Que(e)rying Religion Gary David Comstock, Susan E. Henking, 1997-02-01 The first multi disciplinary look at the intersection of queer experience and religious spirituality Queering Religion, Religious Queers Yvette Taylor, Ria Snowdon, 2014-02-18 This collection considers how religious identity interplays with other forms and contexts of identity specifically those related to sexual identity It asks how these intersections are formed negotiated and resisted across time and places including the UK Europe North America Australia and the Global South Questions around queer engagements in same sex marriages civil partnerships and other practices e g adoption have created a number of provoking stances and policy provisions but what remains unanswered is how people experience and situate themselves within sometimes competing or contradictory moments as religious queers who may be tasked with queering religion Additionally the presumed paradoxes of marriage queer sexuality religion and youth combine to generate a noteworthy generational absence This leads to questions about where religious queers reside resist and relate experiences of intersecting religious and sexual lives In looking at interconnectedness this collection offers international contributions which bridge the contradictions in queering religion and in making visible religious queers It provides insight into older and younger people s understandings of religiosity queer cultures and religious groups A small but active religious minority in the US has received much attention for its anti gay political activity much less attention has been paid to the more positive supportive role that religious based groups play in e g providing housing education and political advocacy for queer youth Queer methodologies and intersectional approaches offer a lens both theoretically and methodologically to uncover the salience of related social divisions and identities This collection is both innovative and sensitive to blended identities and their various enactments

Martin, 2006-01-01 Probing into numerous questions about gender and sexuality Dale Martin delves into the biblical texts anew and unearths surprising findings Avoiding preconceptions about ancient sexuality he explores the ethics of desire and marriage and pays careful attention to the original meanings of words especially those used as evidence of Paul's opposition to homosexuality For example after a remarkably faithful reading of the scriptural texts Martin concludes that our contemporary obsession with marriage and the whole search for the right sexual relationships is antithetical to the message of the gospel In all of these essays however Martin argues for engaging Scripture in a way that goes beyond the standard historical critical questions and the assumptions of textual agency in order to find a faith that has no foundations other than Jesus Christ Queer Religion Donald Boisvert, Jay E. Johnson, 2011-12-13 This ground breaking and eye opening book examines the intersections of religion and same sex desire from St Augustine to

Queering the Ethiopian Eunuch

Sean D. Burke, 2013-08-01 Were eunuchs more usually castrated guardians of the harem as florid Orientalist portraits imagine them or were they trusted court officials who may never have been castrated Was the Ethiopian eunuch a Jew or a Gentile a slave or a free man Why does Luke call him a man while contemporaries referred to eunuchs as unmanned beings As Sean D Burke treats questions that have received dramatically different answers over the centuries of Christian interpretation he shows that eunuchs bore particular stereotyped associations regarding gender and sexual status as well as of race ethnicity and class Not only has Luke failed to resolve these ambiguities he has positioned this destabilized figure at a key place in the narrative as the gospel has expanded beyond Judea but before Gentiles are explicitly named in such a way as to blur a number of social role boundaries In this sense Burke argues Luke intended to queer his reader s expectations and so to present the boundary transgressing potentiality of a new community
