 issue in the relation of art to the rest of society is the question of how art penetrates politics From the perspective of most art scholars this is a question of aesthetics whether politics necessarily pollutes and debases the quality of the arts From the perspective of social science it has been primarily a question of meaning how political messages are conveyed through artistic media Recent work has begun to broaden the study of the arts and politics beyond semiosis and content focus Several strands of scholarship are converging around the general issue of the social relationships within which art takes political form that is how art and artists do politics This perspective of doing moves analysis beyond addressing the meaning of culture to focus on the ways that art is embedded in and intervenes in social relationships activities and institutions This volume brings together an interdisciplinary group of scholars from France and the United States to investigate these directions and themes by exploring the question of how to do politics with art from a comparative standpoint putting sociological approaches in conversation with other disciplinary prisms It will be of interest to scholars of social movements and politicization the sociology of art art history and aesthetics
