Colonial Diplomacy through Art Moya Tönnies, 2024-12-30 Addressing Zionists in 1923 the British artist C R Ashbee spoke of that preposterous Balfour Declaration whose Arabic tail you people perpetually ignore but the lash of which you will some day feel His warnings received no attention at the time nor has his radical pro Arab Palestinian political position been researched since One hundred years later this art historical study asks what possibilities individual colonial actors had to influence official colonial policy In the example of Jerusalem under British rule Moya Tönnies analyses how three members of the British administration Ashbee architect Ernest Tatham Richmond and governor Ronald Storrs all three identifying with the International Arts and Crafts Movement used art as a diplomatic sphere for their British colonial anti Zionist interventions

Overlooking the Border Dana Hercborgs, 2018-10-01 An ethnographic tapestry of personal and institutional narratives about Jerusalem's social history Overlooking the Border Narratives of Divided Jerusalem by Dana Hercborgs continues the dialogue surrounding the social history of Jerusalem The book's starting point is the border that separated the city between Jordan and Israel in 1948-1967 a lesser known but significant period for cultural representations of Jerusalem Based on ethnographic fieldwork the book juxtaposes Israeli and Palestinian personal narratives about the past with contemporary museum exhibits street plaques tourism and real estate projects that are reshaping the city since the decline of the peace process and the second intifada What emerges is a portrayal of Jerusalem both as a local place with unique rhythms and topography and as a setting for national imaginaries and agendas with their attendant political and social tensions As sites of memory Jerusalem's homes streets and natural areas form the setting for emotionally charged narratives about belonging and rights to place Recollections of local customs and lifeways in the mid twentieth century coalesce around residents desire for stability amid periods of war dispossession and relocation intertwining the mythical with the mundane Hercborgs begins by taking the reader to the historically Arab neighborhoods of West Jerusalem whose streets are a battleground for competing historical narratives about the Israeli Arab War of 1948 She goes on to explore the connections and tensions between Mizrahi Jews and Palestinians living across the border from one another in Musrara a neighborhood straddling West and East Jerusalem The author rounds out the monograph with a semiotic analysis of contemporary tourism and architectural ventures that are entrenching ethno national separation in the post Oslo period These rhetorical expressions illuminate what it means to be a Jerusalemite in the context of the city's fraught history Overlooking the Border examines the social and geographic significance of borders for residents sense of self place and community and for representations of the city both locally and abroad It is certain to be of value to scholars and advanced undergraduate and graduate students of Middle Eastern studies history urban ethnography and Israeli and Jewish studies Ibss:
