Scared Generation:

Be Better, Not Bitter Dakota Decker Jr.,2017-07-06 Being thrown into prison or jail is a soul crushing life experience and any prisoner has one of the two following choices pertaining to how they handle the experience they can become bitter or they can become better The natural choice is to become bitter many times very very bitter Mr Decker provides the reader his experience and understanding as to the basis of either choice This is framed as either a fear based or a love based choice This frame applies to both prisoner and nonprisoners alike including why we incarcerate people in the first place Using his prison experiences social science and many wise peoples quotes he helps the reader see that if a prisoner or nonprisoner uses only the authors fear based insights anyone will naturally become bitter However if we all use the authors love based insights well become better Mr Decker s insights and wisdom can and should be liberally applied to nonprison environments as his insights apply equally to every person in every walk of life The reader comes away knowing hes able to withstand any and every one of lifes challenges using love and forgiveness Mr Decker demonstrates that love based thinking is the key to our peace of mind Each one of us is entitled to and capable of the peace of mind he describes

Sofia Coppola and Generation X (So Far) Robert C. Sickels, 2024-08-19 While the work of Sofia Coppola is sometimes dismissed as being stereotypically feminine and placing more focus on spectacle over substance Sofia Coppola and Generation X So Far Anxious and Effervescent draws attention to common characteristics present in Coppola's films to present an authorial signature and aesthetic that are both familiar yet evocative of Generation X's perception in the public consciousness In analyzing Coppola's films from The Virgin Suicides 1999 to Priscilla 2023 this book argues that her filmography acts as a reflection of her generation's evolving mindset and self image from its initial rise to prominence during the late 1980s to its current sentiment of discomfort with its fading influence Congressional Record United States. German Rocketeers in the Heart of Dixie Monique Laney, 2015-01-01 This thought provoking study by historian Monique Laney focuses on the U S government assisted integration of German rocket specialists and their families into a small southern community at the end of World War II In 1950 Wernher von Braun and his team of rocket experts relocated to Huntsville Alabama a town that would celebrate the team despite their essential role in the Nazi war effort a decade earlier for their contributions to the U S Army missile program and later to NASA's space program Based on oral histories provided by members of the African American and Jewish communities the rocketeers families and co workers friends and neighbors Laney's book demonstrates how the histories of German Nazism and Jim Crow in the American South intertwine in narratives about the past This is a critical reassessment of a singular time that links the Cold War the Space Race and the Civil Rights era while addressing important issues of transnational science and technology and asking Americans to consider their country's own history of racism when reflecting on the Nazi past

The Trans Generation Travers, 2019-08-15 Winner 2019 PROSE Award for Anthropology Criminology and Sociology presented by the Association of American Publishers A groundbreaking look at the lives of transgender children and their families Some boys will only wear dresses some girls refuse to wear dresses in both cases as Ann Travers shows in this fascinating account of the lives of transgender kids these are often more than just wardrobe choices Travers shows that from very early ages some at two and three years old these kids find themselves to be different from the sex category that was assigned to them at birth How they make their voices heard to their parents and friends in schools in public spaces and through the courts is the focus of this remarkable and groundbreaking book Based on interviews with transgender kids ranging in age from 4 to 20 and their parents and over five years of research in the US and Canada

The Trans Generation offers a rare look into what it is like to grow up as a trans child. From daycare to birthday parties and from the playground to the school bathroom, Travers takes the reader inside the day-to-day realities of trans kids who regularly experience crisis as a result of the restrictive ways in which sex categories regulate their lives and put pressure on them to deny their internal sense of who they are in gendered terms. As a transgender activist and as an advocate for trans kids, Travers is able to document from first-hand experience the difficulties of growing up trans and the challenges that parents can face. The book shows the incredible time, energy, and love that these parents give to their children even in the face of at times unsupportive communities, schools, courts, health systems, and government laws. Keeping in mind that all trans kids are among the most vulnerable to bullying, violent attacks, self-harm, and suicide, and that those who struggle with poverty, racism, lack of parental support, learning differences, etc. are extremely at risk, Travers offers ways to support all trans kids through policy recommendations and activist interventions. Ultimately, the book is meant to open up options for kids' own gender self-determination, to question the need for the sex binary, and to highlight ways that cultural and material resources can be redistributed more equitably. The Trans Generation offers an essential and important new understanding of childhood.
