With Plates and a Map. J. Dillon Wallace, 1907 Long Labrador Trail , 1911 The Long Labrador Trail Dillon Wallace, 2019-11-29 In The Long Labrador Trail Dillon Wallace crafts a captivating narrative that chronicles his arduous journey through the rugged landscapes of Labrador. Rich in vivid descriptions and meticulous detail, the book embodies a blend of adventure and introspection, reflecting the author's romanticized view of the natural world and the challenges of early 20th-century exploration. Wallace's literary style, marked by eloquent prose and a keen sense of observation, immerses the reader in the paradox of isolation and camaraderie experienced in the wild, while shedding light on the historical context of wilderness travel against the backdrop of burgeoning American wilderness literature. Dillon Wallace, an accomplished explorer and writer, drew upon his extensive experience as a guide and naturalist, completing multiple expeditions in stark and often unforgiving terrains. His firsthand encounters with the natural environment not only shaped his understanding of survival but also cultivated his appreciation for the indigenous cultures and the untamed beauty of the North. Wallace's passion for exploration and keen psychological insights illuminate his desire to communicate the complexities of the human experience in nature, making this work profoundly introspective. I highly recommend The Long Labrador Trail to readers seeking a compelling exploration of adventure literature that celebrates the bond between humanity and the wild. Wallace's narrative serves as both a personal memoir and a pivotal reflection on the allure of uncharted territories, appealing to both outdoor enthusiasts and those interested in the philosophical aspects of exploration. In this enriched edition, we have carefully created added value for your reading experience. Hand-picked Memorable Quotes shine a spotlight on moments of literary brilliance. Illustrated Dillon WALLACE, 1907 The Lure of the Labrador Wild Dillon Dillon Wallace, 2018-05-09 Three years have passed since Hubbard and I began that fateful journey into Labrador of which this volume is a record. A little more than a year has elapsed since the first edition of our record made its appearance from the press. Meanwhile I have looked behind the ranges. Grand Lake has again borne me upon the bosom of her broad deep waters into the great lonely wilderness that lured Hubbard to his death. It was a day in June last year that found me again at the point where some inexplicable fate had led Hubbard and me to pass unexplored the bay that here extends northward to receive the Nascaupsee River along which lay the trail for which we were searching and induced us to take instead that other course that carried us into the dreadful Susan Valley How vividly I saw it all again Hubbard resting on his paddle and then rising up for a better view as he said Oh that s just a bay and it isn t worth while to take time to explore it The river comes in up here at the end of the lake They all said it was at the end of the lake And we said Yes it is at the end of the lake they all said so and went on for that was before we knew Hubbard never knew A perceptible current a questioning word the turn of a paddle would have set us right No current was noticed no word was spoken and the paddle sent us straight toward those blue hills yonder where Suffering and Starvation and Death were hidden and waiting for us How little we expected to meet these grim strangers then That July day came back to me as if it had been but the day before I believe I never missed Hubbard so much as at that moment I never felt his loss so keenly as then An almost irresistible impulse seized me to go on into our old trail and hurry to the camp where we had left him that stormy October day and find if he were not after all still there and waiting for me to come back to him
