The Christian Programme Joseph Pathrapankal, 2005-05-16 What does it mean to be a Christian in our times in a world come of age where Christians all over the world have to face the challenge posed by religious pluralism and secular humanism and even the challenge of a so called religionless Christianity in a postmodern era Answers to this question can be varied and all of them point to something more crucial and radical This basic question is to be approached from an equally radical answer given by Jesus of Nazareth in the Sermon on the Mount Matt 5 1 7 29 wherein we get the blueprint of an authentic programme of life for all humans The theological and pastoral study of this major discourse of Jesus highlights the parameters of a responsible and committed life

The Johannine Gospel's Concept of Community Godibert Kelly Gharbin, 2025-05-27 The Johannine Gospel's Concept of Community takes an interdisciplinary approach to contextualizing the New Testament in an African milieu which helps Johannine scholarship intersect with Akan anthropology and sociology through a tripartite frame of interpretation: a narratological analysis of community-oriented narratives in John, the exegesis of the Akan concept of community encapsulated in their proverbial lore, the anthology of inestimable information about the Akan conceptualization of communitarianism and an engagement between the two conceptual schemes through an intercultural reading. The methodological principles utilized foster a cross-pollination of ideas between the Johannine characterization of a community of God and the community concept present in Akan maxims. This allows the Akan concept of communitarianism to enrich the reader's understanding of the text. It also allows John's theology of community revealed in what Jesus epitomizes, prescribes and proscribes for the believing community to serve as a form of discernible evaluation for Akan and other believers on the modus vivendi redolent of a believing community. In the end, it forces a redefinition of community replacing the anthropocentric individualistic and acquisitive elements that have typified the human community with a theocentric and authentically collectivist approach.

Zionism and the Quest for Justice in the Holy Land Donald E. Wagner, Walter T. Davis, 2014-07-01 A critical examination of political Zionism, a topic often considered taboo in the West, is long overdue. Moreover, the discussion of Christian Zionism is usually confined to Evangelical and fundamentalist settings. The present volume will break the silence currently reigning in many religious, political and academic circles and in so doing will provoke and inspire a new challenging conversation on theological and ethical issues arising from various aspects of Zionism, a conversation that is vital to the quest for a just peace in Israel and Palestine. The eight authors offer a rich diversity of religious faith, academic research and practical experience as they represent all three Abrahamic faiths and five different Christian traditions. Among the many themes that run through Zionism and the Quest for Justice in the Holy Land is the contrast between exclusivist narratives, both biblical and political, and the more inclusive narratives of the prophetic Scriptures which provide the theological foundation and the moral imperative for human liberation. Readers will be drawn into a compelling, readable and stimulating series of essays that tackle many of the complex issues that still confound clergy politicians diplomats and academic experts
