author of A R Reprint A Multinational Telemedicine Systems for Disaster Response: Opportunities and Challenges
Charles R. Doarn, Rifat Latifi, Raed Arafat, Claudiu Zoicas, 2016-12-15 In the aftermath of a disaster medical infrastructure is often significantly impacted or destroyed in the affected zone Recognizing the need for an effective system for deployment in disaster zones the Emerging Security Challenges Division within NATO's Science for Peace and Security Program SPS initiated the development of a multinational telemedicine system MnTS Such a system can improve access to health services and increase survival rates in emergency situations spanning both geographical and time zones This book presents a review of this NATO funded MnTS and follows the thematic approach to its development The book is divided into 14 chapters Chapter 1 includes a historical review of telemedicine and disasters and Chapter 2 provides a historical perspective of NATO's efforts in the field of telemedicine while Chapters 3-12 summarize the development of the MnTS Critical components of the MnTS are addressed such as overall organizational structure the integration of information technology legal and regulatory considerations and outreach and public awareness The evaluation of the MnTS in a field exercise is described and the book closes with a final summary of the MnTS The book addresses the challenges faced in deploying telemedicine following a disaster such as IT language culture and legal issues and provides a template for making telemedicine part of international disaster response Cambridge English for Schools 2 Teacher's Book Andrew Littlejohn, Diana Hicks, 1996-05-23
Aimed at young students this comprehensive book includes an A-Z of Methodology reference section The levels 1-4 contain around 80 hours of class work depending on the various options used The Starter level provides around 40-60 hours of class work Catalog of Captioned Educational Videos and Films, 1993 THE WORDS OF MEDICINE Robert Fortune, 2000-01-01 This book is a history of the medical vocabulary presented in topical rather than dictionary form While most other books on medical words are arranged as dictionaries rather than topically and are much more selective in their presentation this book entertains a comprehensive and historical approach to the subject It is written primarily for physicians biomedical scientists and medical students but should also appeal to anyone in the health professions or biological sciences with a feel for medical history and the English language It will also be useful to some teachers of English or linguistics The idea of the book developed over at least a decade and brings together for the author a lifelong interest in words classical and modern languages and the history of medicine The purpose is not only to foster the more precise use of the language of medicine by doctors and biomedical scientists but also to enhance their enjoyment of the vocabulary they use professionally on a daily basis Readers will find that the book contains a wealth of knowledge and provides for some very pleasurable reading Catalog of Educational Captioned Films/videos for the Deaf, 1993 Expat Guide Martine Maurel, 2000
The Expat Guide Moscow is designed for the expatriate either planning to move to Moscow or who is already living in Moscow It is hoped that information in this guide will help reduce the steepness of the learning curve that the new expatriate in Moscow has to undergo in order to establish a rewarding and fulfilling life in a huge and often bewildering city The guide has been written by an expatriate who related the research she conducted to the progressive stages of her personal learning curve The author has experienced first hand the trials and tribulations and the joys of learning to live in Moscow Shell Shock Cinema Anton Kaes,2009-08-24 How war trauma haunted the films of Weimar Germany Shell Shock Cinema explores how the classical German cinema of the Weimar Republic was haunted by the horrors of World War I and the the devastating effects of the nation s defeat In this exciting new book Anton Kaes argues that masterworks such as The Cabinet of Dr Caligari Nosferatu The Nibelungen and Metropolis even though they do not depict battle scenes or soldiers in combat engaged the war and registered its tragic aftermath These films reveal a wounded nation in post traumatic shock reeling from a devastating defeat that it never officially acknowledged let alone accepted Kaes uses the term shell shock coined during World War I to describe soldiers suffering from nervous breakdowns as a metaphor for the psychological wounds that found expression in Weimar cinema Directors like Robert Wiene F W Murnau and Fritz Lang portrayed paranoia panic and fear of invasion in films peopled with serial killers mad scientists and troubled young men Combining original close textual analysis with extensive archival research Kaes shows how this post traumatic cinema of shell shock transformed extreme psychological states into visual expression how it pushed the limits of cinematic representation with its fragmented story lines distorted perspectives and stark lighting and how it helped create a modernist film language that anticipated film noir and remains incredibly influential today A compelling contribution to the cultural history of trauma Shell Shock Cinema exposes how German film gave expression to the loss and acute grief that lay behind Weimar s sleek fa ade AK
