Moorland Collection of Negro Life and History, Howard University Library, Washington, D.C.* Moorland Foundation,1970 Love, Justice, and Autonomy Rachel Fedock,Michael Kühler,Raja Rosenhagen,2020-12-28 Philosophers have long been interested in love and its general role in morality This volume focuses on and explores the complex relation between love and justice as it appears within loving relationships between lovers and their wider social context and the broader political realm Special attention is paid to the ensuing challenge of understanding and respecting the lovers personal autonomy in all three contexts Accordingly the essays in this volume are divided into three thematic sections Section I aims at shedding further light on conceptual and practical issues concerning the compatibility or incompatibility of love and justice within relationships of love For example are loving relations inherently unjust Might love require justice Or do love and justice belong to distinct moral domains The essays in Section II consider the relation between the lovers on the one hand and their broader societal environment on the other Specifically how exactly are love and impartiality related Are they compatible or not Is it unjust to favor one s beloved Finally Section III looks at the political dimensions of love and justice How for instance do various accounts of love inform how we are to relate to our fellow citizens If love is taken to play an important role in fostering or hindering the development of personal autonomy what are the political implications that need to be addressed and how In addressing these questions this book engenders a better understanding both of conceptual and practical issues regarding the relation between love justice and autonomy as well as their broader societal and political implications It will be of interest to advanced students and scholars working on the philosophy of love from ethical political and psychological angles Critical Race Structuralism, Equity, and Inclusion in Education Greg Wiggan,Annette Teasdell,Marcia J. Watson-Vandiver,2025-06-16 This volume presents Critical Race Structuralism as a framework for analyzing explaining and mitigating social and educational inequities The book explores structural and systemic issues in schools with the aim of promoting greater DEI in education and beyond With a focus on diversity and inclusion it also addresses issues such as school policy teacher pedagogy curriculum design and school leadership The volume provides in depth analyses of educational challenges to offer deeper conceptual understandings regarding how education can be used to heal and transcend inequities in schools society and beyond
