Love In Aotearoa:

Love in Aotearoa Karen McMillan, 2005 New Zealanders of all ages and from all walks of life share their special moments of love Everyday down to earth examples we can all relate to are mixed with stories of love that will challenge and inspire the way we think about love Punctuated with famous quotations Love in Aotearoa is a book for everyone from teenagers to grandparents Karen McMillan uses the Greek words for the four different types of love Eros romance Storge family love Philia friendship and Agape love of humanity In Eros people share their experiences from first impressions to being married for more than sixty years In Storge Kiwis of all ages talk about the love they have for their children their parents their siblings and their extended family In Philia friends talk about the simple fun of friendship and in Agape unsung modest Kiwis take centre stage for a moment to talk about the caring they do and what motivates them Love in Aotearoa also explores the five distinct ways that people communicate their love for one another whether it be verbal words of love physical touch kind deeds quality time or gift giving It bursts from every page with the most powerful force in New Zealand aroha alofa love

Of Love and War Angela Wanhalla, 2023 Between 1942 and 1945 more than two million servicemen occupied the southern Pacific theater the majority of whom were Americans in service with the U S Army Navy Air Force and Marines During the occupation American servicemen married approximately 1 800 women from New Zealand and the island Pacific creating legal bonds through marriage and through children Additionally American servicemen fathered an estimated four thousand nonmarital children with Indigenous women in the South Pacific Command Area In Of Love and War Angela Wanhalla details the intimate relationships forged during wartime between women and U S servicemen stationed in the South Pacific traces the fate of wartime marriages and addresses consequences for the women and children left behind Paying particular attention to the experiences of women in New Zealand and in the island Pacific including Tonga Fiji Samoa and the Cook Islands Of Love and War aims to illuminate the impact of global war on these women their families and Pacific societies Wanhalla argues that Pacific war brides are an important though largely neglected cohort whose experiences of U S military occupation expand our understanding of global war By examining the effects of American law on the marital opportunities of couples their ability to reunite in the immediate postwar years and the citizenship status of any children born of wartime relationships Wanhalla makes a significant contribution to a flourishing scholarship concerned with the intersections between race gender sexuality and militarization in the World War II era

Trust Matters Raquel Barradas de Freitas, Sergio Lo Iacono, 2021-11-11 This book examines the role of trust in public life It seeks to contribute to a more nuanced understanding of certain fundamental concepts in political and legal theory such as the concepts of authority power social practice the rule of law and justice by furnishing and sharpening our concepts of trust and trustworthiness Bringing together contributors from across the social cognitive historical and political sciences the book opens up inquiries into central concepts in legal theory as well as new approaches and methodologies The interdisciplinary contributions analyse the notions of trust trustworthiness and distrust and apply them to address a variety of problems and questions Music

Therapy with Autistic Children in Aotearoa, New Zealand Daphne Rickson, 2022-06-23 In this unique text ten cases of music therapy with autistic children tamariki takiw tanga are critiqued through the eyes of family members and other autism experts Rickson uses her wealth of experience to contextualise their rich observations in a thorough review of research and practice literature to illustrate the ways music therapists engage autistic children in the music therapy process highlight the various ways music therapy can support their health and well being and demonstrate how music therapy processes align with good practice as outlined in the New Zealand Autism Spectrum Disorder Guideline Dangerous Love Chad

Ford, 2020-06-23 Chad Ford reminds us that humanity lies within all of us and although conflict is everywhere in today's world we have the tools we need to overcome obstacles and to thrive This is a fantastic timely book that I highly recommend Steve Kerr Head Coach Golden State Warriors Knowing how to transform conflict is critical in both our personal and professional lives Yet by and large we are terrible at it The reason says longtime mediator Chad Ford is fear When conflict comes our instincts are to run or fight To transform conflict Ford says we need to turn toward the people we are in conflict with put down our physical and emotional weapons and really love them with the kind of love that leads us to treat others as fellow human beings not as objects in our way We have to open ourselves up with no guarantee that anyone on the other side will do the same While this can feel even more dangerous than conflict itself it allows us to see the humanity of others so clearly that their needs and desires matter to us as much as our own Ford shows dangerous love in action through examples ranging from his work in the Middle East to a deeply moving story about reconciling with his father He explains why we disconnect from people at the very time we need to be most connected and the predictable patterns of justification and escalation that ensue Most importantly he gives us a path to practice dangerous love in the conflicts that matter most to us
