the development of cultural beacons and diasporic borrowing are introduced through the ways in which migrants from the region form community associations and articulate or avoid such affiliations The study examines the ways in which the experience of migration can be shaped by the socio political contexts of departure and arrival and considers how the lexicon associated with the act of migration can weave itself into the identities of migrants The ways in which the transnational and diasporic spaces are dictated by certain narratives for example the allegory of dreaming and the language of guilt are explored It also investigates migrants ongoing connection with the homeland considering social and cultural elements their reception in UK and British media representations of Yugoslavia Contributing to the knowledge on the experiences of migrants from a part of the world which has been under researched in terms of its migrating populations this book will be of interest to students and scholars of Political Geography Social Geography Eastern European Politics and Migration and Diaspora studies
