American Art Annual, 1848 The Great Chinese Art Transfer Michael St. Clair, 2016-04-01 This book tells the story of how and why millions of Chinese works of art got exported to collectors and institutions in the West in particular to the United States As China's last dynasty was weakening and collapsing from 1860 into the early years of the twentieth century China's internal chaos allowed imperial and private Chinese collections to be scattered looted and sold A remarkable and varied group of Westerners entered the country had their eyes opened to centuries of Chinese creativity and gathered up paintings bronzes and ceramics as well as sculptures jades and bronzes The migration to America and Europe of China's art is one of the greatest outflows of a culture's artistic heritage in human history A good deal of the art procured by collectors and dealers some famous and others little known but all remarkable in individual ways eventually wound up in American and European museums Today some of the art still in private hands is returning to China via international auctions and aggressive purchases by Chinese millionaires

An Index to Periodical Literature William Frederick Poole,William Isaac Fletcher,1882 When True Love Came to China Lynn Pan,2015-11-01 The Guardian s Best Books of 2015 Most people suppose that the whole world knows what it is to love that romantic love is universal quintessentially human Such a supposition has to be able to meet three challenges It has to justify its underlying assumption that all cultures mean the same thing by the word love regardless of language It has to engage with the scholarly debate on whether or not romantic love was invented in Europe and is uniquely Western And it must be able to explain why early twentieth century Chinese writers claimed that they had never known true love or love by modern Western standards By addressing these three challenges through a literary historical philosophical biographical and above all comparative approach this highly original work shows how love s profile in China shifted with the rejection of arranged marriages and concubinage in favour of free individual choice monogamy and a Western model of romantic love This book Lynn Pan s best to date adds a wonderful new angle by encouraging us via comparison to better appreciate how unusual even in some ways exotic a part of the Western past we take for granted as though it were natural actually is While the reader will learn a great deal about Chinese literary and cultural traditions from this book if read with an open mind the Western reader may end up rethinking things about his or her tradition just as deeply Jeffrey N Wasserstrom Chancellor s Professor of History University of California at Irvine Nobody writes about China quite as brilliantly as Lynn Pan who in this new illuminating work on love showcases her trademark erudition entwined with a novelist s sensibility Pan s rare skill makes the book a treat from start to finish a sumptuous deft and moving analysis of China s relationship with love Mishi Saran author of Chasing the Monk s Shadow A Journey in the Footsteps of Xuanzang and The Other Side of Light

Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature ,1910 Architect ,1906 Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature Anna Lorraine Guthrie,Bertha Tannehill,Neltje Marie Tannehill Shimer,1925 An author subject index to selected general interest periodicals of reference value in libraries Collecting Asian Art Markéta Hánová,Yuka Kadoi,Simone Wille,2024-02-29 Rather than centering on the well known collections in Western European and North American museums Collecting Asian Art turns to museum collections of Asian art in Central Europe which emerged from the late 19th century onwards Highlighting the dimensions of Central European connectedness this volume explores how these collections evolved and changed under changing cultural and political conditions from the pre World War I to the post World War II periods With a primary focus on collections of East Asian South Asian and West Asian art in Vienna Prague Berlin Warsaw Krak w Budapest and Ljubljana it outlines the transregional connections and networks that gradually developed Collecting Asian Art locates Asian art across the twentieth century in Central Europe via discourse and ideology and discusses key collections and the way individual collectors built their networks It thus explores transregional connections that developed through collecting activities and strategies in the prewar interwar and postwar eras Contributors also examine the personal connections between a group of Indologists from postwar Prague and modernist Indian artists from the early 1950s to the 1980s and also discuss the systematic archiving of East Asian art collections in Slovenia A concluding conversation looks at colonisation and decolonisation from a broader perspective by approaching it through recent art historical discussions on the global dimensions of modernism By defining the region through its external relationships and its entanglements with regions across Asia rather than as a self contained unit the contributions in this volume outline how these transregional connections and networks evolved and changed over time thus highlighting their singularity in comparison to developments in Western Europe Based on recent research Collecting Asian Art reveals neglected sources while reinterpreting well known ones
