than it did The answer is a definite no and is illustrated in several ways It was former naval vessels that promoted the early development of the Ro Ro ferry former naval ships introduced numerous design innovations for example the raised foredeck common for so many years on salvage tugs and above all stripped of their military hardware ex naval ships provided opportunities for modest investment where otherwise there would have been none Copiously illustrated throughout the book tells a fascinating story of invention and ingenious ship conversion and of pragmatic adaptation in the financially stringent years after two world wars East End at War and Peace Michael Russell,2014-04-28 Michael Russell s work has captured the real essence of life in the East End of London between 1890 and 1961 Michael has collected together recollections from his own childhood and his family s oral history in East End at War and Peace bringing the past to life into one colourful story Interspersed with the general history this book is a unique look at the East End of London from both a personal and a historical perspective He retells his grandparent s tales of trench warfare and the 1920s depression and his family fortunes at this time He talks us through the 1930s when the family was disturbed by the threat of war as they prepare for laughter and tears in the shelters He revisits the scene when a V2 rocket plunged to earth near the family home on Cambus Road in 1944 From the VE day celebrations to the nuclear age from the choking smogs that cover the East End post war to the age of rock and roll as it infiltrated daily life Michael s book offers a glimpse of a life of a true East Ender WAR, PEACE AND VICTORY: STRATEGY AND STATECRAFT FOR THE NEXT CENTURY Colin S. Gray,1991-06-15 From Simon Schuster War Peace and Victory is Colin S Gray s exploration of strategy and statecraft for the next century In War Peace and Victory Colin S Gray shows how geography technology history and national culture shape government policy and explains how nations pursue their strategic interests in times of peace The Fog of Peace and War Planning Talbot C. Imlay,Monica Duffy Toft,2007-01-24 How do we plan under conditions of uncertainty The perspective of military planners is a key organizing framework do they see themselves as preparing to administer a peace or preparing to fight a future war Most interwar volumes examine only the 1920s and the 1930s This new volume goes back and forward in time to draw on a greater expanse of history in order to tease out lessons for contemporary planners These chapters are grouped into four periods 1815 1856 1871 1914 1918 1938 and post Second World War They progress from low tech to high tech concerns for example the first period examines armies while the second period examines navies the third assesses navies combined with air forces and finally for the Kaiser chapter explores nuclear issues and decision making aviation in peace and war f.h. sykes,1922 War, Peace, Rags and Riches Peter. Peace and War Nigel Jones, 2013-12-16 1914 dawned with Britain at peace albeit troubled by faultlines within and threats without Ireland trembled on the brink of civil war suffragette agitation was assuming an ever more violent hue and suspicions of Germany's ambitions bred a paranoia that was expressed in a rash of invasion scare literature Then when shots rang out in Sarajevo on 28 June they set in train a tumble of diplomatic dominos that led to Britain declaring war on Germany Nigel Jones depicts every facet of a year that changed Britain for ever From gun running in Ulster to an attack by suffragettes on a Velasquez painting in the National Gallery from the launch of HMHS Britannic to cricketer J T Hearne's 3000th first class wicket from the opening of London's first nightclub to the embarking for Belgium of the BEF he traces the events of a momentous year from its benign domestic beginnings to its descent into the nightmare of European war Please note This ebook is hand crafted Well not quite but it is certainly a cut above the rest great care has been taken to make sure it is both beautiful and highly functional

Admiralty Salvage in Peace and War 1906-2006 Tony Booth, 2007-10-06 Historian Tony Booth presents a fascinating history of British naval salvage over the course of a century during war and peacetime The importance of marine salvage during armed conflict has been vastly underestimated since becoming a vital Naval arm during the First World War Between 1915 and 1918 the Admiralty Salvage Section saved nearly 400 merchant vessels desperately needed to bring food and war materials into Britain During the Second World War some two million tons of shipping was successfully recovered From D Day onwards Admiralty salvage men cleared many stricken craft from the Normandy beaches alone often under heavy shellfire Then as the Germans retreated back across Europe salvage teams undertook vital port clearance duties During the Suez Crisis Falklands Conflict and even the Gulf War the same story can be told And their peacetime operations have also been important Drawing on a wealth of official documents Admiralty Salvage in Peace and War 1906-2006 is the first book to explore in depth the courage personal sacrifice and invaluable contribution these forgotten heroes have made during both peace and war
