The Publishers Weekly, 1996 The Swahili Novel Xavier Garnier, 2013 WINNER 2015 CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title Award An overview of the Swahili novel its place in a globalized world and a reflection on the status and dynamism of Kafka's concept of minor literature For more than fifty years a dynamic modern literature has been developing in the Kiswahili language The political weight that Kiswahili carries as the emerging national and pan national language of many East African countries places this literature much of it in the form of novels at the centre of heated literary debates on the social function of literature in the context of rapid global social change Garnier provides new insights into the Swahili novel form with all its vibrancy and capacity for experimentation Its obsession with social issues relates to larger all pervasive political debates running through East Africa in its press its streets its public and private places The novels both record and provoke these debates Based on the study of more than 175 Swahili novels by almost 100 authors Garnier brings to light a body of work much neglected by African literary critics but which looks outwards to the wider world Xavier Garnier teaches African Literature at the Universit Paris 3 Sorbonne Nouvelle and is former director of the Centre d Etudes des Nouveaux Espaces Litt raires Universit Paris 13

Phenomenologies of the City Henriette Steiner, Maximilian Sternberg, 2016-03-09 Phenomenologies of the City Studies in the History and Philosophy of Architecture brings architecture and urbanism into dialogue with phenomenology Phenomenology has informed debate about the city from social sciences to cultural studies Within architecture however phenomenological inquiry has been neglecting the question of the city Addressing this lacuna this book suggests that the city presents not only the richest but also the politically most urgent horizon of reference for philosophical reflection on the cultural and ethical dimensions of architecture The contributors to this volume are architects and scholars of urbanism Some have backgrounds in literature history religious studies and art history The book features 16 chapters by younger scholars as well as established thinkers including Peter Carl David Leatherbarrow Alberto Prez Gomez Wendy Pullan and Dalibor Vesely Rather than developing a single theoretical statement the book addresses architecture s relationship with the city in a wide range of historical and contemporary contexts The chapters trace hidden genealogies and explore the ruptures as much as the persistence of recurrent cultural motifs Together these interconnected phenomenologies of the city raise simple but fundamental questions What is the city for how is it ordered and how can it be understood The book does not advocate a return to a naive sense of unity or order Rather it investigates how architecture can generate meaning and forge as well as contest social and cultural representations
